

GENTLEMEN:—

In preparing this second edition it has appeared to me that the Profession would obtain greater satisfaction from an arrangement whereby the reference to the older ordinances is left as it appeared in the first edition rather than, where such ordinances have been superseded by later legislation, dropping the earlier reference in favour of the later. This method has led to a double citation in many instances, but I trust it may prove more efficient for ready reference than would the briefer method.

E.M.

Morse, Sask., June 26th, 1912.