NEW RIVER STEAMER.

Str. Pokanoket Will Make a Notable Addition to the St John River Service.

The new steamer Pokanoket, recently purchased by the Star Line S. S. Co. from S. M. Denny, of Philadelphia, Pa., will probably arrive here at the end of the present week. The steamer became the property of the Star Line Co. on Saturday and on Wednesday will leave for this port.

The Pokanoket will make a notable addition to the river service. On the Delaware river, where she plied, she was regarded as a comfortable and speedy boat, and would be running there today, had not an electric car line crowded her out of business.

The Pokanoket is described as a palace steamer. She was built some twelve years ago. Her hull is of steel and her length over all is 162 feet. Propelled by twin screws driven by two fore and aft compound engines, she is capable of maintaining a speed of sixteen knots.

Her life saving equipment appears to be perfect. She has about six hundred life preservers, five metallic life boats, and one wooden boat. Four of these metallic boats have a capacity of one hundred and seventy-five cubic feet each.

There are twelve staterooms on the saloon deck besides ample cabin room for the passengers. The sanitary system is most excellent. The wash rooms and closets are supplied with water by a duplex sanitary pump. The steamer is lighted throughout by electricity, and has a very large and powerful searchlight.

One excellent feature in connection with the boat is the fact that she has good stairways from the main deck to the saloon deck, both fore and aft, so that passengers entering the boat along the river will not be required to pass among the freight in order to reach the stairway to the saloon deck.

The new steamer will not go on the river service till next spring.

POLICE REPORTS.

Sergt. Campbell has reported Fred Gibson and William Forrest, carpenters, Leigh Jolliffe and James Barry, laborers, for working in the city without a license, they not being ratepayers.

Store proprietors still continue to keep their doors unlocked at night. The door leading to James McCarthy's grocery store on Dock street was found open last night.

A little girl of twelve complained to the police that on Sunday evening while going to Zion church she lost her fur collar.

POLICE COURT.

Aged Father Has Son Arrested for Beating Him—Four Saturday Night Drunks.

There were six arrests in the city on Saturday but none on Sunday.

There were four common drunks and all were fined eight dollars, the usual Monday morning price. Thomas Barrett, who was allowed to go a few weeks ago, having behaved so well for such a long time and promising to abstain from the use of liquor was back. It was eight dollars or two months with hard labor.

Nelson Nichols, thirty-one years of age, who lives with his father on River street, was arrested on Saturday night by Officers Semple and Greer at the request of the young man's father, who charged him with assault. This morning Nichols pleaded guilty to being drunk.

Mr. Nichols, sr., took the stand and swore that his son struck him. The elder Nichols is an old grey haired man, the son a powerfully built fellow. He was fined twenty dollars or two months with the jail gang.

Myles Wright was given in charge to Officer Ward by his brother Joseph late Saturday night. He was charged with being drunk, annoying the neighbors and taking God's name in vain. He was fined eight dollars or thirty days on the first charge.

Arthur Wolf was reported some days ago for using profane language on Main street. This morning his lawyer put up a deposit of eight dollars for his appearance tomorrow.

THE WAD HAS COME.

Govn't. Money Flashing Around Already—Liberal Trick in Lorne Ward—Queen-Sunbury Solid

The government wad made its first appearance in this constituency on Saturday. Two well know government supporters in Dukes and Sydney wards were seen flaunting brand new bills.

The government representatives in Lorne ward made an unsuccessful attempt to induce Mrs. David Corkery, the proprietress of the store in which the Conservative committee are meeting to break her arrangement with the Conservatives and rent the store to the government party. The Conservatives secured the store a day before the government representatives appeared, but notwithstanding that fact the latter went so far as to advise Mrs. Corkery to disregard her previous arrangements. This bare-faced attempt to outdo the Conservatives in Lorne ward is resented by all fair-minded people of that section of the city.

A resident of Queens county, who was in the city this morning, said that the government party there are panic stricken and are resorting to unfair means to whip the Liberals into line. A well known St. John man is going about the county canvassing in the interests of the government and making promises. The Queens county resident said that many Liberals are coming out boldly in support of Wilmot. At Waterborough, which in 1900 went strongly for the government, nearly every resident is supporting Wilmot. Dr. Hay is sure of his defeat.

Dr. Hay seems to be a very unfortunate nominee of the government. In places where he is known he is not popular. At Coles Island particularly the people do not take to the man. At Oak Point also the people have been turned against the government nominee. The hall at this place is partitioned off into two sections and in former campaigns each had a section for ward work. The government party this time have secured the whole hall and shut out the Conservatives.

All through the county the government party are doing the same thing and are only antagonizing fair-minded people.

Richard O'Brien made the rounds of the I. C. R. employes this morning.

The government are bringing provincialists from the United States to vote, paying their passage here and back. Quite a number of such persons arrived last week.

CENSUS TAKERS CAN'T GET THEIR PAY.

Government is Withholding Part of the Money Promised and Will Give No Explanation.

The census enumerators all over Canada have been complaining of their treatment in the last census by the government. The local men have not been saying much, but have been endeavoring to find out why they were not paid according to their agreement. Col. Tucker had the matter in hand, but was unable to do anything for the gentlemen, not even to explain why certain money was withheld from them.

After receiving three days' instruction with the understanding they were to receive $3 per day, they were called back and told that they would be paid five cents a name, and $3 a day for revision. Their bills were made up on this basis with the following result. The first column gives the amount of the bills rendered the final column the amount received, the cut in one case being as much as $22.

Mr. Crockett was favored above the others, as six months after he received his first check he got another for $1. There has also been no explanation of this.

CAN'T GIVE IT AWAY.

Publishers of the Liberal News Having a Hard Time.

The Liberal News, published from the Globe office, is having a hard streak of luck. It was found impossible to sell the so-called paper and so a free distribution was made, but as this distribution placed the sheet in the hands of the people about the same time the two morning papers were delivered to subscribers and placed on the street, the housewife looked with suspicion upon the visitor and lit the fire with it. The shop keeper found it handy to tie up bundles with, and it did not cost him anything. This morning an effort was made to secure more attention to the paper. About eleven o'clock boys were started out, but it was no go, and as it stands now the publishers of the Liberal News cannot sell it and what is worse, cannot give it away. A boy with a big bundle went into the depot about 11.30 this morning and had succeeded in disposing of a few copies when he was ordered out and off the railway property. People who were offered the sheet looked on it suspiciously.
