Are Met at Wharf or Depot

Strangers arriving in the city late or early, by boat or train, are met at the wharf or depot by courteous and well-trained porters, and conveyed to the hotel in the finest busses that money can provide absolutely free of charge. Thus the guests are saved much worry and inconvenience, as well as expense.

When Legislature Is in Session

The Dominion is regarded as the tourists' and travellers' home. When the Legislature is in session the Hotel is a rendezvous for the members, as it seems to be parliamentary headquarters.

Considering the character of the hotel, the many attractions offered and the liberal plan on which it is conducted, the rates will be found to be particularly attractive.
