Free Postage.

In his report dealing with the excess of expenditure over revenue, the Postmaster General takes exception to the franking of letters by Government Departments and certain non-departments. With regard to the former it is a mere matter of book-keeping, but with regard to the latter it is a privilege granted to certain bodies like Marine, and the committee and the Patriotic Association on public grounds.

Though such a device would enable the Post Office to make a better financial showing, the country would be no better off and the adverse account would show in other departments of the Government. There could be no great objection however for a statement to be published annually showing the value, reckoned at the usual rates, of the services rendered by the Post Office to other free services.

The Postmaster General also takes exception to the carriage of local and foreign newspapers by the Post Office without stamps. The object of this free carriage is to assist education and to aid in the propagation of information and the formation of enlightened public opinion. No one can successfully contend that we have arrived at such a high educational stage that these state aids can be dispensed with. It would be as rational to argue that we could dispense with State aid to our schools and colleges and run them solely on a commercial basis. It cannot be claimed that there is a super-abundance of newspapers and magazine reading in our outposts. Visitors are rather struck with the shortage of such matter and the diligence with which newspapers are passed from house to house bears out this contention. Even the small rate of postage spoken of by the Postmaster General would double the cost of the newspapers to outport readers and would not be calculated to aid outport readers in obtaining them. The remedy is to be found in the rate. Let the value of the services which the Post Office is rendering the State, education and philanthropy be put in dollars and cents in plain figures and the adverse balance which disturbs the Postmaster General will not loom as indefinitely.

As the Postmaster General is seeking a precedent we remind him that Canada allows Canadian newspapers and periodicals to be sent free of postage for delivery in Canada, United Kingdom, Newfoundland and certain other places.

Thief Caught

By last night's train Constable Humber arrived from Manuels in charge of a domestic, aged 18 years, who was arrested on a charge of theft. It appears that the accused, who belongs to Kelligrews, was operating in that section for some time. When Constable Humber was given the matter to investigate he caught the woman red-handed, making away with an apron, a blouse and three curtains, valued at about $20. She was convicted to-day and on account of it being her first offence was let off with a fine of $5.00 or 14 days.

THE GERMAN REPLY.

BERLIN, To-day.
On the eve of the delivery to the United States Ambassador of the German reply to the American note on destruction of the Lusitania, the exact form and phraseology of the document would take seemed unsettled, and few changes in details were still under consideration. The answer in substance, however, will embody a proposal to the United States to defer definite consideration of Germany's submarine policy and President Wilson's demands until the two Governments have had an opportunity to establish just what sort of vessel was sunk. To determine whether the Lusitania was a peaceful merchantman, as assumed in the American note, or an auxiliary cruiser on the British navy list, mounting concealed cannon and carrying Canadian soldiers bound for the front, as well as a cargo of ammunition and supplies as indicated by the information the German Government claims to have. It will be in effect an invitation to define the terms to be used in the argument before proceeding with the discussion.

IN GOOD FETTER!

Replying to a question at the sitting of the Budget committee of the Reichstag, to-day as to whether army administration had taken measures to assure a supply of raw material and textiles in the event of long duration of the war, the Deputy War Minister made this precise statement: Even a new winter campaign would find us prepared in every way all the raw materials are at hand in sufficient quantities for it. It must be declared out of the question, therefore, that the efficiency of our army could be impeded owing to some deficiency.

TRIED TO CUT PACIFIC CABLE.—Vancouver, B.C., May 20.—What is believed to have been a deliberate attempt to cripple the Pacific cable, connecting England and Canada with Australia, was frustrated when a sentry at the Banfield cable station on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, was fired upon at midnight by members of a party of raiders who were attempting to land from a launch, presumably from the United States. The shot summoned the military guard, whose appearance caused the raiders to make a hasty retreat.

Information was obtained that the launch had been in the vicinity for several days, and was seen signalling to persons on shore.

The intention of the raiders was evidently to cut the cable. The destruction of the shore end of the cable at this time would be a notable feat for the Germans.

Help to Repulse German Attack—Advance on Lille Imminent.

It is just a week since the battle of the Allies was resumed and flamed out with greater intensity than ever along the whole line from Arras to the sea. The situation remains good for us, writes the "Times" correspondent, so good indeed that the armies of the Allies are inspired with increased confidence and cheerfulness.

Taking first the line of the Yser from the sea to Dixmude, we find the Belgian Army again in a position to take the offensive on a large scale. On Friday, the enemy massed a force with the obvious intention of attacking across the dunes between Neuport and the sea, but their intention was frustrated by heavy shell fire from our fleet lying off the Belgian coast. The enemy was unable to advance, and his efforts to silence the fire of our ships was harmless and unavailing.

Further south the French have crossed the Yser Canal. Fierce fighting is now in progress in Steenstraete.

At Ypres the British forces have sustained the full weight of a most tremendous and concentrated effort of the enemy has yet attempted. Our lines were rudely shaken. We are waiting the opportunity to advance on Lille. The French hold the heights overlooking the plains towards Lens, Lille, and Donin, and the evacuation of Lens is hourly expected.

5,000 Germans in Peril.

With the opening of the counter-offensive on Saturday and the advance of the French on our left a new phase, we hope, is opened in the third Battle of Ypres, writes Mr. Beech Thomas the "Daily Mail" special correspondent at Pas de Calais, under yesterday's date.

While the French advanced at Het Sas the Belgians pushed patrols forward along the sea shore, and, under cover of British guns from the sea, developed simultaneously, a successful sortie from what may be called the sand castles on the dunes. The change of phase has been a great relief to the troops on the right of this advance. It has compelled the German infantry to face the music.

The third Battle of Ypres cannot be understood until it is realised how small a part the enemy's soldiers play. For many days the Germans in front of Ypres have hammered our trenches and the approaches to our trenches with shell and shrapnel without attempting an infantry attack.

Writing later Mr. Beech Thomas says: "The French have further developed their advance in the direction of Lens, where they hold all the ridges but one. British artillery has co-operated on the left of the French and by joint efforts a force of nearly 5,000 Germans are in a serious predicament."

Bravery of the Black Watch.

The "Daily Express" Paris correspondent, writing yesterday, says: "I hear from a trustworthy source that the Black Watch had the honor of leading the attack which led to the taking of several enemy trenches north of LaBasse yesterday. The German positions were bombarded for three hours by our artillery."

Our men came in contact with the barbed wire defences which were not broken down by our shell fire. They had to cut the wire under a terrible enfilading fire from German machine guns which had been taken to the rear, when the bombardment began, and replaced at the moment of the infantry attack. Nevertheless the Black Watch hung on until support arrived and managed to cut through the first line of trenches. At the second line a severe hand-to-hand struggle with bayonets took place and the third line gave way after a comparatively feeble resistance. The enemy cannot plead surprise nor minimise the importance of our success."

Had ship's anchor fall on my knee and leg, and knee swelled up for six days I could not move it or get help. I then started to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and two bottles cured me.

PROSPER FERGUSON.

British Prisoners in Germany.

From time immemorial prisoners of war have evoked pity and sympathy. The agony and humiliation of the British Prisoners must be indescribably acute and galling, but from that state of suffering there can be no redress, it being part of the fortunes of war, but the lack of comforts and food stands in a different category. This want will grow in volume and intensity as the days go by.

As a result of an official organization having been created recently to carry parcels to the British Prisoners in Germany, insuring proper transmission through a neutral carrier, the "Khaki" Magazine of Imperial House, Kingsway, London, has started a Fund to supply food and comforts for those who have no relatives or friends to look after them, as it is known that these poor fellows are not getting a proper supply of food.

An appeal is made to you for Two Dollars only, as there are so many demands made upon you in other directions. This money will go for the direct benefit of the prisoners, as there is no cost of transmission and no waste of any description, information having been established showing the kind of food and clothing, etc., which can be sent without confiscation by the German Government.

This appeal should get a large response as there is no other Fund which deals with this particular condition.

The "KHAKI" Magazine and Cable News Sheet was created primarily as a gift for the Overseas Soldiers, bringing them late news from their homes. It is now supplying free of charge, in addition to the soldiers at the front and in training, the various Hospitals in England and in France, as well as the Grand Old Fleet. It is a purely patriotic endeavour and in no way commercial.

When the "Khaki" Magazine was founded, amongst the many who gave their support and expressions of good will for the work it had undertaken, were:—

The Duke of Wellington, K. G.
The Duke of Manchester.
The First Lord of the Admiralty.
The Countess of Zetland.
Lady Leven.
Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild.
Lieut. General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, K. C. V. O.
The Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, P. C., M. P.
Lord Desborough.
The Earl of Essex.
Viscount Bryce.
Lord Willoughby de Broke.
The Earl of Ronaldshay.
Viscount Milner.
Earl of Kintore.
Sir Gilbert Parker, M. P.
Sir William Bull, M. P.
Mr. Evelyn Cecil, M. P.
The Right Hon. Sir Charles Johnston, Lord Mayor of London.
The Right Hon. J. E. Rayner, Lord Mayor of Liverpool.
The Right Hon. W. H. Bowater, Lord Mayor of Birmingham.
The Right Hon. James Taggart, Lord Provost of Aberdeen.
The Right Hon. Crawford McCullagh, Lord Mayor of Belfast.

All subscriptions will be published in this paper, and you are requested to send yours to any office of the ROYAL BANK OF CANADA, and mark it "KHAKI PRISONERS' FUND." The subscriptions will be duly acknowledged in the Magazine and various newspapers in England from time to time.

Newfoundland No. 232, Downing Street, May 6, 1915.

Sir,—With reference to your telegram of the 29th of January, I have the honor to state, for the information of your Ministry, that I have for various reasons been found impossible to give effect at as early a date as originally contemplated to the wishes of Her Royal Highness Princess Mary with regard to her gifts to the troops serving with the colours on Christmas Day.

Arrangements for the despatch of the gifts are now, however, well in hand, and it is hoped that they will reach Newfoundland, and be available for distribution at an early date. It is contemplated that the whole of the gifts destined for the Newfoundland troops should be sent to Newfoundland whether the men are actually serving there or abroad, and that in the case of those who have left the island the gifts may be distributed by the men on their return, if they have fallen, by their next of kin. The Crown Agents for the Colonies have been instructed to apprise you of the date of the despatch of the gifts and of the name of the steamer by which they are being forwarded. I have, etc.
