

Onslow, chiefly occupied by Presbyterians and Baptists, brought us to Truro. The churchwardens were with me for an hour in the evening.

Sunday, August 27.—I had purposely so made my arrangements as to spend a Lord's Day with the bereaved congregation at Truro, and read prayers, and preached for them both in the morning and afternoon ; for which they seemed the more thankful, as there is much religious and political excitement at this time in their neighbourhood.

Monday, August 28.—Returned safely to Halifax, by a pleasant journey of sixty miles, and found my family well. Laus Deo!

Tuesday, September 5.—After a few days' rest I left town again, and, on the 12th, married my youngest daughter in St. Mary's Church at Aylesford, the Church of my first care.

ANNAPOLIS.—PERROT.

Saturday, September 16.—I proceeded to Annapolis, (thirty-eight miles,) and on the morning of Sunday, the 17th of September, I preached to a large congregation (more than two hundred and fifty) at St. Luke's church in that place. In the afternoon I went with the Rev. Edwin Gilpin, the respectable and excellent Missionary at Annapolis, to Perrot, a new settlement, seven miles from Annapolis, where by the exertions of Mr. Gilpin, and the aid of the Society, a neat chapel has been finished. Many of our morn-
