

CITY HAPPY OVER BIG NEWS; PREPARING FOR APPROPRIATE CELEBRATION ON TUESDAY

Programme Includes Church Services, Thanksgiving in King Square, Motor Car Parade in Morning, Procession in Afternoon—Speeches and Fireworks in Evening

Even Generalissimo Foch could not wish for finer, more cheery weather, in which to celebrate the hold-up of hostilities than that which ushered in the long hoped-for signing of the armistice this morning.

St. John went to bed expecting the morning editions would bring the glad news and this time there was no disappointment. Those who were still snoozing under the puffs were awakened with the ten queer strokes of the fire alarm bells and the accompanying blasts of the cotton mill whistle.

Workmen already assembled at the scene of their labors gave hearty cheers and despite the early hour there was considerable animation and happy shouting back and forth. Then the eight o'clock whistling took it up, followed by the nine o'clockers.

Back went the flags and bunting pulled in so reluctantly Thursday night last. Out went new decorations, until King, Charlotte, Prince William and other principal thoroughfares became a mass of fluttering colors. In the stores flags and bunting were entirely sold up, until tin pans and strange foreign flags were made do duty, the former in turned-around and upside-down shape to look like some allied emblem.

As the forenoon sped on the town grew gay and giddy, bearing all the symptoms of a semi-riotous afternoon and a whirlwind evening, all of which will be merely a warning up for the grand observance of peace tomorrow. The weather man says it is going to be fine, so everybody prepare for a celebration that should do the city proud and be a fitting observance of the glorious yet solemn and serious finale of the terrible strife.

A Jarring Note.

At the meeting held this morning in A. O. Skinner's warrooms at which tomorrow's plans were being discussed a labor delegation consisting of Fred Campbell and James J. Tighon protested against the labor unions marching behind the mayor and commissioners. They averred they must walk ahead of them or not at all. This matter will be settled along with other details at this afternoon's session. Chairman Skinner says the only section of the parade preceding the civic rulers will be the returned heroes of the Great War Veterans' Association and the Depot Battalion.

Former Policemen.

Vice-President J. Sheehan has asked that ex-members of the police force meet at the Veterans' rooms this evening at 8 o'clock to prepare to take part in the procession tomorrow.

The Singing.

All choir singers in town are requested to assemble around the band stand in King square tomorrow forenoon for the open air public service which commences at 11:30. The hymns to be sung are the Doxology, O God Our Help in Ages Past, and I thank My God for Thee, War Veterans Anthem.

Before leaving their club rooms, Wellington Row, to join the big parade on King street east, G. W. V. A. members will be addressed by the returned heroes of the Great War Veterans' Association.

This afternoon at three o'clock A. O. Skinner, chairman of the celebration committee, is meeting his executive group of citizens and officials and deciding how the various floats, representative bodies, military and others will be placed, so that every detail of the procession will be complete and thoroughly understood.

At a meeting of the celebration committee held this forenoon there was a general discussion of tomorrow's plans, a definite outline of which appeared in this morning's Telegram. This plan was generally approved.

According to the timetable for Tuesday's celebration the first thing on the programme is the Thanksgiving service in all churches. These will commence at ten o'clock and terminate at sharp quarter to eleven. The health department has granted permission for a forty-five minute service.

At the conclusion of the thanksgiving services in the churches worshippers will be asked to repair to King Square, where at 11:30 a grand service of united congregations will spend a half hour in singing appropriate hymns in reciting the Lord's Prayer in unison. The Depot Battalion Band will accompany the congregational singing.

Shortly after noon tomorrow the automobile section of the procession will commence to assemble on King street east, so that a short start can be made shortly after noon. This will be a parade of cars to be in the nature of an opening flourish and with horns and other noise-making paraphernalia the automobiles will flash around town and return to King street (business section) where they will park on both sides of the street against the curbs and await the mixed parade, which will pass through the avenue of autos before the latter join in.

STREET CARS OFF DURING THE PARADE

At the request of Mayor Hayes, in order to allow the men to join in the celebration and also to leave the streets clear for the procession, the N. B. Power Company has consented to suspend its street car service from one until five o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

REPORT MISLEADING

The inclusion of 106 cases of influenza in the Board of Health report yesterday created widespread misunderstanding and apprehension which is most unfortunate. This big number of cases represented the whole military report since October 5—nearly five weeks—and nearly all the soldiers are now well and on duty again. The military authorities made their report on blue, as it were, and the impression has gotten abroad that the epidemic had broken out afresh. Such is not the case, the influenza is steadily losing ground and today's report is only about twelve new cases.

HEALTH MINISTER ISSUES WARNING TO CELEBRANTS.

Hon. W. P. Roberts, Minister of Health, issues the following warning this afternoon: "Please remember, General Public, that many of you are convalescing from influenza, bad colds and worse, and that the utmost precaution must be exercised during tomorrow's celebration. Don't stand about the cold streets on frosty ground and indulge in shouting or animated conversation. If you are getting over a sick spell, and see the parade, etc., from an auto, carriage or window. Don't take any chances that will throw you back into pneumonia, perhaps. Be well clad and warmly shod, don't get excited and overworked. The glamour of the peace celebration may tempt you to take risks in the open air, but don't do it."

THE PRICE WHICH GERMANY MUST PAY FOR PEACE

The Message.

The president spoke as follows: Gentlemen of the Congress: In these times of rapid and stupendous change it will in some degree lighten my sense of responsibility to perform in person the duty of communicating to you some of the larger circumstances of the situation with which it is necessary to deal.

The German authorities, who have at the invitation of the supreme war council been in communication with Marshal Foch, have accepted and signed the terms of armistice, which he was authorized and instructed to communicate to them. These terms are as follows:

1. Military clauses on western front. "The cessation of operations by land and in the air, six hours after the signature of the armistice."

Naval Terms.

The naval terms provide for the surrender of 360 submarines, fifty destroyers, six battle cruisers, ten light cruisers, eight light cruisers and other miscellaneous ships.

All skilled vessels in German hands are to be surrendered and Germany is to notify neutrals that they are free to trade at once on the seas with the allied countries.

Among the financial terms, included are restitution for damage done by the German armies; restitution of the cash taken from the National Bank of Belgium, and return of gold taken from Russia and Romania.

The immediate repatriation of all allied and American prisoners without reciprocal action by the Allies also is included.

5.—Immediate evacuation of invaded countries: Belgium, France, Alsace-Lorraine, Luxembourg, so ordered as to be completed within fourteen days from the signature of the armistice.

German troops which have not left the above mentioned territories within the period fixed, will become prisoners of war, and will be held in accordance with a note annexed to the stated terms.

8. Reparation beginning at once and to be completed within fourteen days of all inhabitants of the countries above mentioned, including hostages and persons under trial or convicted.

4.—Surrender in good condition by the German armies of the following equipment: Five thousand guns (two thousand five hundred heavy, two thousand five hundred light), thirty thousand machine guns, three thousand machine gunners, two thousand aeroplanes, fighters, bombers, dirigibles, and night bombing machines.

The above to be delivered simultaneously to the Allies and the United States troops in accordance with the detailed conditions laid down in an annexed map.

5.—The evacuation by the German armies of the countries on the left bank of the Rhine, these countries on the left bank of the Rhine shall be administered by the local authorities under the control of the Allied and United States armies of occupation. The occupation of these territories will be determined by Allied and United States garrisons holding the principal crossings of the Rhine, Mayence, Coblenz, Cologne, together with the bridge at Bonn.

A zone of thirty kilometers radius on the right bank and by garrisons similarly holding the strategic points of the region. A neutral zone shall be reserved on the right of the Rhine between the stream and a line drawn parallel to it forty kilometers to the east from the frontier to Holland to the parallel of Gernshem and as far as practicable a distance of thirty kilometers from the east of the stream from this parallel along the Swiss frontier.

HOW THE GREAT NEWS WAS RECEIVED IN ALLIED CAPITALS

London Streets Packed. Reports that the armistice between the Allies and Germany would be signed today and that the terms would be given out caused enormous crowds into the heart of London tonight. The streets were packed with men, women and children and great crowds collected outside of Buckingham Palace, the government buildings, Whitehall and the Lord Mayor's residence. There was much singing and enthusiasm and vehicular traffic was brought to a standstill. It was a happy, good-natured crowd.

As the hours passed and no news of the armistice arrived, the throng gradually dispersed.

London, Nov. 11, 10:35 a. m.—News of the signing of the armistice soon became known to those persons in the centre of the city as flags were immediately flown to the breeze and the issuance of evening newspapers, for which there was a great rush, at 11 o'clock.

The Celebration.

The first official celebration came when the old air raid signals were fired from all police and fire stations. London then gave itself to the celebration of the event which, although expected, was welcomed nevertheless. Thousands of persons in the shops and offices near the Bank of England poured into the streets and gathered before the Mansion House.

The Lord Mayor tried to tell the wildly cheering crowd what had happened. At the end of a brief speech the crowd voluntarily began to sing the National Anthem, after which they sang the Doxology and raised flags to the tops of nearby buildings. This was the signal for a concerted cheer from the throng.

The Premier Speaks.

Premier Lloyd George spoke to cheering and enthusiastic crowds in the streets, saying:

"The war will be over by 11 o'clock. This empire has done a great deal and the war, and you are now entitled to shout."

A great roar of approval came from the crowds as they pushed eagerly to get within hearing distance of the premier, who spoke from the steps of his official residence in Downing street. The crowd had been called from their offices and the streets by the firing of the former Official Announcement.

London, Nov. 11.—It is officially announced that the armistice between the Allies and Germany has been signed. The announcement was made by Premier Lloyd George, who said:

"The armistice was signed at five o'clock this morning and hostilities are to cease on all fronts at eleven o'clock today."
