

deep, no sin so black, but that there are men and women who can be found to invest themselves and their money in its propagation.

There are at least five vices characteristic of modern civilization which have been commercialized and are causing untold havoc among multitudes in all classes of society. These five "MASTER EVILS" are entrenched in Montreal, so much so, that some social experts have declared that our city is "the rottenest city on the continent."