Talking to Impress.

By RUTH CAMERON.

"He was so poor that he couldn't even carry a fifty dollar house," I heard one woman say to another, recently. The woman to whom the remark was made lives in a house that probably would rent for about thirty-five dollars. A fifty dollar house would spell comparative luxury to her.

The first woman must know this if she stopped to think. And yet she talks pityingly of a man "so poor that he couldn't even carry a fifty dollar house."

Perhaps she isn't doing it on Purpose. Perhaps she does it deliberately, perhaps carelessly.

In either case I think it is bad taste. If she does it deliberately she is trying to impress her listener with her own more comfortable circumstances—a tacky thing that really well-bred people do not do.

A great many people do this sort of thing. It is a little less obvious than openly boasting about one's own possessions, and people who aren't quite crude enough to talk about what they paid for this or that will try to impress it upon you in this circuitous way.

Only One Maid with a Family of Four

I know another woman who married a man who has lately made quite a little money. Before she married she was a stenographer, her mother was a widow and she was brought up in a home where the pennies had to be watched and where such a thing as outside help, even with the washing, was out of the question. Yet now, to her old friends, she talks pityingly about "Poor Mrs. M., who has only one maid with that family (four) and doesn't even put her washing out."

When this sort of thing is done carelessly instead of deliberately it does not show actual crudeness, but it does show a lack of the sympathetic courtesy which teaches us to key our conversation to the standards of those to whom we talk and to try to get their viewpoint.

To Trifle With Catarrh Is to Risk Consumption.

Usually it comes with a cold. Being slight it is neglected—but the seed is sown for a dangerous harvest, perhaps consumption. To cure at once, inhale Catarrhoxone. It destroys the germs of catarrh, clears away mucous, cleanses the passage of the nose and throat. The hacking cough and sneezing cold soon disappear, and health is yours again. Nothing known for colds, catarrh and throat trouble, that is so curative as Catarrhoxone. It cures by a new method that never yet failed. The one dollar outfit includes the inhaler and is guaranteed to cure. Smaller sizes 25c. and 50c., sold everywhere.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

New York Sun:—We are sure that there are two combatants who would like to see the end of the war: the French airman who dropped a wreath to be placed upon his soldier father's grave in Alsace and the sympathetic German who flew over the French lines to let fall a note saying that the wreath was resting upon Colonel Feyre's grave. The truths of the war are stranger than any fiction that will ever be written about it.

Change Island Notes.

On Thursday, 17th August, flags were flying in abundance in honour of Private Jensen, the hero, whom we were all so delighted to see. In the evening he addressed a large audience in the L. O. A. Hall. The lecture, which dealt with his experiences at the front, was both instructive and interesting, and given in fluent, vivid language that gripped and held the attention of his hearers. During the intervals we were entertained by songs from Mrs. C. V. Smith, Miss E. M. Scott, A.T.C.L., and Miss L. M. LeDrew. The collection was taken up and amounted to fifty dollars. The Chairman, Mr. S. Roberts, called upon Rev. J. Prescott, who proposed a vote of thanks to Private Jensen for his very able address and to the ladies who entertained us. This was seconded by Rev. J. Wilkinson, and unanimously carried by a standing vote. The meeting was brought to a close with the National Anthem, and hearty cheers for the King and Private Jensen.

Rev. Leggo, of Badger's Quay, who had been a guest at the Parsonsage, left by last Sisu.

Mrs. F. C. and Miss L. M. Earle went to Fogo by Saturday's Clyde for the dedication of the church.

By the Sisu Mrs. C. V. Smith and Miss Scott, of Fogo, arrived on a visit to Mrs. F. C. Earle.

Private Jensen left by motor boat on Friday for Herring Neck.

Rev. T. E. Loder, of Grand Falls, left by Saturday's Clyde after spending a pleasant visit with his sister, Mrs. T. Scammell.

We were very glad to have with us on a brief furlough Ptes. W. Seasmell, J. Ledrew, J. Cave, and V. Garis.

Mrs. J. Roberts left for Grand Falls and St. John's on Saturday.

She was accompanied as far as Twillingate by Messrs. J. and Butler Roberts. Also, Miss Winnie Harris who has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Roberts, for the past month, returned to her home, Moreton's Harbour.

Dr. Maclean and daughter, from Nova Scotia, arrived by the Clyde on Monday.

Dr. Rendell gave a very interesting lecture on Tuberculosis, in the S. U. F. Hall, on Thursday last. Nurse Campbell accompanied him.

Miss Mabel Earle went to Lewisporte on Saturday to meet her cousin, Miss Pauline Waldon, of Toronto.

Mr. A. Maddock, of the E. W. Gillett Co., was here this week; Mr. E. Hennebury spent a few days here on business.

Mrs. Alphaeus Barbour returned to Newtown by "Prospero" accompanied by Mrs. S. Roberts.

Flags were at half-mast yesterday on the receipt of the news of the death of Private Edward Peckford, who was wounded on July 1st. The young soldier's mother died only last week. Much sympathy is felt for the sisters in their double bereavement.

Miss Ida Parsons left by Tuesday's Clyde for Botwood, where she will teach during the coming school year.

We must not forget to mention the condition of the roads since the present Board has been in power. They are nothing, and are a disgrace to the community. The Board should certainly get busy.

Typhoid has again made its appearance, and there is quite an epidemic of measles.

THE TOURING TEST

I took Jim and Joe afar, in my dark green motor car. Both at home, and pleasant legs, genial, smiling, free with seeds, popular with maids and men, gents you're glad to meet again. Touring is a moral test; it brings out your worst or best; it will all your failings find. If you are the ten cent kind, Jim was cheerful all the way; small reverses made him gay, and discomforts made him smile. In the optimistic style, Joe was grumbling all the time; said my driving was a crime; when the car ran in the ditch, he complained, in doleful pitch; every time I smashed a tire, or got foundered in the mire, Joseph shocked the little birds with his red-hot line of words. I have had enough of Joe; and no matter where I go, I won't lend a seat to him; but my car is free to Jim. If you wish to know the truth touching some uncertain youth, take him with you on a trip; note how he retains his grip when you hurtle through the dust, and your tires begin to bust.

Enjoy your meals by taking a teaspoonful of Stafford's Prescription "A" before eating. Price 25c. and 50c. Postage 5 and 10c. extra.—July 22, 1916.

Mrs. J. Roberts left for Grand Falls and St. John's on Saturday.

Hr. Grace Notes.

The brig, St. Simon, 55 days from Cadiz with a cargo of salt to Messrs. Murray and Crawford, anchored in the outer harbor on Saturday night, and is still there waiting an opportunity to get inside.

The fore-and-aft schooner St. Clair, Capt. H. Simmons, arrived from Sydney on Saturday night with a cargo of coal to Mr. E. Simmons.

Master Bert Munn left by this forenoon's train for St. John's, enroute to Toronto to resume his college studies.

The lumber landed from the schr. Minnie Maud was sold by public auction at 11 a.m. to-day by Mr. O. V. Travers. It was knocked down to Mr. E. Simmons.

The different schools opened this morning, all the children, no doubt being pleased to get back to studies again.

Mr. J. Judge, one of the crew of the St. Clair, met with a mishap yesterday cutting the top completely off one of his fingers. He had to be attended by a doctor, and will need to have a slight operation performed to have the wounded member placed on a fair way to heal up.

We regret to hear that Mrs. Selby Parsons is very sick at present, but we hope soon to be able to report her on the mending hand.

Mr. Eli Martin came in from Harbor Grace Island last week suffering from a very severe cold. He is still very sick.

Mr. Munden Taylor, of Montreal, is in town on a business and pleasure trip. Mr. Taylor visited this town four years ago.

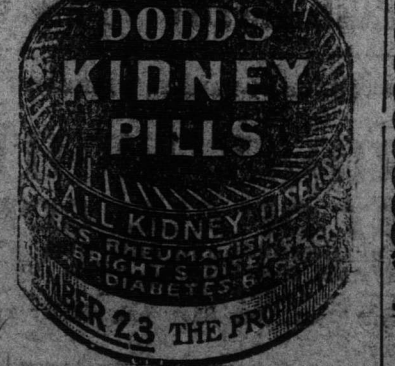

Mrs. Samuel Taylor left town on Saturday morning for St. John's enroute for British Columbia. She was accompanied as far as St. John's by her sister, Mrs. Moses Shute. The latter is expected home to-night.

Miss M. Pugh, one of the teachers at Victoria Street School, who had been visiting friends at Heart's Content returned by carriage on Saturday evening after a very enjoyable visit. CORRESPONDENT.

Harbor Grace, Sept. 4th, 1916.

Germans Place Explosives in theatrical, Historic Buildings—Plan Against 13 Worker Tells What Ends

New York, Aug. 30.—A conditions in Antwerp as they as well as in other parts was told yesterday by He mans, an expert worker in munition factory, who got out of the country, arrived here yesterday to give in this country. His wife the children were killed by bombardment of Antwerp since that time he has lived much of the time in various metropolises. Huysmans and the story he told was not a recital of atrocious human acts committed by men, but one rather of efficiency when that efficiency at the people of a conqueror.

The food situation in Belgium, Huysmans said, will be exaggerated. Milk or to be had and babies on milk tablets, which are only in minimum quantities at $2.50 a pound, and except in the cases of those have some money left, is he had. The country has by the Germans, suppose of a possible future through the country. Belgians have the option for the military authorities some or all of their deported into Germany crops when harvested are ratio of about four and one to the Belgians.

Bread 40 Cents a Loaf
"When I left Antwerp, bread was selling for a small loaf, meat a pound. The potato crop was fine for the Germans, but Belgians, for if a farmer that netted 500 kilos he had over 450 kilos to the Germans, most of it to be Germany for the population. "The Germans have for months mining the country have been placed not on points, but in many of towns, under the streets under the buildings. I myself saw them placed and I know what I am telling you that mines are under the Cathedral of Justice, and other great that city. The mines are controlled, and the buildings are under guard of German soldiers. "Trenches have been over the country, and if get into Belgium and the Germans they are a mighty big job to do. There is not a Belgian I not believe that the when the German will the land, but it's going of work, and I think it time before it is accomplished. Will Rare All
