CANADA IS COMING TO THE FRONT IN GREAT BRITAIN SAYS HON. GEO. E. FOSTER

Minister Tells of Growing Interest in Dominion

PREMIER'S POSITION CLEAR

Doubts in Naval Question Removed by Mr. Borden—Improvement of West India Cable Service Planned—Imperial Trade Development.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Aug. 4.—"Canada is much more to the front in the United Kingdom now than ever before," stated the Hon. George E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce on his return to Ottawa today from London. The results of the last election, he added, "the change of government and the great interest these in London, the arrival of the new premier, the fact that Mr. Borden has followed the course of any given emergency she freely and without condition, will do her part to arrive at a solution of the problem in aid of imperial defence in these statements have been approved by the public, so far as I could judge, unanimously, while both parties."

Made His Position Clear. "The premier's position is clear, well defined and open to no doubt. I think that, in that respect, his utterances are appreciated to the full by the British people. The Admiralty and the Imperial defence commission to get information and find out the real condition of things."

"After all that is done the matter will be sifted and considered on this side of the water. Not until then will any definite statement be made. The British people understand that it is a large question which must be considered by the whole cabinet. A lot of stories have been published, but they are all unfounded."

This was all Mr. Foster had to say on the paramount question of the South African and New Zealand vales which has dealt with in November. He returned here in November to attend the sittings of the Imperial trade commission upon which he represents Canada.

Imperial Cable Service. "The minister states that the cable service which is being improved is incidental to the trade agreement and co-operation with the British consular service in the South African and New Zealand vales which has been planned. He holds out little hope for a lowering of insurance rates on the St. Lawrence."

Speaking of the Imperial Trade Commission, Mr. Foster said that the body had organized, had filled the South African and New Zealand vales and had prepared for the statistical work.

"We will begin our hearings in London in October," he said, "and I intend to return there for them. We will be in London till Christmas and in March will start for New Zealand. After New Zealand, Australia will be visited. Whether the inquiry will next be in South Africa or Canada is not yet decided."

"I do not expect to be in Ottawa much during the coming session and negotiations for a trade agreement with Australia will be taken up only when I visit that country with the commission. After the enquiry is finished we will meet in London to prepare our report, but that will not be before 1914."

ANDREW BONAR LAW IS PROUD OF CANADA

Leader of Unionist Party in Great Britain, Former New Brunswicker, Welcomes Dominion's Offer—Endorses Mr. Asquith's Acceptance—The Problem to be Solved.

It will be of interest to the people of New Brunswick to know that the members of the British House of Commons no one more thoroughly appreciates the action of Canada in standing by the Mother Country at this time of emergency than Andrew Bonar Law, the Leader of the Opposition, who is a Canadian, born at Rexton in this Province. Speaking during the course of a recent debate Mr. Law said:

"I spoke earlier of understandings with foreign powers, but the real alliance is within the British Empire. I am a Canadian, and although I have spent most of my life in this country I have still a very warm feeling for Canada, and I am proud to think that not only has the Prime Minister of Canada shown clearly that he is anxious to help us, but that so far as I can gather from the Press reports in Canada with regard to the expressions he has made, they have been received most warmly throughout the whole Dominion. And it is not Canada only. Already there are signs that the same feeling is entertained by our other Dominions."

"I listened with the utmost pleasure to the statement of the Prime Minister the other day that he was ready, whenever the Dominions showed a disposition to share our burden, to share with them the responsibility—and the glory, too, of governing the Empire. He did not express in that his own views only. There is a certain, there will be no party feeling in this country. We all wish it."

"What we need is, to quote the words of the Prime Minister, 'co-operation in peace and war within the Empire itself.' That is the problem—not the problem for British statesmen only or chiefly, but the problem for the statesmen throughout the whole of the Empire. If it is faced with goodwill, with patience, and above all with courage, it is a problem which, in my belief, can be solved, and its solution will be the only security for the continued existence and the continued greatness of the British Empire, and it will also be the best guarantee for the peace of the world."

pressed great satisfaction with the approval of the West Indian legislative council, the Colonial Secretary, the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the Home Secretary. General the question of cable rates between Canada and the islands. The matter is now under examination and will be ready for further conferences on his return to England.

"What of St. Lawrence insurance rates?" he was asked. "That," stated the minister, "was another subject which I discussed with the underwriters and Lloyd's committee. I have not much to say at present, which is to be expected, as the matter is not yet settled. They say it is a matter of keenest competition. Their argument is that the rates should be lowered in proportion to the statistics of collisions and losses. It should not be lowered, but the rates will remain or, possibly, go higher."

Must Improve Conditions. "It is up to the shipping men to see if anything can be done to alleviate the situation. The government will be most sympathetic in any effort that may be put forth to that end. Dealing with the adaptation of the requirements of Canadian trade, the minister had several conferences with the foreign office."

"Matters," he said, "are on the way to a conclusion that will be profitable to our commerce, but it is not possible now to make a definite announcement. While in London I met all the Canadian trade commissioners with whom we had a useful interchange of ideas. Much will depend upon the outcome of the negotiations. I spoke of respecting the consular service."

In conclusion Mr. Foster spoke of the marked change in popular sentiment in the overseas dominions, he remarked, now fully appeals to the people.

"They have shaken themselves clear of the impression of our early weakness and modest beginnings," he said, "and are now looking forward to our future, recognizing our rich fields of development and our increasing prosperity and productivity. Probably no sentiment is more commended or applauded than that of co-operation between the mother land and the overseas dominions."

He recommended a thorough investigation of the charges made, relative to the alleged connection between the police and the gamblers. At the same time he aims a blow straight from the shoulder at the judiciary, declaring that gamblers can exist only because the gamblers can obtain what amounts to protection from the courts and asserting in person a force of the corrupt election work of the political party who place the judiciary on the bench.

While the issuance of this statement was the most important development today, it was reported at police headquarters that detectives were close upon the trail of Lefty Louie and Gyp the Blood Horwitz, the two remaining men sought by the police in connection with the murder. It is now known positively that "Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie" and "Whitey Lewis" were in Tannersville last week. Lewis left the others to go to Fleischman's where he was captured. Horowitz and "Lefty Louie" however, are believed to have remained in Tannersville.

DROWNING ACCIDENT NEAR SHORE

John Hendricks Loses Life in Kennebec-river.

Attempted to Swim Across Stream Near Norton But Went Down Short Distance from Bank—Only Seventeen Years Old.

Special to The Standard. Hampton, Aug. 4.—A very sad accident occurred this morning by which John Hendricks, seventeen years of age, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendricks, of the Parish of Norton, lost his life in the Kennebec-river. Hendricks, accompanied by his younger brother, Reginald, went to the river to bring back a boat which had been taken across yesterday by some farm hands and left on the northern bank. The river is high from the recent rains and the water very cold. John stripped off his clothes and started in to swim to the further bank. He had passed the main current and was within a few yards of the shore when Reginald saw him disappear.

As he did not reappear the lad ran home as fast as possible across the intervening fields and gave the alarm. Mr. Hendricks is an invalid with rheumatism, and the boy was dispatched to the nearest neighbor, Mr. William Stys, and others hastened to the river.

Meantime the alarm had spread to the other side of the river, and John Fowler brought the boat back to this side. Ryder and others returned to the spot indicated by Reginald as that where his brother sank and within a few feet in a hole about ten feet deep, they found the water took it back to the stricken parent, and family.

Dr. Wetmore was summoned, but as two hours had passed from the time of the accident nothing could be done to restore animation. Dr. King also attended, but medical aid was of no avail.

The neighbors on both sides of the river, and many friends from Hampton called through the day to express their sympathy and sorrow.

The deceased was his father's main helper and reliance, and carried much of the burden and responsibility of the farm. Mr. Hendricks has been called to mourn the death of a sister and brother within a year, the latter being buried a week ago last Friday and this morning's fatality comes as a terrible shock to him, as well as to Mrs. Hendricks and the family.

PROGRESSIVES IN HOT WATER FROM THE VERY START

Albany, Aug. 3.—The National Progressive party must accept Col. Roosevelt's doctrine if he is to be its standard bearer. He said tonight on his way to Chicago that he would insist upon making his own platform, to the delegates, before the committee, which is to draft the platform makes its final report, and that he would not accept the nomination on a platform which did not meet his approval.

Colonel Roosevelt's speech was originally scheduled for Monday night. It was suggested to him that the time of its delivery be postponed and he sent word to the convention that he would not consent to a delay until after the draft of the platform had been presented to the convention. His declaration of political faith, he said, is one which will be termed either socialism or anarchy and probably both, but represents his convictions. He goes to Chicago to make these views known, and to receive the presidential nomination only if they are accepted in their substantial provisions by the new party.

PLATFORM WILL BE CALLED SOCIALISM OR ANARCHY, HE SAYS

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 3.—A troublesome world confronted the new born progressive party tonight, at the end of its first day of political responsibility. After an almost continuous session, that lasted from noon today until nearly midnight, the provisional national committee of the new party adjourned weary and worn until 9 o'clock Monday morning.

In the long session the committee had heard arguments on three contests for seats in the convention and had decided one. In that one 12 negroes, contesting the seats of 12 white delegates from Alabama were ruled out. A bitter dispute over the negro-white question in the state of Florida was the cause of the late adjournment after an animated argument that turned out the contestants and the negro delegates and went into executive sessions that were fraught with words and battles.

On Tuesday one of the features will be battles.

MAY DISSOLVE CHAMBER.

Constantinople, Aug. 4.—The cabinet and some held to the view that a joint meeting today and vote for the dissolution of the chamber of deputies, on the ground that the chamber, being a continuation of the previous session, would be dissolved by a vote of no confidence. It is expected that an trade ordering dissolution and new elections within three months will be issued tomorrow.
