The naval question and the highways will again take up considerable time, altho not so much as last year. The government will send these measures to the senate as early as possible.

To Revise Railway Act

An all important matter will be the revision of the Railway Act, which been in the hands of counsel for two years. Much interest will be centred in the government's redistribution bill. which will be brought down. The opinion is now growing that so far as York County is concerned, there will be two rural constituencies and eight seats in the city. The opinion was expressed today that the government will make a strong effort to get thru by May 24.

betectives Wallace and Newton.

Stanley is believed to have engineered the theft of the goods. Calling up the dry goods firm, he represented himself as one of the firm's customers and ordered the roll of cloth to be delivered in the morning. The cloth was a delivered but Bradshaw's were informed by the other concern that it had not been ofdered, upon which the wholeselers agreed to send a wagon to bring it back.

It is charged that Stanley called for the goods before the Bradshaw firm could recover them, and subsequently sold them to a merchant in Parkdale. The cloth was found in porce in cash. Lemon accepted, and the money was paid. Shortly after Mr. Sinclair days the man dended any connection with the them.
