9618

9616

9618-9616.

A Charming Summer | Model—Com-posed of Ladies' Waist, 9618 and Ladies Skirt, 9616.

Daily World Pattern Coupon.

Send Pattern No.

Name

Address

Size

Fill out this coupon and mail with 15 cents to The Toronto World, Pattern Dept., Toronto, and pattern will be mailed to you. Write plainly and be sure to give ries with per linary clothes. Th thave company all ne filed into Duffering ilured, it is rumored, se hair was neatly ties were stiffly tied, path of duty. But, a have their attraction of grown-ups in the unloading at tracks and the set-pw apparatus.

warparatus.
hundred people are
we's London Show, were busily engaged ccessary tent work
ons were carried on he usual circus ejaanimals, little and the contrary, must impression that the of the Riverdale to be bright glorious washed look of the ortation outfit was a of the character of e, which combines d acts, will be given at 2.30 p.m. and 8 e big tents and the be opened an hour urn of the parade to a free performance d again at 6.30 p.m. will be a foretaste h an admission feend exclusive circus goodness in a three per given. e given.

matter—the canvas
inst sun or rain.

REFORM BE HURRIED

Deliver Message gress to Take

June 14.—President currency legislation sent session of conevery effort to ac-today that the pretoday that the pre-this currency mes-bout June 23 or 24, unced today from rers that Secretary men Owen and Glass house banking and es, respectively, had nent on the main rency bill they have he last two months. e last two months ssage is not expect-in 1200 words long details, but will call sed of currency re-

BRANCH STORE 297

YongeSt HAROLD A. WILSON BLDG.

en's, cleaned, latest styles. WORKS North 5165

IT NOW

NNANTS

it, when prest Richmond 5 East Main

THE GARDEN SERIAL STORY

紫紫紫紫紫

WOMEN'S SECTION ※※※※※

MILITANTS HONOR

Big Parade of Suffragettes Marks Burial of Miss Davison.

POLICE WERE DEFIED

But Expected Clash Did Not Come - Some Hostile Demonstrations.

riagettes marched in fours, an early ing floaters.

The coffin was in the middle of the procession, and the clergy of St George's Church, Bloomsbury, marched at the head. The rector of the church, Rev. Charles Ord Baumgarten, LONDON, Ont.

They included the defendants in the conspiracy trial in progress at the central criminal court—Miss Harriet Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney and Miss Laura Lennox.

Owing to the dense throng of spectators, the funeral procession moved very slowly, with a young woman at the head dressed entirely in white and carrying a cross aloft. The bands played the "Dead March."

There was some slight booing here and there, but the immense crowds watching the passage of the women thruout the route were uniformly or-thruout the route were uniformly or-derly and sympathetic.

A deal of confusion and commotion was caused by the reports that the polic had compelled the procession to diverge thru secluded streets. Thou-

You can't reasonably expect to make a light, flaky pic-crust, if the salt you use is gritty, lumpy and bitter.

Save Exactly $105

on a Piano by buying a "Ctaxton" at $195.00, guaranteed superior to any $300.09 Piano sold in Toronto. THOS. CLAXTON, Limited, Open Evenings.

303 Yonge St. cards, a pencil, a pot of paste and the scissors.

thither so as not to miss the sight.

This had the effect of somewhat relieving the pressure when the cortege passed Hyde Park corner and Picca-

The procession, which was three-quarters of a mile long, took an hour to pass Piccadilly Circus.

A number of youths cheered the women as they passed thru Shaftesbury avenue, and this mark of disrespect nearly led to a conflict among the spectators.

The passage was so slow that it was 4 o'clock when the body reached St. George's Church, and the crowds in the vicinity were so great that all traffic was stopped half an hour before the arrival of the hearse.

Wore Prison Stamp.

It was noticed when the coffin was being carried from the hearse into the church that the purple pall had broad arrows worked in white on either side. The broad arrow is the government mark stamped on the dresses of prisoners. The procession, which was three-

LONDON, June 14.—The funeral of Miss Emily Wilding Davison, who met her death while interfering with the king's horse when it was running at full gallop in the Derby on June 4, took place here today.

A special train brought the body of the woman suffrage "martyr" from Epsom to Victoria station, where a procession composed of between 5000 and 6000 women was organized to escort it across the city thru the principal streets to St. George's Church, Bloomsbury, where the service was held.

Crowds gathered early in the morning in the vicinity of the militant suffragette headquarters, where the blinds were down and a huge banner hung at half mast. Many detachments of cent it across the city thru the principal streets to St. George's Church, Bloomsbury, where the service was held.

Crowds gathered early in the morning in the vicinity of the militant suffagette headquarters, where the blinds were down and a huge banner huga at half mast. Many detachments of women arrived from parade. Most of particle from a parade. Most of particle from the procession is made and wreaths of white flower of particle from the procession assembled at the Victoria Station at 2 o'clock. The word of hone of the some structure of the word of the procession. One of these bore the legand: "Fight on God will give the victory," and another, "Unconquerable and not a fraid."

The train bearing the coffin left Eymon Station soon after 11 o'clock. The confin was accompanied to London by Miss Davison's brother and a suffragette guard of honor, dressed in which had been arranged was for the flueral procession to pass thru the main streets of London, between Victoria Station and Bloomsbury, and when the officials of Scotland 'Yard suggested that the women parade thru the quieter side streets, they became highly indignant and mas accompanied to London and Bloomsbury, and when the officials of Scotland 'Yard suggested that the women parade thru the quieter side streets, they became highly indignant and announced that they would pay so attention to the police. The possibilities of a collision thus seemed the station, making progress of the procession, and the clerk of the procession has suffered the treatment of the continuous women's societies fell into line behind the beare, each group headed by manner and amounced that they continue the station, making progress directs, they became heighly indignant and the station, making progress after the procession as suffered the treatment of the procession as suffered the treatment of the procession as suffered the procession as suffered the procession as each of the procession as a suffered the procession as a suffered to the procession as a suffered to the procession a ed at the head. The rector of the church, Rev. Charles Ord Baumgarten, had issued a statement that he was not a sympathizer with the women's militant tactics.

With the exception of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, who was re-arrested today, and "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, who is ill, all the leaders of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant organization, occupied prominent places in the procession. They included the defendants in the conspiracy trial in progress at the central criminal court—Miss Harriet Kerr ecord here and be found at a second's notice.

The cards should be about three and a half by five inches.

THE TRIPLE TIE BY A. H. C. MITCHELL

(Continued From Saturday.) "That sounds promising," said Cain, and of course I'll do all I can to push a good thing along."

Deery unfolded some other details of the big scheme he was working on and did most of the talking until they had finished their meal. Then he looked at his watch and said he must hurry to keep an appointment. He put on his hat and shook hands with Cain. A flunkey opened the door, and he was about to pass out, when Cain hailed him. "By the way, Mr. Deery, what is the name of the young man? You forgot to

"His name is Gordon Kelly." CHAPTER V.

At 2 o'clock that same afternoon Gordon Kelly walked into the clubhouse back of the grand stand on the Atlanta baseball grounds. He carried a large bundle wrapped in a kind of home-made canvas covering in one hand, while in the other were three bats wrapped together. These bats were of the kind known to ball players as the "Louisville Slugger."

Bill Smith was there before him and was in the act of putting on an old set of "spangles," as ball players call their uniforms. He greeted Kelly with a grin.

"Hello, young fellow. I see I can't lose you."

When the seedlings are fairly started, they grow very quickly, and may be the grow very quickly, and may be the grand property of the grow very quickly, and may be the grand property of the gra

"Hello, young fellow. I see I can't lose you."

"You're right about that, Mr. Smith," returned the embryo Ty Cobb. "You said I could come around and practice with you, but any time you get tired of your bargain all you have to do is to say the word and I'll get out."

"What have you got in that bundle?" demanded the manager.

"My uniform and fixings."

"Let's have a look at 'em."

Kelly unfastened the canvas cover and displayed a regulation gray uniform that showed some signs of wear, cap, dark blue stockings, well-worn baseball shoes, with spikes attached, a fielder's glove that had evidently seen service, sliding pads, heavy undershist and drawers. Rolled up in the stockings were a pair of "sun field" goggles—smoked glasses used by outfielders when the sun shines directly in their eyes. Smith examined the outfit critically.

"Bought it."

When the seedlings are fairly started. They grow very quickly, and may be repotted till they fill six-inch pots, in which they may be left to bloom. They will be safe in any cool spot, or in the ordinary small greenhouse, and may be expected to bloom in early autumn.

The ordinary shrubb calceolaria is the dwarf yellow used in our outdoor gardens. These are very brilliant plants, well-known to most people and much admired.

Unfortunately the plant is subject to a disease which carries off many plants. But this spraying early with Bordeau mixture will save many plants. But this spraying should be done early, else absolutely no good will be accomplished.

Cuttings of the young shoots may be taken in October and put in sandy soil in a cold frame over which a mat may be thrown in cold weather when winter approaches. Ecru batiste in all-over embroidery, combined with the plain material, was used in this instance. The waist has the long drooping shoulder and blouse effect, and the skirt is gracefully draped in front under a narrow panel. The waist pattern is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. The skirt in five sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inches waist measure. It requires 6 1-2 yards of 44-inch material for a 36-inch size. This illustration calls for two separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 15c for each pattern in silver or stamps.

The manager picked up a well-worn shoe and looked at the sole of it. There were traces of red Georgia clay around the spikes.

"Never played a game of ball in your life, eh?" Smith gave the young man a searching look as he asked the question. "That is true, Mr. Smith," replied Kelly, returning the look steadily.

"Never saw a ball game, I believe you told me?"

"That is true, too."

"I've Told the Truth."

The manager dropped the shoe and resumed the putting on of his uniform.

"I can't quite figure you out, Kelly."
he said, pulling on his shirt and buttoning it. "If you're trying to put something over on me," he added grimly, "it is just as well that you have it done with be-as wen that you have it done with be-fore my players arrive."

"I give you my word, Mr. Smith, that I have told you the exact truth in regard to myself. I'm not trying to fool any-body; I want to play ball," Kelly replied,

The new "Muskoka Express" makes the first trip Saturday, June 21, leaving Toronto 12:01 noon, arriving Musicoka Lakes. This trini will carry parlor-library-buffet car, fining carry parlor-library-buffet car, fining carry parlor-library-buffet car, for copy of "Muskoka Lakes. This trini will carry parlor-library-buffet car, for copy of "Muskoka Lakes." This is an at small cost.

Tickels now on sain at tity ticket of the containing map, list of hotels and boarding-houses.

WITH BIG CIRCUS

Funeral of Peter Elson.

LONDON, Ont., June 14.—The funeral do Peter Elson, late member for said containing map, list of hotels and boarding-houses.

There are more than 700 horsewaltive size might compared with the sarrum & Balley for the compared with the sarrum & Balley.

There are more than 700 horsewaltive size might compared with the sarrum & Balley for the compared with the sarrum of the sarrum of the sarrum of the said dense in London Township to Oak-land Cemetery in this city. The funeral was farely in the city of the farely in the city of the farely in the city. The funeral was farely in the city. The funeral was farely in the city of the country. Telegrams of sympathry citibs and associations through the country of the city of the country of the

These books should be indexed, for the information they will contain is just the sort that is needed at a moment's notice. When the milk has scorched and you want to know how to cover the burned taste; when the tomatões have stuck to the bottom of the aluminum pan and you forget what loosens them, or when you have burned your finger and forget whether it is soda or salt that draws out the fire, is when you will use it. Alphabetical indices may be purchased, but your book will suit you best if you write your own headings and make the divisions of the book to suit you.

One scrap book is hardly sufficient in this day of new styles in fuel, foods and methods. It will be more satisfactory to have one for cooking recipes and and one for "hints" and methods.

These compilations are useful when servants are kept.

The time they save the maid in helping her to finish her kitchen work quickly and methodically, is that much gain to the mistress who can use her in some other part of the house.

If a new maid is always given a fresh, strong scrap book and shown how to fill and use it nicely, she will see some advantage to herself in learning new ways.

I have seen several such books that were much prized by the maids who owned them and that were models of helpful information. A card index, with a cover, and good-sized cards, is an excellent kitchen "gcrap" with their sheuidest turned quickly, swinging the tree bats around his shoulders with their sheuidest turned quickly, swinging the three bats around his shoulders with their sheuidest turned to you."

"All right; wait till I get my bats." "repled Kelly, starting for the clubhouse. He returned quickly, swinging the three bats around his shoulders with both hands as one would swing a huge indian the late of the plate with the tossed two of the "Lousville Sluggers" as one would swing a h who owned them and that were models of helpful information. A card index, with a cover, and good-sized cards, is an excellent kitchen "scrap used, or the amount and cost of the week's provisions may be put on tord here and be found at a second's notice.

If you want to try the card index you can make one with a box, some ds, a pencil, a pot of paste and the scissors. ice used, or the amount and cost of the week's provisions may be put on

CALCEOLARIA

There are two distinct types of calceolaria, the herbaceous and the shrubby. The first dies back to the roots at the end of the growing season, the latter holds both its stems and its leaves. Herbaceous calceolar-

NO OTHER 25 By GORDON HOLMES (Continued From Saturday.)

Doris rose. Apparently, she had made up her mind with remarkable quickness and determination.

"Yes," she said, "I put myself in your hands. I do not see what else I could do. Once and for all, the cloud that has darkened my life must be dispersed. I thought it had broken. Now, if not blacker than ever, it has become a dense fog. You say it is not impenetrable; so I shall help you to dispel it."

corridor he clicked his right thumb against his fingers.

"Got him!" he said to himself, and the accompanying noisy gesture sounded uncommonly like the locking of fetters on a felon's wrists.

CHAPTER XII.

Shewing How the Net Was Spread.

Either the Prince in wnom Steingall was interested was not of much importance, or the anarchists were discreet, because, somewhat unexpectedly, the chief found himself free to go with Clancy to Atlantic City.

"Take Pullman tickets." said the little man, as they entered the Pennsylvania Station the morning before the day fixed for the adjourned inquest,

"Rather expensive, my boy." com-

"Rather expensive, my boy," commented Steingall, with a grin.
"We may have company that will recoup us for the additional cost." "We may have company that will recoup us for the additional cost."

Of course, it was a mere guess; but, like most of Clancy's surmises, it was justified. A visit to the Pullman office showed that a seat had been reserved in one of the cars in the name of "Tearle." It was impossible to identify any name on the list as appertaining to Mrs. Delamar; but her associate's personality was alluring, and the detectives secured two neighboring seats which happened to be at liberty in the same car. Next to the "Tearle" chair was a woman, bound for some town en route, and these four chairs were at one end of the carriage. When the bureau men appeared, this woman was already in possession, so much so that baggage and parcels littered the floor; but a negro porter soon piled her hat-box, suitcase, and golf clubs on the rack or disposed of them elsewhere. It was patent at a glance that she belonged to the holiday-making tribe.

Mrs. Delamar claimed the seat labeled "Tearle." After depositing a suit-case and some magazines in it, she window. "Rather a bore having to take this long journey on such a hot day," she said, when she and the other woman had exchanged critical looks, which comprised hats, costumes, gloves and shoes in one sweeping yet accurate espes in one sweeping yet accurate es-

"I hope you are not feeling unhappy, Feena," said Tearle, caressing a long upper lip with a well-gloved hand.

"Why should I? My tailors excelled themselves in this coat and skirt, I fancy, and no woman can be really unhappy when she is well dressed." She named a fashionable Fifth avenue learn to look on my tailor as a refuge in distress. He often has to feel that way, whether he likes it or not."

Tearle guffawed at his own wit, happily oblivious that Mrs. Delamar had mentioned her tailors by name in order to quell any lurking doubt in the other woman's mind as to the possibility of the coat and skirt being of a lower order of creation.

"How long will this business keep you on the coast?" he asked.

"I hope to return on Thursday."

"Going to Absecon?"

"No. I hate the place. Are you gadding off to Narragansett today?"

"I think not. Can't plunge into details now, you know; but want to have a talk with you before I make any further move in that direction."

"Surely you don't believe what that stupid valet told you?"

"It's hard to say. He's a sure enough John Bull, and he struck me as saying what he believed."

"It is impossible, I tell you! I am only waiting till tomorrbw's affair has ended before I take steps to bring about a settlement."

"Well, good luck to you! If you prosper, I do. At present, hot as the weather is, I am suffering from cold feet. I suppose you know what that means? So long! Wire me when to expect you. We'll dine together that evening."

Mrs. Delamar held out a languid hand—she was by no means feeling Tearle guffawed at his own wit, hap-

ALHUCEMAS, Morocco, June 14.—
Great numbers of Moors boarded the Spanish gunboat, General Concha, after the crew had been taken off, when she went ashore on Thursday, near here, and they were pillaging the vessel when the Spanish cruiser, Reina Regente came up and fired her entire broadsode among them, killing 19 and wounding many others.

ALHUCEMAS, Morocco, June 14.—
Now, it chanced rather fortunately that while Steingall and Clancy were surveying the ground, Tearle and Mrs. Delamar arrived on the scene, and their hasty glance into the car's interior led them to regard the three as belonging to the same party. It was a haphazard incident; but it led to an unlocking of tongues that otherwise might have remained mute, or, at any rate, uninforming.

(To Be Continued)

When four is company A bridal gift hint

When the newlyweds settle down to the practical business of life, the brides will find in receiving friends that four becomes jolly good company when the fourth member of the party is an Electric Chafing Dish.

She escapes the fussing and bother that usually mars the pleasure of these impromptu little snacks. For the electric Chafing Dish can be taken wherever the company is.

The rarebit, marshmallow fudge, or tidbit can be prepared right on the table and everybody can join in the fun of making it.

And it is just as handy for keeping luncheon dishes hot on days when "he" is late.

Handsomely finished in mirror polished nickel with heat-proof base, Made also in gold and silver with place for monogram or orest. Prices $12 and $15.

The Toronto Electric Light Company, Limited

"At Your Service"

12 Adela de Street East,

Telephone Adelaide 404