

Social Notes of the Week

Socially the week has been a quiet one, due, no doubt, to patriotic activities, which in these busy times eclipse in a large measure social functions of less importance. The efforts of the Great War Veterans, on Saturday last, were crowned with success, and although the weather was not at its best, large crowds visited the grounds at Grand Bay, and helped make the fair a success, from a point of enjoyment as well as financially. The event of this week was undoubtedly the fete on Wednesday at Rotherhay, under the auspices of the Rotherhay Red Cross, on the grounds of the Hon. William Pugsley. The weather was ideal, and during the day large crowds went from the city to enjoy themselves and incidentally to help a worthy cause. Among those from St. John who patronized the fair were: His Worship Mayor Hayes and Mrs. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. George Kimball, Miss Kimball, Miss Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Macneil, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lockhart, Miss Lockhart, Mrs. F. L. Kenney, Miss Kenney, Mrs. Frank White, Mrs. Andrew Rennie, Mrs. C. J. R. News of the death of Lt. Col. T. Dyson Walker, M.D., at Boston, on Sunday last, was heard in St. John with sincere regret. Dr. Walker has always been a prominent figure in the community and his loss will be keenly felt by citizens in all walks of life. To the bereaved family much sympathy is extended.

The deepest sympathy of the community goes out to Dr. P. R. Inches and the members of his family in the great bereavement which has come to them in the death of Mrs. Inches. A woman of unselfish character, prominent in the life of this city, Mrs. Inches was beloved by all who knew her and her death has created a feeling of deep sorrow. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from St. Andrew's church.

Rotherhay, July 27.—The "Red Cross" fete which took place Wednesday afternoon and evening was a great success in every way. First of all, the weather was glorious all day. William Pugsley and Mrs. Pugsley, had been graciously loaned for the occasion and besides the fine old trees and extensive lawns so admirably suited for such a function, the situation was perfect being between two roads, and opposite the railway station and having three entrances, made it central for all. During the morning everybody was busy in the different departments, stalls were being built and decorated, flags strung about the grounds and electric wires for lighting placed in position by Messrs. Hiram and Stanley Webb. Everything was ready at noon and a charming picture it was. Mrs. Pugsley had allowed the use of her kitchen and cellar, so that hot tea and coffee, and cool salads were easily available. Near by was the serving maquette, also a long table where Mrs. A. W. Daniel, Mrs. D. Carleton Clinch, Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, Mrs. Pugsley, Miss Edith Gilbert and Mrs. Fred Peters poured. Tea was served at small tables during the afternoon and after 5.30 salads, bottles and cream were added to the menu. While there was quite a rush, everything went on like clock work thanks to arrangements made before hand by the committees. Mrs. W. Malcolm Mackay and Miss Alice Davidson were at the head of this department. The booths on the front lawn had other members of the committee in charge. Mrs. W. Daniel, Mrs. Harry Gilbert, Miss Donville, Miss Dorothy Purdy, Mrs. J. H. Henderson, Mrs. McKee, Miss Kate Coffey, Mrs. Daniel, Miss Nan Fairweather, Mrs. J. R. Miller each having their own "bit" to do. There were also plenty of young people to serve. Among whom were Misses Annie and Mary Armstrong, Edith and Helen Cudlip, Hazel and Gladys Gibbon, Irene McArthur, Catherine Wilson, Annie Dobson, Helen and Sue Cleveland, Mary bin, Helen and Edith Florence Gilbert, Lillie Raymond, Doris Sayer, Frances and Mignon Kerr, Beatrice Penney, Catherine McAvity, Alice Fairweather, Laura Robinson and others. Mrs. A. W. MacMackin and Mrs. J. R. Robertson had charge of the berries. Mrs. Harry Price, Mrs. Leonard and Miss Celia Armstrong, Mrs. W. S. Allison, Mrs. J. M. Robinson and Mrs. Roydon Thompson the ice cream. The booths on the lawn were very pretty and arranged in the following order: Book table dark green cover with large Red Cross on the front. Next Mrs. Rupert Turnbull, Mrs. J. Bright Cudlip and Mrs. R. Downing Patterson were kept busy. Next this was the "post office" in charge of Mrs. Hibbard, Mrs. Harry Puddington, Miss Hopper, Mrs. Kenneth Forbes, Miss Muriel Robertson, Miss Gertrude Davidson, Mrs. John Davidson. This booth was exceedingly artistic being in Japanese style. Covered with matting, with a huge brightly colored umbrella for a roof and strings of many Japanese lanterns the effect was very pleasing, the frame work was of bamboo, and although so very pretty in the sunlight it was equally charming when the electric lights were on in the evening. Through the interest of Mrs. Puddington a professional from N. B. A. Ltd. came from the city and superintended the work. Here parcels of different values were handed out to those who called for "parcel post packages" and paid the fee. The third booth was the "candy booth," always a popular corner. Mrs. Daniel Mullin, Mrs. Walter Gilbert, Mrs. John Sayer and Mrs. Sparham presided over the sweets, under a very "fashionable" roof of red, white and blue, beautifully arranged. After this the space occupied by the booths was greatly adorned, flowers, large small and medium, cut, potted and tied up in French nose says. It was certainly a very attractive spot, supervised by Miss Fitcher. Miss Sophie Robertson, Miss Muriel Fairweather and Miss Alice Mackean. A tent decorated with the tricolor and flags was a great convenience on a warm day as here coats, umbrellas, parcels, etc. could be checked and left till called for. On the front of this booth the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes floated together. Those in charge were Mrs. Richmond Dooce and Misses Thomson. A "wheel of this" booth the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes floated together. Those in charge were Mrs. Richmond Dooce and Misses Thomson.
