Burt the Druggist's old stand. 0000000000000 London, June 14.—The war office issues the following report from Lord Roberts under date of Pretoria,

BOERS

"The enemy evacuated their strong "The enemy evacuated their strong position during the night and have retired to the eastward. Buller's force and mine have afforded each other mutual assistance. Our occupation of Pretoria caused numbers of Boers to withdraw from Laing's nek, and Buller's advance to Volksrust made them feel their rear would be shortly endangered."

Roberts earlier in the day reported as follows:

Roberts' Front,

as follows: as follows:

"Methuen advanced to Honingspruit yesterday and found all quiet. Kroonstadt is strongly held. Methuen returned to-day to Rhenoster. River, where the railway is being repaired.

We were engaged all yesterday with Botha's army. The enemy fought with considerable determination and held our cavalry on both flanks; but lan Hamilton, assisted by the Guards brigade of Pole-Carew's division, push-ing forward took the hill in his front, which caused the enemy to fall back on their second position to the eastward. This they are still holding. It is slightly higher than the one we have captured. Gen; Dartnell marched through Laing's nek June 13, Wednesday, on his way to Charlestown. The press despatches say Charlestown was partially destroyed previous to its evacuation by the Boers, but that no damage was done at Volksrust.

The Daily Express' correspondent telegraphs from Machadodorp, 140 miles east of Pretoria, under date of June 10, in connection with the capture and destruction by the Boer general, De Wet, of 3,000 suits of clothing: "We have yet to receive a single refusal," said the board of works chairman to this journal, "and I believe there will be little difficulty in securing sufficient signatures to warrant proceeding with the work at the

"The British soldiers complain much of "The British soldiers complain much of cold. There is much suffering among them and the hospitals are full of sick and exhausted The sickness among the horses, too, is increased, thousands of animals having succumbed at Kroonstad on the road from Bloemfontein to Pretoria" The Mayor and Ald. McKeough are more than pleased with their reception by the King street property owners. They have not met with one refusal so far, and expect easily to secure the necessary half of the property owners who they treet. The following have so

Judge Did Not Think it Possible For a Jury

To Get at the Bottom of This Horse Deal-Case of Alleged Grain Stealing Now on.

Yesterday afternoon at the county court the charge of alleged horse-stealing against the prisoners, Wilson and Mills, was proceeded with. The case, it appeared, was the result of a horse trading transaction with one Chas E. Smith, the complainant in with one Chas. E. Smith, the complainant in the present action. The evidence was very contradictory and after listening to a portion of it, the judge stayed the proceedings, stating that the crown would never secure a conviction on the evidence submitted, and discharged the accused H. crown attorney, O. L. Lewis will conduct the prosecution and J. B. Rankin, Q. C., the defence.

The case of Queen vs. Ellis was then proceeded with.

Andrew McAgy corroborated the evidence of his father as to the loss of the seed and the finding of it at Stacey's place. Witness always carried the key of the granery in his pocket. Stacey had been in the granery and knew the seed was in it. Stacey said when they were looking together for the missing seed at his place, "If there is seed here, can't we get it settled up somehow." He did get it settled up somehow." I not mention Eliis' name then.

not mention Ellis' name then.

Constable Peters testified to finding tracks leading from McAlgy's granery to Stacey's, Geo. Stacey's foot fitted them exactly. He arrested Stacey, and took him to Dresden.

To Mr. Fraser, who conducted the defense, he said when he searched Ellis' place, the prisoner offered every ussistance.

For the defence the prisoner, Robt, Ellis, testified that he had lived in Camden all his life. Was married and the father of three children. He was arrested Wednesday and taken to Dresden, where he met Stacey in jail Dresden, where he met Stacey in jahr in the presence of Chief Gonyou. Wit-ness asked him why he told such stuff about him, and Stacey said because he helped him to take the grain from Mc-Algy's on Tuesday at noon. Witness bought seed from McAlgy every spring for four years. He was at home on the nights of the 3rd and 4th of April the nights of the 3rd and at 1 or April and contradicted Stacey wherever it incriminated himself.

Chief Gonyou corroborated the prisoner's evidence as to the conversation at the police cells and Myles Ellis, brother, Verona Ellis, wife, and Isaac Healy, employer, as to his where-
