A very pleasant time was passed last night by about forty of the young people of Pandemec, residing there for the summer, when they shared the kindness of J. H. Hamilton, and enjoyed a rollicking drive in a hayrack as far as Westfield and back again. On their return to Pandemec, they were entertained at Mr. Hamilton's summer cottage, "Demasoir," where a programme of dances was enjoyed, and refreshments served. The cottage was brightly illuminated and decorated with lanterns of oriental design.

Several thousand people last evening assembled in King Square walks or strolled along the streets bordering the Square, to enjoy a very fine programme of music played by the City Cornet Band. This was the case at the close of several last evening's numbers. "Demasoir," where a programme of dances was enjoyed, and refreshments served.
