HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may however be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Faith is the power by which the soul chooses and makes its own world, out of the world which clamorously asserts its right to be heard.—The Bishop of Manchester.

On the 12th January the Rev. F. L. Boyd, who has been for nearly a quarter of a century vicar of St. Alban's, Teddington, near London, took leave of his parishioners. The results of that work have been of so unique a character that they claim something wider than local interest. When Mr. Boyd took charge of the parish, he came there from St. Peter's, Eaton Square, where he had served a curacy under the late Primus of Scotland, who was at that time vicar of that church, he found a devoted but small band of workers; he has left an army of men, women and boys, probably unequalled in number and devotion by any other parish in England. The choristers and acolytes alone numbered close upon one hundred. Mr. Boyd came to a parish church of the most minute dimensions, he has left a church of the dimensions of a cathedral, probably unsurpassed in size and beauty by any modern church in England. He came to a reverent but plain and ordinary type of service; he has left the realization of an ideal which a well-known Bishop expressed his desire to see taken as a pattern by the whole of the Thames Valley. Perhaps the leading feature of Mr. Boyd's ministry has been his preaching of the Word. Thousands can bear testimony to the inspiration which Mr. Boyd's words have been to their religious life, indeed the number of those who have been brought under his influence during the past twenty-three years can only be described in one way, namely, that their name is Legion. He preached at both the morning and evening services and the church was filled to overflowing on both occasions, notably so in the evening, when not only was every seat occupied but hundreds of people were standing all down the side and centre aisles and in the ambulatory. The choir numbered one hundred, many among them and in the chancel being those who had worked with Mr. Boyd in the early days of his vicariate and who had long since left the neighbourhood. None who were present at that service will ever forget that scene. No one can doubt but that God has most manifestly and greatly blessed Mr. Boyd in his work at St. Alban's.
