Around the City

The Allan Line.
Allan liner Corinthian arrived at London yesterday.

Medical Society Met.
The St. John Medical Society held their first meeting of the season last evening in Bond's restaurant. A banquet was served and a very successful meeting was held. About twenty-five of the local doctors attended.

To Sussex Last Night.
Six men were sent forward to Sussex last evening. They were: Ralph Edward DeWitt, Frank Ostermeyer, Chester G. Whitaker, Albert Kent, Stanley C. Pitt and Fred H. Riley.

Friday Night.
The East End Recruiting Committee will hold a patriotic meeting in the Boy's Club Hall, corner of Union and Waterloo streets, on Friday evening. George A. Kimball will preside. The meeting will take the form of a songster. There will be several good speeches and an elaborate programme has been provided. Some of St. John's best talent will participate and a very enjoyable evening is assured.

Recruiting Meeting.
A meeting was held in Carleton last evening to appoint a recruiting committee which is to carry on a recruiting campaign in Carleton during the coming winter. It is planned to hold at least one meeting a week in aid of recruiting. Captain A. J. Mulcahey was appointed chairman of the committee, and E. R. Taylor secretary, and the following committees were appointed: C. B. Lockhart and Dr. W. L. Ellis, publicity committee; Joseph Stackhouse, hall committee; William C. Smith and S. Herbert Mayes, entertainment committee.

Too! Handles from Canada.
The war has brought a great demand for miscellaneous tools and, on the other hand, has restricted in a large measure the available supplies of wood handles suitable for use in connection with such tools, says this week's bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, in its report of trade conditions in Yorkshire, England. Inquiries for these handles have been frequently made by English dealers, who apparently find much difficulty in securing adequate supplies. It would accordingly be interesting to hear from Canadian firms which make not only handles for picks, shovels and spades, but also for the great variety of the smaller tools of this description.

Havana Prices.
Havana circulars of Oct. 1st report as follows: There are no changes to report on this fish in drums, as the same prices still prevail with a very slack demand in evidence. We quote as follows: Codfish at 7.25c, haddock at 6.25c, and hake at 5.25 cents per pound. The slack demand which was in evidence for canned codfish has not improved and while our quotation for Norwegian cod remains unchanged, superior grades of codfish from the United States declined. We quote Norwegian cod at $11.25 and American cod from $8.00 to $9.25 per case. The market for bladders has continued quiet, but as there are very few stocks, holders have maintained the price and we quote at $1.50 per large box. The active demand for potatoes still continues and holders have been able to better their prices. We quote at $3.25 per barrel, and 2-1/2 cents per pound on those packed in bags.

Silk Waists.
A sort of sensational event will take place at P. A. Dykeman & Co.'s store on Friday morning when they will sell very fine palette silk waists that are worth $3.50 at $2.19. The strange part of it is that notwithstanding the fact that these goods are very popular, and made from silks which are in great demand they will be sold at but a little more than one-half of the regular price. They are shown in a large range of colors, including black and white and can be had in sizes up as high as 44. Be on hand early Friday morning if you wish to get one of these fine waists.

TEN RECRUITS WERE SECURED YESTERDAY

Meeting at Union and Mill street last night—Stirring addresses.

YESTERDAY'S RECRUITS.

During the Day.
Ralph Edward DeWitt, Fredericton, N. B.
Frank Ostermeyer, Eastport, Me. (Canadian Parents).
Stanley C. Pitt, St. John.
Albert Kent, Bristol, England.
Michael Murphy, St. John.
Frank Best, St. John.
Thomas Henry Gibbons, St. John.
At the Meeting.
Robert H. Barry, St. John.
Alphonse Lavigne, St. John.
One other man who enlisted does not want his name published yet.

Last evening's recruiting meeting in the rooms corner of Union and Mill streets was not as well attended as on former occasions, but the results were quite satisfactory. R. O'Brien, editor of the Globe, occupied the chair and the speakers were Rev. Victor Jarvis, of St. John's (Stone) church, A. M. Belding and A. E. McGinley. Mr. McGinley who was the first speaker briefly dealt with the need for men. Britain depended upon voluntary enlistment for recruits for her armies, and the young men of Canada now being asked to serve under the colors were in reality going forth to fight for British liberty, a liberty which among other things gave to men in the British dominions the opportunity to make their choice whether they would or would not fight. If Canada were a German colony this choice would not be offered. Conscription would be in force and the young men would have no voice in the matter.

The men of New Brunswick were in different rather than cowardly. It was not fear that kept them out of the ranks, but a failure to realize the need, and once this realization was brought home to them there would be no scarcity of volunteers.

Rev. Victor Jarvis.
The next speaker, Rev. Victor Jarvis, of St. John's (Stone) church, began by explaining why he was not in khaki. He was filling the vacancy of Rev. Gustav A. Kuhling, chaplain of the 6th Mounted Rifles. His first question was, "What is England saying of Canada?" He replied for England, "You, Canada, have done well, you have given 120,000 of your finest men, but we want more, and if you could give us nearly 300,000 more we would be satisfied you had done your share."

Canada is saying to England that she, Canada, is not a military country and has always looked to England to fight her battles for her. But it is our duty to fight, because Germany wants Canada. She has prepared concrete bases for her guns near our important situations, and erected sheds for the Zeppelins she planned to bring over and attack Valcartier and other places of importance.

"A Holy War!" "What is it. It is a war in which the cause is so good and so right that it lifts us up and sanctions any move we make to protect our rights." Then why wouldn't this be called a Holy War? Are our homes not threatened, and are we not fighting for a just cause? "If Germany should win the light of liberty would go out the whole world over. We should disregard personal safety and should be proud to belong to St. John and its Loyalist ancestors."

A. M. Belding.
A. M. Belding, who has a son now in France with the 6th Mounted Rifles, was the last speaker. He read a letter in which was told the terrific slaughter caused by Zeppelin raids in England. The letter told of a poor house being struck and eighty bodies afterwards were taken to the morgue. Bombs had dropped close to St. Paul's Cathedral and the Bank of England. The raid lasted about three quarters of an hour but no military men were reported killed. Mostly women and children were the victims.

Mr. Belding has just received a letter from his son who says that they are now in France and have just been served with their kit, preparatory to their departure for the front. "If one of our boys falls or is wounded he has a right to expect another to fill his place and many are now calling to us to come and help them defeat the Germans. Should this war end in a draw Germany would immediately begin to collect and re-

Car turned turtle in Marsh Road—Two men pinned under it.

Leonard Phillips and Edward Wetmore had a narrow escape about ten o'clock last night from either being badly injured or killed in an automobile accident on the road near the three mile house. Phillips was driving the car coming towards the city and it is stated that when he turned out to pass a team the wheels skidded and the auto went into the ditch and turned completely over with the two men pinned under it. A number of persons quickly came to the assistance of the party and raised the car so the men could crawl from under it. Phillips was apparently uninjured, and Wetmore escaped with a slight injury to one of his legs. With the assistance of some men the car was righted, pulled up on the road again and the two men drove into the city in it. The automobile was only slightly damaged.

He remarked that a fine battalion of brave men could be picked from those walking the streets in the evening and he regretted deeply the position his age had placed him in. Let every man show his interest and then if he has a reason for not enlisting let him say it.
The meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem.

TELEGRAPH MESSENGERS OUT ON STRIKE

C.P.R. Boys want more pay—Office staff kept busy last night.

There was plenty of excitement among the C. P. R. Telegraph Company messengers yesterday afternoon and last evening when seven of the nine boys went out on strike. The two who remained on the job took no heed of the others when the word "Scab" was called after them, but plugged along and with the assistance of some of the office staff business went along as usual. There was no rioting and it was not found necessary to call out the police. One of the strikers last night stated that the whole trouble arose when they requested the manager to pay them a rate of two cents a trip instead of one cent when carrying press despatches to the evening papers. The request was not granted so they stopped work. The strike was called on at three o'clock yesterday afternoon and was still on last night. Three boys, however, were carrying the telegrams last night and if the old hands do not return to work at the old rate this morning new boys will probably be employed.

A STRONG APPEAL FOR ASSISTANCE

Red Cross will make Empire-wide plea for funds for work.

At a meeting of the Provincial Red Cross Society, held in the Mayor's office last night the following telegram, received by His Honor Lieut. Governor Wood, was read: "I beg to inform you that the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John, in view of the great demand upon their resources, both in France and the near East, have decided to make an appeal throughout the Empire by street and other collections, upon the 21st day of October next. The money received from this appeal to be devoted entirely to relieving the sufferings of our wounded soldiers and sailors from home and overseas. We are grateful to you if you will help us by organizing an appeal and sending the proceeds to us for the objects I have named. I will be greatly obliged if you will kindly communicate the foregoing to your government. Their Majesties the King and Queen and Her Majesty Queen Alexandra are giving us their gracious patronage and I trust you will be able to see your way to help."

Signed, Lansdowne, President British Red Cross Society, 83 Pall Mall, London.
The Provincial Society decided to communicate with all the organizations throughout the province to get them to convene and see what can be done to get this matter underway.
