No Family should be without them.

ONE of the most important rules of the science of manners, is an almost absolute silence in regard to yourself.

We all within our graves shall sleep,
A hundred years to come;
No living soul for us shall weep,
A hundred years to come;
But other men our land will till,
And other men our streets will fill,
And other birds shall sing as gay,
As bright the sunshine as to-day,
A hundred years to come.

"Boy how did you manage to get such a big string of fish." "I hooked them sir."

FOR SUMMER COMPLAINTS.—Dr. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY stands at the head of the list of Remedies. It never fails.

"Oh Parson! I wish I could take my gold with me," said rich old Deacon Swipes. "It might melt if you did," quietly replied the parson.

BOTS IN HORSES.—For bots drench the animal with half-a-pint of thin tar, which kills them instantly.

One half-pint of whiskey, one half-pint gunpowder, one half-pint molasses, and one half-pint soft-soap will cure the worst case of bots.

FANNY Fern says that "the men of the present day are fast." Prentice says, "they have to be, to catch the women."
