East End League.

In the East End League on Saturday evening the Glenwoods decisively defeated the Alerts, 14 to 1. The losers used three pitchers in an endeavor to stem the tide of hits and runs, but all to no avail. The box score follows:—

Players We Know.

(Fredericton Gleaner.)

Jordan, a former Saint John pitcher, is being a real rescuer of ball games for the Portland Club of the New England League. He pulled another game out of the fire for Manager Hugh Duffy on Thursday, when the Maine City's team won from Worcester 10 to 9. In the sixth, with the score 10 to 8 in favor of Portland, Williams gave four bases on balls in succession, Senno following with a hit. More took his place and passed two men. Jordan was called on next and struck out two men, one scoring on an outfield fly. He retired the side on strikeouts in the seventh and ninth and struck out one in the eighth. In the four innings he was in the box the Worcester batters made only two hits.

Young Jacobson, an outfielder who was with the St. Croix club, continues to play wonderful ball for the Brockton club of the Colonial League. On Wednesday his two doubles helped materially in Brockton's win over Hartford by a score of 7 to 6, this being the Hartford team's second defeat of the season. Frank McPherson, another former member of the St. Croix club, is also playing in the outfield for the Brockton team and had one of their hits in this game.

Diamond Sparkles.

Col. Joseph Lannin, proprietor of the Red Sox, figures the American League race a 33-33-33 proposition among the White Sox, Tigers and Red Sox. "There's not enough to choose," he said, "to establish any opinion that isn't most guess. Chicago and Detroit are both far better than for several years—and the Red Sox soon will be, as they are now, pointing toward their normal stride. The battle among these three into the stretch should be one of the best in many years."

It does seem odd to have two such makers of champions as Connie Mack and John McGraw leading teams that are tail-enders, with the race already nearly two months under way. "Miracle Men" do not come every year.

Mathewson appears fatter than ever. Can it be that the old story about Matty being physically lazy, disinclined to morning practice and to hustling in the ante-game practice is true and the cause of his failure to show better stuff at a time when everyone thought he would still be practically invincible?

ATHLETIC.

One New Record.

Barraclough, of St. John High School, set a new record of 24 2-5 seconds for the 220 yards dash in the annual interscholastic sports held at Rothesay Saturday afternoon, and Rothesay Collegiate captured the team championship in track athletics.

The final result was: Rothesay first with 41 points; St. John second, 35 points; Moncton third, 14 points.

A large crowd of spectators enjoyed the events, which were all closely contested and Rothesay was given rousing cheers on winning the title for the year.

Anglin, of St. John, who took second place in the pole vault, injured his left arm severely in the competition.

The results follow:

100 yards dash—1, Barraclough, St. John; 2, Nason, St. John; 3, Taylor, St. John. 10 4-5 secs.

High jump—1, Summers, Moncton; 2, Sommerville, St. John; 3, Maguire, St. John; Starr, Rothesay. Height, 5 ft. 1½ in.

Shot put—1, Nichols, Rothesay; 2, McDougall, Moncton; 3, Marshall, St. John; Starr, Rothesay. Distance, 32 ft. 8 in.

Hammer throw—1, Smith, Rothesay; 2, Rathford, Rothesay; 3, McDougall, Moncton. Distance, 92 ft. 1 in.

220 yards—1, Barraclough, St. John; 2, Nichols, Rothesay; 3, Nixon, St. John. Time, 24 2-5 secs.—new record. The old record was 24 3-5 secs.

Pole vault—1, Ryder, Moncton; 2, Anglin, St. John; Diago, Rothesay. Height, 8 ft. 7 in.

Broad jump—1, Nichols, Rothesay; 2, Ratchford, Rothesay; 3, Taylor, St. John. Distance, 18 ft. 11½ in.

440 yards dash—1, Barraclough, St. John; 2, Nichols, Rothesay; 3, Webster, St. John. Time, 57 secs.

120 yards hurdles—1, Ratchford, Rothesay; 2, Nichols, Rothesay; 3, Nixon, St. John.

Mile run—1, Taylor, St. John; 2, Prescott, Rothesay; 3, Sommerville, St. John. Time, 5 min. 5 2-5 secs.

TURF.

New Four Furlongs Record.

A Montreal paper says:—The record for the four furlongs at Dorval track, Montreal, on Wednesday, was lowered to 48 3-4, by the two-year-old Milestone, trained by "Little Mike" Daly, and owned by the Quincy Stable of New York. This colt ran twice at Toronto, and gave no evidence of any class that would justify his being an odds-on choice among the horses he met on Wednesday. He was eagerly backer, though, at 8 to 5, and returns of commissions placed in Toronto, New York, Pittsburg and various other places were received. They were for large amounts, and the liberal support accorded Milestone was quite justified by the racing exhibition he gave. Last horse at one stage, he ran through the others with ease, and won "on the bit."

The result was disastrous to the trainer, who was held responsible for what seemed a quite anticipated reversal of all the colt had shown at Woodbine, and the further entries of horses trained by Daley are refused until he makes explanation to the Canadian Racing Association at their meeting at Blue Bonnets this week.

RING.

Hogan Respects Welsh's Punch.

"One-round" Hogan, a crack California lightweight, until recently chief sparring partner of Freddie Welsh, when the lightweight champion was refitting himself, for his bout with Willie Ritchie, has just come out with the following:—

"There are a lot of people who think Welsh can't hit, but if they worked with him for a while they would change their opinion. Welsh can hit a right-hand cross that will jar any lying fighter. If he wanted to he could win a good percentage of his bouts by the knockout route, and he will not take any chances, for which I don't blame him. He hurt his hand eleven years ago, and it has never been really right since then. Welsh is a lot too clever for any of the present day lightweights and I look to see him hold the title a long time. There are some fighters in the division who can hit harder, but Welsh has such a perfect defensive system that their hitting ability is rendered useless."

Boxers Injured.

COBB STILL LEADS AMERICAN LEAGUE

Daly, Formerly of This City, in Second Place — Ludurus Tops National League — Other Statistics

Chicago, June 5—Ty Cobb is the only "four hundred hitter" left in the big leagues, according to averages prepared here on Saturday, which include batters who have taken part in ten or more games up to last Thursday. The percentage of this star fell away during the week from 427 to 408 but he ran his stolen base total up to twenty-five and his runs scored to forty-seven in forty-five games, leading all rivals. The nine leading hitters of the American League following Cobb are:—

Daly, Chicago, 364; Thompson, Philadelphia, 357; Fournier, Chicago, 355; Jackson, Cleveland, 354; Russell, Chicago, 346; Kavanaugh, Detroit, 320; Lajoie, Philadelphia, 316; Maisel, New York, 316.

Cobb also leads in total bases with eighty, his long hits including six doubles, five triples and one home run. Chicago with 263 and Cleveland with 260 are ahead in team hitting.

American League pitchers who have won seventy per cent. of their games or more are Faber, Chicago, won ten and lost one; Fisher, New York, six and one; Bencke, Chicago, five and one; Dauss, Detroit, five and one; Morton, Cleveland, seven and three.

Fred Ludurus of Philadelphia continues in front among the National League batsmen with 386 for twenty-six games. Then comes Clarke, Cincinnati, 382; Good, Chicago, 364; W. Zimmerman, Brooklyn, 364; Daubert, Brooklyn, 352; Connolly, Boston, 337; Groh, Cincinnati, 336; J. Smith, Boston, 328; Merkle, New York, 338; Robertson, New York, 325.

The New York Giants have climbed to second place in club batting with 261, Cincinnati leading with 266.

Saier leads in stolen bases with twelve; in runs scored thirty-two and in total bases with ninety-three. His long hits include fifteen doubles, eight triples and five home runs. In homers however he is behind Gravath, Philadelphia, who is credited with nine.

Pitchers in the National League's 700 division are:—Pierce, Chicago, won five and lost none; Meadows, St. Louis, four and nothing; Standridge, Chicago, two and nothing; Mayor, Philadelphia, eight and two; Coombs, Brooklyn, four and one; Ragan, Boston, Schnoider, Cincinnati and Smith, Brooklyn, three and one each; Alexander, Philadelphia, eight and three; Dell, Brooklyn, seven and three.

JOHN BRADFORD IN COMMUNITY WORK

What He is Doing in Montreal—Fine Tribute to the Y. M. C. A. —Rev. Dr. Symonds Testifies

To the Editor of The Challenge, an English Church Paper, Pub. in Great Britain:—

Sir:—Anglican sentiment concerning the Y. M. C. A. appears to have undergone a considerable change since the outbreak of the war. This has been due to the excellent service rendered in camp and field by this organization. The old idea of the Y. M. C. A. as a collection of somewhat anaemic youths who loved to walk about the streets with flag-edged Bibles under their arms has apparently died ont and its place has been taken by that of a body of young men of all sorts and conditions bent upon the service of their fellows.

In my opinion this is a great gain. Here in Canada the Anglican Church has long sympathized and worked with the Y. M. C. A. The great railways—to mention only our largest employers of labor—know its value and warmly support it in those principal centres where their employes reside.

The feeling of Montreal towards the Association may be gauged by the fact that some years ago the sum of $800,000 was raised for it in ten days. It has now in Montreal a central building and three or four large and flourishing branches. The central building in Drummond street is a perfect hive of activity. Nearly 200 young men room and board in it. It has a large central hall for meetings and several smaller ones. It has a gymnasium, a swimming tank, a billiard room, play rooms for boys, library, and reading room, and in certain parts of the building smoking is allowed.

But this is by no means all. The association now employs a specialist in social work. Mr. Bradford, since his appointment has done wonders. He is a man of great resource and of powerful and telling speech. He assumes no particular airs or tone of voice, but is plain and straightforward, with, what is common amongst American speakers, a way of hitting his nails squarely on the head every time. Mr. Bradford, who by the way, is an Anglican, has organized much excellent work amongst the senior boys from our high schools. He has formed them into clubs, and they meet for a weekly tea at the Y. M. C. A., when some prominent citizen addresses them on practical topics. He has arranged in the schools themselves for what are known as vocational talks, when a physician or lawyer, or a banker or a clergyman gives a talk on his profession. These are extremely valuable to the boys.

Then, in conjunction with the Protestant School Board, Mr. Bradford in the poorer parts of the town, is organizing community centres. The school building is open certain evenings, and the children and their parents invited. I recently attended, and as chairman of the Protestant Board, addressed such a gathering and was informed that there were seven nationalities represented in the gathering. It was both moving and inspiring.

The success of the Y. M. C. A. here is stimulated; our larger Hebrew population, and we have a Y. M. H. A. and recently I have read of a movement amongst the Roman Catholics for something of the same sort. More than one prominent Roman Catholic has told me of their sense of the need of such an organization.

Finally, the Y. M. C. A. is an excellent meeting ground for the various reformed churches, and a powerful agent in the motion of unity. One may indeed ask whether the time has not come when we should no longer think of it as undenominational, but rather as "Catholic" and that in the best sense of a much abused word. Yours, etc.,

HERBERT SYMONDS,
Vicar, Christ Church Cathedral,
Montreal.

Easter Day, 1915.

Jorn Bradford is well known for his splendid work in Amherst, and was made a substantial offer to come to St. John, but had already accepted the call to the city of Montreal.

A PROPER BIT OF SPORT, HE SAYS

Gave Gunlayer Champagne For Hitting German Target—Is Sorry For Landsmen

New York, June 7—Some details of the work of the British monitors along the coast of Belgium reached here in a letter from one of the commanding officers of the squadron.

"Here we are again, having fired away another three hundred six-inch shells. We are waiting for the steamer to come, and hope to get away again tonight," the writer says. "I am awfully tickled at the papers especially the Daily Telegraph, with the column about these wonderful monitors, when everyone, you included, has always told me what a fool I was to come with them, and what rotten ships they were, and so forth. I had a squadron of six yesterday— the Wildfire, Vestal and Bustard all arrived, the latter one of the old flat-iron gunboats—and we did a bit of blowing up. A submarine let off two torpedoes at Wildfire and on Thursday a Taube was overhead and dropped bomba very near one of the ships.

"I get all signals by wireless first from the shore and then detail the various ships what to fire at. Yesterday afternoon a signal came to fire at (a) the church spire at Westende, (b), (c), (d), at other objects, so I put the other ships to (b), (c) and (d), and took the church myself. The Germans evidently had men spotting us, I sent to the gun-layer of the turret and told him I would give him a bottle of champagne if he hit it. My dear, five thousand yards, and he hit it with a lyddite, plump in the middle of the tower. The shells all burst, and it really was a fine sight and proper bit of sport.

"It's really rather ghastly, the whole show. From Nieuport, northward to Westende and Middlekirke, the whole place is one mass of bursting shell, with flames from burning houses and enormous fires. We, the monitors, alone have fired one thousand, eight hundred 6-inch shells into this area. To the north of Westende yesterday we spotted a German battery from the masthead by its flags, and I went off on my own and fired at it, and made them shift billet three times until they got out of range.

"I believe, from all accounts, the number of killed is awful among the Germans, as we have been steadily firing shells into a place called Stype off and on the whole week. They signal to us "Huge bodies of troops at so and so," and we plot it off quickly and put about twenty lyddites into that spot in a minute. It must be awful. On Wednesday we blew up a whole ammunition column.

"We shall soon have to return and go into dock. We have got one compartment full of water and one six-inch gun out of action. Quite by luck I went down to look inside and found a score (flaw) one-half inch deep inside it. The Humber has six inches of water all over her double bottoms, and the Mersey's turret has broken down and can only be used by hand, and so forth. We are all good for another week yet.

"I can't imagine how they keep themselves supplied with ammunition in the land forces. The enormous number of shells that are fired is practically incessant all day. The sky is always full of bursting charges. It must be hell having to advance against it."

SMALL ARMS, TOOLS AND CARTRIDGES FROM CONNECTICUT

Up in Connecticut are the manufacturers of small arms, of tools for making guns and shrapnel, and of cartridges. They all began to be busy a few weeks after war was declared. Plants had to be enlarged and orders farmed out to concerns that in times of peace are content to make clocks, watches, and pianos. The Connecticut Valley, in which industry had drooped for many months, has been feverishly active for the past eight months. The United States Cartridge Company has a contract for 600,000,000 cartridges. This seems an enormous and inexhaustible supply and it is sufficient to keep the company's works running at full pace for a year, but divided into the number of men on the firing line it is not, after all, a very large amount. It represents a value of $18,000,000 to the holders of the contract.

Lathes in which guns of the largest type, as wel as small arms and projectiles, are turned, and lathes for turning and boring shells, have been contracted for to the extent of many millions of dollars by the English, French, and Russian governments, and are to be found on the manifests of nearly every vessel sailing from American ports to Liverpool or Bordeaux. Some idea of what all of this means to the business life of Connecticut is indicated in bank clearings of nearly $80,000,000 in Hartford during the month of April, compared with clearings of $19,750,000 in October. An interesting aspect of the labor situation in Connecticut is to be found in a recent census taken among the ammunition manufacturing plants of that state were, of 29,000 enumerated, over 5,000 were Germans. Recently in Pittsburgh several concerns that were about to start on war orders for the Allies gave their German employes the right to refuse to work on such contracts. Very few availed themselves of the privilege.—From "War Contracts in the United States," by Charles F. Speare, in the American Review of Reviews for June.

Veteran Travis Champion.

Rye, N. Y., June 6—Walter J. Travis, the veteran golfer, won the Metropolitan golf championship yesterday over the Apawamis course by defeating John G. Anderson, the former Boston golfer, in the final round by two up.

Before using a new saucepan add a lump of soda and some potato peelings and let it boil for some hours. Then wash out thoroughly, and all danger from poisoning from the tin lining will be gone.

"A ROMANY SPY"
IN THREE PARTS
GRIPPING, DRAMATIC, PATHETIC
The critic of the moving picture world said:—"A more finely finished production than this feature it will be hard to find. All the elements of a great and striking success are present in happy and and harmonious combination. Nothing could be simpler and nothing could be more powerful than the plot." The story is of a spy who caused the death of an innocent man. Miss Asta Nielsen is featured.
STUPENDOUS SCENES, THRILLING ACTION, INTENSE PLOT

"ROMEO AND JULIET"
Biograph's screamingly funny comedy of Irish and Italian characters.
