Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Woodman and their daughter Hazel left on Wednesday morning for Washington, D. C., where the latter is to be principal in an interesting event. Miss Woodman's many friends wish her much happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Woodman intend visiting Niagara Falls before their return by way of the Thousand Islands.

Don't expect efficiency from someone else's ideas. A record-breaking machine from an unknown source may develop organic weakness which you cannot overcome even with expensive repair bills. Why not get guaranteed Remington or Smith Premier typewriter at first.

A MILNE WRITER. Halifax, N. S.

The Morning Chronicle subscription contest, which has been going on for some weeks with increasing interest, is nearing its end. One of the contestants, who has good prospect of success, is Mr. Brigthon #1, of the Wolfville post-office staff. Mr. Fielding is putting up a stiff fight and deserves all the help that can be given him. THE ACADIAN would call upon all friends in the vicinity to give him a boost. In order that one of the best prizes may go to him.

Petroleum Coke, best fuel on the market—no ash no smoke. A. M. Winslow.

Mr. F. L. Fuller, of Truro, Superintendent of Agricultural Societies in Nova Scotia, was seriously injured on Saturday last and is now in hospital in Truro. He was riding in his auto from the College to the Experimental Farm, when, through some imperfection of the steering gear, the auto crashed into a tree and then rolled down a bank. Mr. Fuller is a native of Hortonville, and many warm friends here regret very much his misfortune.

Why Treat?

DEAR SIR,—I beg your permission to say to your correspondent, Marjorie Brown, that I read her article with much pleasure, for it shows that the Scout movement has been the success it was meant to be. And so as not to get away any further from the subject treated by the broadcaster and kindly editor, I would like to ask the question of some one in authority, as the Scout Master of Wolfville, (Mr. Percy Brown, I believe), is it desirable for the best interests of the Scout movement to treat? I have before me an enlarged edition of the Scout book, 'Scouting for Boys,' by the friend of boys, Lieut. General Baden Powell, where on page 215 he has an article on 'Tips' wherein he says: 'Tips are a very bad thing. They put you on a wrong footing with every one. It is sometimes very difficult to refuse, but for a Scout it is easy. He has only to say, 'Thank you very much. I am a Scout and our rules don't allow us to accept anything for doing a good turn. All Scouts work for another should be done in a friendly way', and so on. There are only half a dozen paragraphs but they are well worth reading. Now I cannot see much difference between tips and treats. I mean as to the general principle of the thing. When a Scout waits upon the band master and agrees with him that the Boy Scout band for the sum of $5.00 and transportation—both ways shall furnish music for the evening, and that after supper has been partaken of in their houses I cannot see why it should be thought necessary to receive the extra treat of ice cream or strawberries and cream. When it has been pointed out to me that those boys belong to the best families of the town of Wolfville, for that very reason if for no other, I surely would expect the boys themselves to say, 'Certainly not. I am quite capable of buying my own treats.' Certainly if not paid for their services a treat would be in place. However, as I am a stranger to many of the people of Wolfville as well as to the lady writer of the last article, I may also be a stranger to what is best for the interests of the Boy Scout movement, or to the best interests of boys in general, and am willing to be set right; but I do not wish to see good material spoiled in the making. Yours for the principle of the thing, EDWIN L. SUTTON, Church St., Cornwallis.

A Word to The Wise is Sufficient!

The season has arrived when we must begin to pack and market the 1918 apple crop, and, facing that fact, we are reminded that the 'Inspection and Sale Act' has been considerably changed. Amendments have been introduced, and additions made, which must certainly tend to further elevate the standard of Canadian apples, as well as of all other kinds of fruit.

One very important feature of the Act, as now amended, is the change in the size of the apple barrel and apple box. All apple barrels used in Canada, on and after the first day of June, 1918, must be 26 inches between heads, 17 1/2 inches in the head, these are inside measurements, and 64 inches circumference at the bilge, representing as nearly as possible seven thousand and fifty-six cubic inches. The apple box must be 18 inches in length, 11 1/2 inches wide, and to 12 inches deep, inside measurement, representing as nearly as possible two thousand, one hundred and seventy-four cubic inches. Manufacturers of barrels and boxes are given until June 1, 1919 to use up their old stock.

Another important feature of the 'Inspection and Sale Act' is the introduction of Potato Grades. No 1 and No. 2 I will not deal with this part of the Act here, but will strongly advise every farmer to get a copy of the New Regulations and Amendments to the 'Inspection and Sale Act'.

It is expected that our apples will be graded and packed fully up to the standard this season, and large ones are instructed to be very particular, and allow no fruit to pass unless it measures fully up to the Grade marked upon it. We cannot afford to put our fruit on the market in even ordinary condition; it must be first class. If any person fails to receive a copy of the Act, I will be glad to send him one, if he will let me know.

Yours truly, G. H. VACON, Chief Fruit Inspector, Middelton, N. S., August 2nd, 1918.

Save Food. In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food. It is not how much you eat, but how much you assimilate, that does you good. The addition of a small teaspoonful of Bovril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation and thus saves food, for you need less.

Notice. The Provincial Highway Tax and Patriotic Fund are now over due and all who have not paid please do so at once. H. Y. Bishop, TOWN CLERK.
