Foretells Death by Sense of Smell. There's an old superstition that a howling dog in front of the house of an ill person portends death. One ominent physician believes absolutey in it. This physician has a wonderfully acute sense of smell. Frequenthe says, he can foretell the coming of death within forty-eight hours of a patient's demise. Within two days of death, he says, a peculiar earthy odor necomes noticeable about a person about to die. He tells of one case where he became aware of the peculiar odor while talking to an apparently healthy man. That night the man dropped dead of heart disease. The physician is far from attributing the peculiar manifestation to other
