MRS. THORNLEY MUST GIVE PROOF OR RETRACT

LONDON, Ont., April 2.—Official recognition was today taken of W. C. T. U. President Mrs. Thornley's charges against the morality of children in the public schools. Mayor Beattie issuing a statement in which he declares Mrs. Thornley must either prove or retract her statements.

Mrs. Thornley is standing by her guns, and in public letter reiterates her statements, made before the ministerial alliance, except that she was not referring to London schools in particular, but to all Ontario, and intimates that the matter must be pushed to a conclusion. She claims to have received fresh evidence of the existence of the conditions of which she spoke, but the evidence has come to her through persons two or three removed from the original narrators.

Chairman Weekes of the board of education also issued a statement today in which he declares he will present a resolution denying the charges.

Official action was taken following the publication in the morning paper of the statements of Mrs. Thornley which were accepted as facts.

Mrs. Thornley's letter today is of two columns in length. In it she tells of a child 12 years of age who told his mother of alleged conditions in his school. Mrs. Thornley writes it in this way:

"Since this controversy appeared in the press a mother paid me a social call, in the course of which she told me the following: One of her boys, 'a lad of 12, is in the highest room of the public school in the section of the city where they live. A few weeks before this call the mother was having her 'bed time talk' with her little boy, when he asked the meaning of a word that for two or three generations has signified amongst school children a violation of the seventh commandment. Much startled, the mother asked the child had heard it. Then out came this story. Last fall some of the boys and girls of that school had gone to the woods together on different occasions. Recently the teachers, having heard serious rumors with regard to these expeditions, had been trying to ferret out the boys and girls had been taken out of their classes in school hours; amongst this particular group of children conversation related, and the school was fairly humming with speculation. This 12-year-old lad—a very inquisitive boy—had finally enquired of a young friend what the delinquent was doing, and this low word had told the story."

Mrs. Thornley further on tells of a woman who, having read her utterances to the minister, called on her. Mrs. Thornley tells her caller's story as follows:

"A certain pre-arranged conversation service, for which she was responsible, took her one evening to the church. She found the doors locked, and she and others with her had to go away. Later, the janitor—a very fine young married man—explained that ever since

NEW DUTCH TARIFF ONE OF MODERATE PROTECTION

THE HAGUE, April 2.—The new tariff law which was introduced by the government in the first chamber yesterday is a moderately protective one in character. Its sponsors claim that while nations whenever it is thought 10,000,000 guildens of revenue annually, the new duties will not be so onerous as to keep out foreign imports. A guilden is the equivalent of 40 cents in American money.

It is also asserted that the tariff will not be high enough to induce the formation of Dutch trusts to put up the price of raw materials. The general idea is that half manufactured goods shall be subject to an import duty of from three to six per cent, ad valorem, and articles nearly finished, to 10 per cent. Wholly finished goods will be assessed 12 per cent. Wheat, coal, minerals, yarn, petroleum and meat for cattle would remain on the free list. Fine flour would pay a duty of 10 cents per Dutch hundred kilograms, 125 guildens per hundred kilos and 20 per cent ad valorem; cigars, 25 guildens per 100 kilos and 40 per cent ad valorem.

The government reserves the power to use retaliatory measures against other nations whenever it is thought necessary. It is estimated that 9,000,000 guildens derived from the new revenue will be used as a fund for the payment of old age pensions to workingmen.

LABOR PARTY, SO-CALLED, FAVORS RECIPROCITY

The Independent Labor Party held a reunion in the Labor Temple yesterday afternoon, to elect officers for the ensuing year. It was decided to hold open air meetings during the summer, and to put up several candidates in the next municipal elections.

After a lengthy discussion, those present endorsed a resolution in favor of the proposed reciprocity agreement.

A resolution endorsing the action of Allan Studholme, in so strenuously and devotedly espousing the cause and principles of organized labor in the legislature, was unanimously passed.

The new officers are: President, Jas. Stevenson; vice-president, N.J. Martin; corresponding secretary, H. B. Woodson; financial secretary, Ed. Stevenson; treasurer, F. Evans; organizer, Magnus Sinclair; executive committee, J. Watt, A. Millar, Vineberg, McCann, Sangster.

The Independent Labor Party was organized in 1908, and entered candidates in the provincial contest, but they got decidedly meagre support from the workmen they claimed to represent, and the party modestly eracot itself.

The present movement is understood to be inspired by a few individuals who wish to give the impression that a majority of Toronto's workmen are in favor of reciprocity.

BOARD OF TRADE SIGHS FOUR HUNDRED MARK

The mail received at the Board of Trade on Saturday was the heaviest since the membership campaign commenced. Four days of the allotted period of ten have elapsed and the tally has not yet reached the four hundred mark, showing that the present week must yield more than a hundred applications a day if the required thousand is to be reached. The score of captains and their committees have their work cut out to accomplish this. Several captains reported on Saturday, one handing twenty names and another eighteen. At Buffalo a similar campaign, has been carried on during the past week and up to Thursday 58 names had been enrolled, one captain bringing in 152 and another 90. A correspondent noting this says: "Toronto cannot afford to let Buffalo beat her, but in order not to do so your workers will have to get a big hustle on."

Another correspondent says large firms should induce their heads of departments to become members. Yet another would like to see commercial travelers in. Lawyers are sending their names in freely, but doctors so far are not over anxious, altho there are many questions before the city in which the medical fraternity are interested. A prominent wholesale merchant writing says he considers it a duty that every citizen owe the city to become a member, and thus help forward the good work the board has in view. A large retail merchant says the board is doing well in encouraging retail merchants to join. "What I would like to see," he says, "is all the trade societies united in the board of trade. This may be said is more likely to be done. A good suggestion is made by one of the captains, namely that each received should be used to get another, and that the two should get two more. The thousand, he thinks, would soon be reached in this way."

James Stevenson Elected President at Meeting Held on Sunday.

James Stevenson, president of the Independent Labor Party, was elected at a meeting held on Sunday in the Labor Temple. The meeting was attended by a large number of the party's members and supporters. Stevenson was re-elected president for the coming year. Other officers elected include N.J. Martin as vice-president, H.B. Woodson as financial secretary, and F. Evans as treasurer. The meeting also discussed the proposed reciprocity agreement and the party's plans for the future.

COUNCIL MEETS TO-DAY
Session Shorter Than the Average Expected—Some Food for Debate.

Unless something unforeseen comes up the prospects are good for a meeting of the city council to-day that will end without the suspension of the 6 o'clock rule.

Ald. McCarthy's motion for the reorganization of the waterworks department, making it separate from the works department, is up, but he will request that it stand until after the investigation of the works department, is over.

The one subject which promises prolonged discussion is the report of the special committee on tubes, which passed the board of control with a majority of one. There is likely to be a close division of the council as to the advisability of providing $5000 for preparation plans.

There will be considerable argument as to whether Brockton Hall should be renovated or the site sold.

Ald. Youmans has a motion for the merging of the parks and exhibition and island committees.

Ald. McBride will be on hand with two motions. One is for the abolition of rent on water meters. The other is to have the large white letters eliminated from the city's motor cars and substitute the city's coat-of-arms for them.

Regarding the water meters, Ald. McBride says that the principle of charging the users rent is the same as placing a detective to keep a man from stealing and making him pay for the detective.

The delay in the construction of the masonry work on the new electrical transformer stations will be brought before the council by the report of the board of control, which recommends that the city architect be empowered to make the contractors either put an additional force on or in the event of their failing to do so, to take the work out of their hands and enforce the penalty clause of the contract.

Case Will Go Before Grand Jury This Morning.

Sheldon, who is wanted in Montreal on allegations that he knows where the $200,000 belonging to trusting clients has gone, was arraigned in an alderman's court here yesterday upon complaint of his landlady here. It was charged that Ross, or Sheldon, had failed to account for the stock and money she had entrusted to him. About $115 is involved. The prisoner was held for court on this charge, and his case will be presented to the grand jury Monday morning. In default of bail, he was remanded to jail.
