A LESSON IN GRACE.

"Strength at the Center and Prec-dom at the Extremities.

"Grace," says a young woman who devotes much of her time to coaching fashionable folk in the art, "is not so much a heaven born blessing as it is a matter of hard, persistent work. Not every one is the possessor of a pretty face nor great riches, which, like charity, cover a multitude of deficiencies, but most of us can do something in the way of improving the faure and can way of improving the figure and can learn to move a bit more gracefully— not at a single bound, but with hard, persistent work and close attention to details and constant practice of correct movements."

There is much less of the "fad" idea and more practical common sense in the foundation principle of Delsarte's method than is to be found in a whole volume of certain physical culture gib-berish, say the experts.

"Strength at the center and freedom at the extremities," reads this law, and there is the secret of that illusive, bafthere is the secret of that illusive, baf-fling, fascinating charm called "grace." Move the arms, the feet, the head and allew the rest of the body to remain reasonably motionless—motionless, but not rigid. Freedom does not mean "laxity." but "directed ease." It may be acquired only by making "easy mo-tion" a habit.

tion" a habit.

Hold the arms bent at the elbows, close to the sides. Drop the hands from the wrists and then with as little effort as possible shake them. This starts the circulation. Now, holding the body firm at the waist line, rotate torso, head, arms. Here you have the rudiments of the aforesald young woman's "lesson in grace."—New York Mail.

HEALTHFUL HOSIERY.

Steckings Should Never Be Worn Unless Theroughly Washed.

No matter how pretty a stocking loeks, it should never be worn until it has been theroughly washed. This may seem everparticular to many, but the dye used to color some hosiery contains a certain element that is poisoneus to some persons and, entering the akin through a slight abrasion, will frequently cause serious trouble. Red quently cause serious trouble. Red stockings are the most likely to be in-furious.

Another thing to guard against is the stocking that is too short. One of the greatest causes of bunions is the stocking that does not give the toes sufficient room. Light as the pressure is, it is yet so steady as to cause this painful condition of the joints. After putting the stocking on it should be pulled out from the toes to give them greater. from the toes to give them greater freedom and incidentally prevent the stockings from wearing out.

A stocking should not be too long, however. If it is it will surely wrinkle and cause the foot to blister. A good plan is to have the stocking half an inch longer than the foot measurement. mest, this length being sufficient to give the foot perfect freedom and yet rut no risk of hurting it in any way.

LAUNDRY LINES.

For ironing days a fire of cinders is

When washing silk waists always iron them upon the wrong side. Mildewed linen should be soaked for several hours in buttermilk and then washed in the usual way.

Three ounces of borax and two pounds of eliced white bar soap dissolved in two quarts of hot water will make a splendid lather for washing clothes Never launder table linen when stained until an attempt has been made to remove the spots, as it is almost im-possible to efface any discoloration after the cloth has been submerged in soapy water. To wash white lace boil some rice to a pulp and, having diluted this with water, wash the lace in it. Rinse in a fresh supply of rice water and then water, wash the lace water and then fresh supply of rice water and then pin sut to dry. This method of cleansing lace makes it a good color and just stiff enough.

Sun Parlor For Eaby.

Sunning the baby is the latest thing in baby culture. No household is too poor to possess one of these patent adjustable sun parlors.

They are made of some kind of hard wood and built by the carpenter to extend beyond the window. The top and sides of the little platform are covered with glass, and strips of carpet are laked on the floor to stop up any cracks there may be. No matter how fercely the winds may blow or how low the thermometer may sink, the sun parlor is always ready for the baby.

A pillow is placed on the carpeted ways ready for the baby.

A pillow is placed on the carpeted floor; then the baby is warmly dressed and well covered for its morning or afternoon nap. Mothers who have tried this method of sunning the baby are boasting of the gain in weight and health and have the proud satisfaction of knowing they are strictly up to date.

A Soup Hist.

All the tedious skimming and straining of soup can be avoided if one takes the precaution to put in a small unpeeled onion at the very start and permit it to remain until one is ready to thicken the soup. When lifted out, it will be found that this vegetable has served as a magnet to draw to itself all the foating sediment, leaving the brothas clear as crystal, yet in nowise impairing its nourishing quality.

To prevent lamp chimneys from cracking wrap each chimney loosely but entirely in a cloth; place them together in a kettle and cover with cold water. Bring the water to a boil, continue the heat ten or fifteen minutes and then cool off. By this tempering they are toughened against all ordinary lamp heat.

Exercise and Grecian Beauty

Exercise and Grecian Beauty.

Many thousands of women are now-adays paying attention to physical culture and the proper exercise of their body muscles, where, thirty years ago or fifty years ago there was no thought expended on this science, which is quite necessary to physical beauty. The reason the Greeks, both men and women, excelled in beautiful and symmetrical forms was because of the attention they paid to the proper exercise. Then, too, they were untrammeled by corsets, shoes and the inconveniences of clothing. To the minds of some women the idea of physical exercise conveys only the idea of hard fatiguing work. Mild exercise continued day after day is best for the body and spirits and health. Without proper exercise there can be no health, and without health there can be no real beauty. There is no stronger proof of the sound remedial value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription than that it restores the wasted form to its wonted roundness. Alcoholic or narcotic medicine will make one "feel good" for a time, the one by stimulating, the other by stupelying the nervous system. But there is no real gain. "Favorite Prescription" tranquilless the nerves by feeding them, and builds up the body by nourishing it.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy, Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

EAR OF DIONY-IUS.

One of the Famous Whispering Places of the World. of the World.

Among the notable whispering places of the world is the "Ear of Dionysius" of ancient Syracuse. It is in the shape of a parabolic curve, ending in an elliptical arch, with sides parallel to its axis, perfectly smooth and covered with a slight stalactitic incrustation that renders its repercussions amazingly sonorous. It is 64 feet high, from 17 to 35 in breadth and 187 deep. It has an awful and gloomy appearance, which, with its singular shape. ance, which, with its singular shape, perhaps gave rise to the popular and amusing paradox that Dionysius had it constructed for the confinement of those whom he deemed inimical to his authority and that from the little apartment above he could hear all the conversation among the captives who were brought to the ancient town of Syracuse in the time of its splendor, when it was the largest in Sicily. The sound of words uttered with a low voice is augmented in vaults or gal-eries so as to become audible at a considerable distance from the speaker.

A like effect takes place in a less dea fixe effect takes place in a less degree when sound ascends from the bottom of a deep well or when words are uttered at one extremity of a long corridor or passage in a building. If a pin be dropped into a well the sound produced when it strikes the water is distinctly heard of the mouth of the distinctly heard at the mouth or the sounds of words spoken near the surface of any well is similarly augmented. A FAMOUS STAR GROUP.

The Constellation Orion In Legend and Literature.

The constellation Orion is mentioned in the literature of all ages. In Egypt it represented Horus, the young or ris-ing sun, in a boat surmounted by stars, closely followed by Sirius, which was shown as a cow. It has also been found sculptured on the walls of Thebes 5,000 years ago. And on the men of that early time it shone down from the same position and with the same brightness as it does on us today, a striking example of the unchangeableness of the heavens.

From the days of the early Hindoos to the present the constellation has for some reason borne always a stormy character. Allusions to its direful influence are found everywhere among the classic writers. Thus Milton wrote:

When with fierce winds Orion arrived Hath wexed the Red sea coast. The loss of the Roman squadron in he first Punic war was ascribed to the eets having sailed just after the rising of Orion. The group has also been employed as a calendar sign, its morn-ing rising indicating the beginning of summer, its midnight rising the season of grape gathering and its early evening rising the arrival of winter, with tts attendant storms. In recent times the group has always represented a great hunter or warrior. Its present title came into Greek astronomy from the Euphrates and originally signified the light of heaven.

Fig Sunday.

Palm Sunday is known in England as Fig Sunday because in many districts figs are freely eaten on that day Tue custom is common in the villages of Bedford, Bucks, Hertford and Northampton and is found in some parts of north Wales. As Palm Sunday approaches the shop windows of Dunetable are filled with figs in readiness for the crowds who go to the top of Denstable downs to regale themselves on that day. At Kempton, in Hertford-shire, to "keep warsel" is to feast on figs or fig puddings with your friends on Palm Sunday. Fig Sunday is probably connected with the story of the one of the lessons for the day.-London

Bishop Brooks' Joke.

Some years ago Bishop Phillips Brooks was recovering from an illness and was denying himself to all visitors when Robert Ingersoil called. The bishop received him at once. "I appreciate this very much," said Mr. Ingersoil, "but why do you see me when you deny yourself to your friends?" "It is this way," said the bishop. "I feel confident of seeing my friends in the next world, but this may be my last chance of seeing you."

THE BELTED PLAID.

This Was the Original Dress of the Scottish Highlander.

The original dress of the highlander was the belted plaid. This was a piece of tartan cloth, two yards broad and four long, which was drawn around the waist in nicely adjusted folds and tightly buckled with a belt. The lower part came down to the knees in much the same manner as the modern kilt, while the upper part was drawn up and adjusted to the left shoulder, so that the right arm might be perfectly free. This upper part was the plaid, which was used as a covering for the shoulders and body in wet weather, and when the use of both arms was required it was fastened across the breast with a brooch, often curiously enriched. A brooch was also used to fasten the plaid on the left shoulder. To attire himself in the belt-ed plaid required on the part of the highlander no small amount of dexterity. The usual way was to lay it on the floor and after carefully arranging the folds to lie down upon it and then the folds to lie down upon it and then buckle it on. The lower end was fas-tened at the right hip. The utility of such a dress in the highlands is ob-vious, for the plaid rendered the man indifferent to storms and prepared to pass a night in the open air in the most inclement weather, while the loose undergarment enabled him to wade rivers or ascend mountains with equal ease. It was thus peculiarly adapted to the warrior, the hunter and the shepherd.—London Mail.
