Mr. Trevelyan has admitted that a large num-ber (hundreds, we believe) of the poor people lay down on the roadside, as they refused to go to the workhouse, which they abhor. The landlords who did these things must be hard-hearted men. Poor Burns' exclamation rushes to our mind : 100 her because the will ward source the drift of the English policy, and dis-solving belief in the friendly sentiments of the English for their German cousins. ## Catholic Picnic at Bothwell.

CATHOLIC FRESS. London Universe. Is it lawful to defend the Catholic Church against aspersions? This is the sum and substance of the question lately submitted to the petty jury of Dusseldorf, in connection with a trail for slander. A man of the name of Kuien, the pro-prietor of a kind of music-hall in that city, had allowed certain performances to take place in which the Jesuits were ridiculed and a quantity of mud was cast on several of the institutions of the Cath-olic Church. The Dusseldorfer Volksblatt, a Catholic journal, thereupon published an article in which it was said that the pro-prietor of a licensed place of amusement had no right to allow scandalous perform-ances of this sort to be held, and thus to wound the feelings of a large portion of the population. Herr Knien had the hardtheod to lay a criminal information against Dr. Hurgen, the editor of the prosecution, intimatel that they were satisfied and did not want to hear the defence, and they at once acquitted Dr. Calhoile Pichle at Bothwell. A grand union pichic will be held in Bothwell on Thursday, September 4th. Sir John A. Macdonald and the Hon. E. Blake are both expected to be present. The band of the 7th Fusiliers, of London, will be in attendance, and excursion trains will be run from Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Windsor, Chatham and all way stations. Return tickets to Bothwell will be sold at the following rates: Windsor and Detroit, Soc.; Belle River, Stony Point and Chat-ham, 40c.; St. Thomas, Woodstock, Inger-soll and London, only 75c. Athletic sports, grand music and eloquent speaking will be the order of the day. This promises to be the best picnic ever held in Bothwell, and ample accommodation will be made for thousands.

No matter how cleverly the designs are masked, or how innocently they may be shoved for-ward, his eagle eye is sure to penetrate the covering, and his unerring judgment at once detects their true character. He has foiled every attempt of the kind designa-ted, and by his adroit manipulations of the means at his disposal has made the recoil more damaging to the stealthy assailants than the assault and more hurtful to the interests against which they were concoc-ted. The Irish people cannot be too grate-ful to this accompliable leader, and should be loth to question his motives when malcontents would throw doubt upon them, but give him their generous support and moral encouragement upon the palpable evidences of his proved fidelity.
