DR. HANNAY'S WILL IS PROBATED

Estate Divided Among Relatives — Directions For His Burial—His Books

In the probate court this morning the will of Dr. James Hannay, journalist and historian, was proved. He desired to be buried in the lot in which his wife is interred in the Frederick cemetery and provided for the execution of a sum of moderate size, grey granite, polished and that the sum of $100 be placed in a bank in the name of the trustees of the cemetery, the interest to be used in keeping the lot in proper order.

He gives to the seven children of his deceased sister, Elizabeth, wife of Captain Salter, the following sums: To the eldest, Captain Thomas Hannay Salter, $400; to Mary, Jane, Georgina, Vivian, Laura and Girvan, $200 each; to his nephew Arthur Burns Hannay, of Ottawa, $400; also "all my books of which I may be possessed"; to Elizabeth Edmunds, of Menzies, South Australia, his adopted daughter, $400; to his namesake, James Hannay Lester, of South Norwalk, nephew of his wife, $400; to Bruce Climo, his adopted nephew, son of Charles H. Climo, of Halifax, $400; to his adopted daughter May Bright, of Brooklyn, $400, which he desires to be invested in the education of her boys; to his wife's niece, Florence Matilda Marley, wife of William A. Seely, of Oak Point, $400; to Annie Kirk, "my faithful assistant for many years and a friend of my late wife," $200; the rest of his estate to be divided equally between the two eldest daughters, Mary and Jane, of his deceased sister, Mrs. Salter, and Mrs. Seely, and he appoints his cousin, John Kerr, of St. John, barrister-at-law, and William A. Seely, of Oak Point, executors. They were duly sworn in. The real estate consisting of lots at Peticodiac and the Park, Bathurst, valued at $500; personal estate consisting of copyrights of Hannay's Law Reports, History of Acadia, War of 1812, Life of Sir Leonard Tilley and other works, also money on deposit in the bank, all valued at $7,500. G. Earle Logan is proctor.

FRITZ WILLIAM W. AMLAND DIES AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

After an illness of only four days, Fritz William Wellington Amland, a former blockmaker and father of Amland Brothers furniture dealers, died this morning at his home, 196 Waterloo street. Mr. Amland, who was eighty-two years of age, had been in good health up to Saturday last when he suffered from a paralytic stroke and gradually grew weaker until the end came this morning.

He was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, on Feb. 1, 1828 and came to America about 1853 and established himself in St. John as a block-maker, afterwards entering into partnership with his brother-in-law, Joseph Laskey. About twenty years ago he retired.

Mr. Amland was a member of Centenary Methodist church. Although not active in politics he was always a staunch Liberal. He leaves one daughter, Miss Ada, at home, and five sons, Frederick W., Robert B., George C., Walter O. and C. Arthur, all in business here as Amland Bros. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Hon. A. R. McClellan Helps Seamen's Institute Along—Names of the Collectors

The campaign being conducted by the ladies of the city churches in aid of the Seamen's Institute, is meeting with much success. At noon today the hands on the clock at the head of King street, indicated that $700 had been collected by the committees. A donation received from Hon. A. R. McClellan, who gave $40 to Mr. Corbell yesterday afternoon, after an inspection of the building was very gratifying.

The following ladies are working to bring the total up to $1500:—

St. Andrews—Misses Elsie Rankin, Alice Murdoch, Helen Corbett, Olive Finley, Edna Simon.

St. John's, Misses Bessie Dobson, Marion Robinson, Edith Armstrong, Ethel Henderson.

St. David's, Misses Ada Williams, Viola Brewer, Perle McMurray, Jean Smith, Mrs. John Ogilvy.

MOTHER ADMITS NEGLECTING HER CHILDREN

Given Six Months Sentence—Lockhart's Trouble Making Time in Charlotte Street

Nellie Briggs pleaded guilty in the police court this morning to a charge of neglecting her two small children. She was placed in custody last night by Detective Killen on a warrant. Judge Ritchie sentenced her for the morning to a term of six months in the Home of the Good Shepherd.

A few months ago she gave her children the care of an aged woman who lives at Sand Cove, and up to a couple of weeks ago, their board bill was paid regularly, presumably by the "mother." As the money failed to make its appearance for the past few weeks, the boarding house mistress issued a warrant against Mrs. Briggs, who on the morning of the charge looked after the children, and will probably look after the little ones, while their mother, who is a widow, is in the home.

Richard Lockhart, an Englishman, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in Charlotte street, but his memory failed him on the charges of using abusive language to Mrs. Matilda Nodwell, in the Charlotte hotel, Charlotte street, and also with assaulting Miss Allidia Laird in the same house.

The two complainants said that Lockhart had gone to the house about four o'clock in the afternoon intoxicated and said he was going up stairs to bed, that on being told that he could not do so, he struck Miss Laird and abused Mrs. Nodwell using vile language. Policeman George Nelson placed him under arrest.

Lockhart was remanded.

$25.00 For The Best Suggestion To Boost St. John

A movement is afoot to boost St. John. How can it best be done? For the best suggestion, told in not more than 100 words, The Times and Telegraph will pay $25.00. The contest will close on January 31.

Only a few days now remain. Many suggestions have been received, but you have still as good a chance as anybody to win the money, and what is more, to advance the city's interests by your ideas. Don't delay. Send in your suggestion before midnight of January 31.

Try to suggest something practical. The award will be made by independent judges. Address "Suggestion," Box 14, The Telegraph, St. John.
