Danish University Must First See North Pole Records.

Refuses to Comply With Request of American Society.

Names of Men Who Will Pass on North Pole Dispute.

Copenhagen, Oct. 20.—The University of Copenhagen has declined to forego its privilege to the first examination of the North Pole records of Dr. Cook. The authorities of the university today cabled to the National Geographic Society at Washington as follows: "Sorry, University not able to comply with your request."

Dr. Cook had promised to first submit his records to the faculty of the university here, but on Oct. 15 the university was requested to waive its claim of priority in favor of the National Geographic Society, which sought an early determination of the controversy which has arisen as a result of Commander Peary's charge that Dr. Cook did not discover the North Pole.

Dr. J. Howard Gore was formerly professor of mathematics in George Washington University. He is the author of works on geodesy and geography.

FOR PUBLIC.

That is Why City Wants Patent of Water Front.

(Special Wire to the Times.)
Toronto, Oct. 20.—A deputation consisting of His Worship Mayor McLaren, of Hamilton, accompanied by Aid. Peregrine, of the Finance Committee, Albert Pait and Albert Less, of the Parks Board, and H. Harbord, of the Trades and Labor Council, called on Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, this morning, with reference to the Freed property, fronting on the bay. The question of the patents to the waterfront was discussed. "We do not care who controls the property," Mayor McLaren told the Minister. "What we want is that it shall be left open for the public for bathing and park purposes. We told the Minister that we wanted the property to be of value to the poor man with a large family—the man who cannot afford to build a house at the beach." The Minister was very much pleased with the proposal, but wanted it distinctly understood that it should be an absolutely free public park, available not only to Hamilton, but to all points. He promised every assistance in his power to further the carrying out of the plan.

In conversation with the Times one of the deputation said that the Council could now go ahead with the preparation of a plan which would result in the establishment of a park like Toronto Island, open for picnic purposes to any body which might choose to use it.

been foreman at the city quarry, has resigned. His successor is W. Niblock.

The Waterworks sub-committee this afternoon is putting the finishing touches on the new waterworks by-law, which will be submitted to the Fire and Water Committee at its next meeting.

Traction Manager Coleman has returned to the city, and the Street Railway Committee is having a conference with him this afternoon about the reconstruction work for next year.

The City Engineer and Secretary Breunman had a conference yesterday afternoon with Inspector Postlewaite, of the Provincial Secretary's Department, about the west end sewer. Mr. Postlewaite intimated that the Government might install its own plant rather than contribute any big amount towards the cost of the city's new plant. The city's contention is that if it had to drain only the rough surface on the mountain top, instead of the Asylum, the present sewer would be large enough.

The following permits were issued to-day:
William Wark, brick house on Berris street, between Main street and Delaware avenue, $2,500.

William Baxter, brick house on Sophia street, between King and Main streets, $2,000.

NEW ROOMS.

Italian Gospel Mission Meeting In Orange Hall.

The Italian gospel mission, which is being carried on by Mr. Mgrotti, in connection with the Stuart street Y. W. C. A. work, has found more central quarters at the Orange Hall, 477 James street north. Mr. Mgrotti is receiving much encouragement in his work through a band of efficient workers from MacNab Street and St. Paul's Churches, who conduct English classes twice a week, also supplying the organist for the Sunday services.

A number of the men are very enthusiastic for evangelistic open air work, holding meetings near the homes of their own countrymen. As an aid to this feature of the work a committee has been appointed under Mr. Frank Bishop to see about purchasing instruments, with the object of forming a brass band. Mr. A. Granger has been secured as teacher, and the prospect of success is hopeful.

The oversight of the work is under a committee appointed from the MacNab Street Church session. Mr. Macdonald, a member of the above church, has been appointed treasurer, pending the consideration of the report by the Presbytery early in November.

Mr. Lindsay, secretary of the Andrew and Philip Brotherhood, has formed sixteen of the men into a chapter of that organization, the same having professed their faith in Christ.

TURNER TRIAL.

Crowd So Great at Court People Turned Away.

(Special Wire to the Times.)
Toronto, Oct. 20.—It was found necessary by court attendants this morning to grant admission only to those who could produce the necessary papers either as witnesses or jurors, so great was the crowd attracted to the trial of Mrs. Mabel Turner, on a charge of infanticide, being conducted before Justice Magee in the criminal assizes.

As a result a great number of people were disappointed and stood around the corridors outside the court room until they finally decided there was no hope of gaining admittance.

Mrs. Turner appeared in a better mood this morning. Her favorite position in the dock is to lean the elbow of her right arm on the railing, and to support her head by her right hand. The under hand lies on her lap holding a dainty white handkerchief. No signs of nervousness are evident, and if not for the pallor of her face, one would barely imagine that she is on trial for her life.

I. O. G. T. SOCIAL.

Last night the members of Britannia Lodge, I. O. G. T., held their usual weekly meeting in Kennedy's Hall. Two candidates were initiated, and business was adjourned early to allow time for the enjoyment of a Halloween social, under the auspices of the sisters of the lodge.

Campbell, J. Brown, and F. W. Andrews. During the evening a presentation of one of spoons was made to Mrs. F. W. Ambrose, as witness of the ticket-selling competition in connection with the recent concert.

MISS ILLINGTON

Merely Alleges That Daniel Frohman Has Failed to Support Her.

Reno, Nev., Oct. 20.—Margaret Illington to-day filed suit for divorce from Daniel Frohman in the District Court, giving as grounds his failure to provide for her support during the last two years.

The complaint simply recites this and the fact that the plaintiff has lived in Reno more than six months, that there are no children and no community property.

No alimony is demanded.

The actress has been in Reno nearly a year and has gone out only for early morning walks or horseback rides. She has gained flesh and looks very well.

OBITUARY.

Death of Miss Woodhall Was Quite Unexpected.

Miss Emma Jane Woodhall, a well-known and popular young lady, died at her parents' residence yesterday. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodhall, 421 King street east, and was 32 years of age. Although she did not have the best of health for the past few years, her death came very suddenly. She had always been able to tend to her duties. She leaves besides her parents, two brothers, Dr. Frank Woodhall, of Binbrook, and Albert, of this city. They have the sincere sympathy of many friends in their bereavement. The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from her parents' residence to Hamilton Cemetery at 1:45 o'clock.

The death of James Rutherford, the five-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford, of Simcoe, took place last night at the City Hospital. The body was sent to Simcoe this morning.

The funeral of Frances Jefferson Leckenby was held from her parents' residence, 135 Charlton street west, to Hamilton Cemetery at 3:30 this afternoon. It was private, and Rev. D. R. Drummond conducted the services.

MALAPROP HUMOR.

An Admirer's Bungled Flattery—Wrong Psalm to Welcome a Judge.

Most of us are acquainted with Punch's joke concerning the son of the house who, as he gallantly escorted the beauty of the evening to her carriage, gushingly remarked, "I have been waiting all the evening for this moment."

It is an example of bungled flattery which compares very favorably with the remark of an unlucky admirer of the great French actress, Mme. St. Denis. Her performance of Zara had just been greeted with enthusiastic applause, and she stopped the Bishop of Durham's nepotism in the matter of Mr. Cheese. I found she was Mrs. Cheese. And I expatiated to the member for Marylebone, Lord Ferny—generally conceiving him to be an Irish member—on the contemptible character of the Marylebone constituency and Marylebone representatives.

Even these situations, however, are not quite so embarrassing as that of a member of Parliament who at a certain political reception remarked to a neighbor, "I wonder who that hooley old man is that's over there?" pointing out a rather stout lady at the other end of the room.

"That sir," was the reply, "is my wife!" "Oh, no, no!" stammered the confused Parliamentarian. "I mean the person standing on her right!" "Indeed! That is my daughter!"

The first Baron Kenyon was rather fond of telling the story of how, while on Circuit with Justice Rook, they entered a village just in time to accompany the population to the local church. The parish clerk, anxious to help the congregation show due appreciation of the honor conferred by the presence of the distinguished jurists, gave out two verses of one of the metrical Psalms: "Speak, O ye judges of the earth, if just your sentence be; or must not innocence appeal to Heaven from your decrees? Your wicked hearts and judgments are alike by malice swayed; your gripping bands by mighty bribes to violence betrayed."

By this time most of the adults had woken up to the application of the Psalm and remained silent, allowing the children and a few women to continue the second verse.—From Tit-Bits.
