It was the intention of the committee to have the many clinics. etc., outlined on a programme, so that any dentist aftending the congress could easily discover at what particular time anything he especially desired to see was going on. It was expected to have at least an aftendance of 1.000 dentists from the territory west of the Rocky Mountains, extending from California north and west of the Missouri river. Dr. Chance urged each member of the local association to do what he could in securing clinics for the occasion, and in assur ing the success of the congress. An informal discussion followed Dr.
