

Croup

Mrs. Joseph W. Lewis, Balls Creek, N.S., writes:—
"My little boy, aged six years, had a very bad case of croup, of which nothing seemed to help him. Dr. Chase's Linseed & Turpentine was resorted to, and he was soon entirely relieved."
(Mr. Alex. J. Campbell, J.P., states: "This is to certify that I am acquainted with Mrs. Joseph Lewis, and believe her statement with reference to Dr. Chase's Linseed to be true and correct.")

Greeks Agree to Armistice With Turks.

Evacuation of Thrace a Turkish Condition—U. S. Will Watch Rhineland Accounts—Captured and Ate Orangemen's Supper.

GREECE ACCEPTS.
PARIS, March 26. The Greek Government has adopted the proposition of Allied Foreign Ministers for an armistice between Greek and Turk Nationalists.

TURKEY ALSO IF—
CONSTANTINOPLE, March 26. The Sublime Porte has considered the armistice proposals and will accept if the period of the cessation of hostilities is reduced from three to one month. The Ankara Nationalist Government has accepted the armistice in principle, but as a counter proposal demand that the Greeks evacuate Thrace.

U.S. WILL PUSH HER CLAIM.
WASHINGTON, March 26. The American Government has sent supplementary note to the Allied powers to support its claim for equality with those powers in the payment of costs arising from the Rhineland occupation. The note insists that no juggling of bookkeeping as regards the Rhineland occupation will give the United States from pushing her claim.

MIRCHILL'S HOPE FOR IRELAND.
NORTHAMPTON, March 26. Colonial Secretary Churchill, addressing a political meeting Saturday, declared the way the Southern Ireland Government was carrying out its difficult task, led him to hope for favorable results. When De Valera had made threats it suggested he had not the support of the mass of the Irish people, Churchill added.

UNIONIST DEFEATS LIBERAL.
LONDON, March 26. In the Chertsey Division of Surrey re-election General Richardson, Unionist, defeated General Gough, Liberal, by 11,321 to 9,490. General Gough commanded the Fifth British Army, which was overwhelmed by the German drive in 1918.

WE IN ENGINEERING DISPUTE.
LONDON, March 26. Negotiations between engineering employers and union representatives will be re-opened on Monday. This statement has given fresh hope that the complete stoppage of the engineering industry may be averted.

SUPPORTING THE REPUBLIC.
DUBLIN, March 26. The convention of members of the Irish Republican Army to-day decided to affirm and to enforce a drastic front against Belfast.

STRIKE EXTENDS.
BOSTON, March 26. The New England textile strike will take on a new angle this week with extension to the important cotton and woolen centre of Lawrence. Seven mills there have announced a twenty per cent. wage cut and the operatives have declared a strike.

ORANGE HEADQUARTERS SEIZED.
DUBLIN, March 26. Forty men last night took possession of the Orange party's headquarters in Parnell St., quietly conducted the rightful occupants to the street and closed the doors. The men who were identified as workmen expelled from Belfast, were in possession late today. After seizing the building, the men, who are destitute, ate the supper which was being prepared for the Orangemen. The Fowler Memorial Hall and fish market were also seized.

THE GRAND TRUNK DEAL.
LONDON, March 26. Under the head "Dishonest Dominion," the Outlook, a six penny weekly, discussing Grand Trunk railway affairs, says, "Manipulators at Ottawa by daring and unscrupulous trickery befouled this railway organization into arbitration. If some Central American country swindled British investors out of $48,000,000 by methods which were used in Canada we think a collision with the Monroe Doctrine might be risked in an effort to do something about it."

ARMENIA.
PARIS, March 26. The Allied Foreign Ministers in session here on the Near Eastern question have decided to give over the administration of Armenia to the League of Nations and leave the League responsible for the protection of minorities.

THE THREE STAGES.—Going, going, gone. At last those cracked cups are smashed. It's lucky they lasted until we could get White and Gold Cups and Saucers for 23c. each at STEELES.

Scores Volstead Law.
Mayor Stewart of Savannah, Georgia writing to Ford's Washington Service Bureau Statisticians, on the prohibition situation in Georgia, says:—"The present prohibition situation in our state is unsatisfactory. An immense amount of moonshine and very inferior liquor is being sold, which is burning up the inns of the population. Our best citizens break the prohibition law and laugh at it. Judges drink whiskey, reporters get drunk and then write about the benefits of prohibition."

The Loyal Orange Association.

A CONDENSED HISTORY OF ITS PURPOSE.

While the Orange Association as we have it to-day is modelled after the organization in Ireland, the Society existed in England long before it was established in Ireland. In fact, it was organized with the personal consent of William III, shortly after his landing at Torbay, in November 1688. It was suggested by Sir Edward Seymour that a league be formed between William's adherents, which was consummated in Exeter Cathedral, under the superintendency of Bishop Burnett and a parchment was engrossed with the following words: That they would support and defend William, Prince of Orange, in upholding the laws of England and Ireland, and that if any attempt should be made on his person it should be re-venge on all by whom or from whom any such attempt should be made. The clubs, which were formed immediately after the landing of William were called Orange Clubs, and they existed during the lifetime of the King. In fact, the Orange Institution in England maintained a separate existence up till 1860. There are still some slight differences between the working of the English and Irish Lodges, but these are gradually being removed.

THE ORDER IN IRELAND.

The cause which led up to the organization of the Orange Order in Ireland was the unprotected state of the country at that time. There was a well-defined rumour of an uprising, and also the fear of a French invasion. The crisis came in 1795 when the Battle of the Diamond was fought. At the conclusion of the engagement the "Orange Boys' Society" was formed. Twelve or more Lodges were then planned and constituted, and their number was soon increased.

FIRST PRINCIPLES OF THE ORDER

It may be of interest, as showing the intentions and aims of the founders, to quote the following clear definition of the principles of Orangism, as set forth in the first book of rules. "This Institution is formed by persons desiring, to the utmost of their power, to support and defend His Majesty King William IV., the Crown of Great Britain, the laws of the country, the succession to the Throne of His Majesty's illustrious house, as well as for the defence of their own persons and property, and the maintenance of the public peace. For these purposes the members hold themselves obliged when called upon, to be at all times ready to assist the civil and military powers in the just and lawful discharge of their duty. They associate also in honour of King William III, Prince of Orange, whose name they will perpetually bear, as supporters of his glorious memory and the religion by law established in the United Kingdom. Its principles are: "To aid and assist all loyal subjects of every religious persuasion, by protecting them from violence and oppression."

The rules of the Order have been changed several times to meet the changed conditions of modern organization, but there has been no change of principle, which has remained unchanged and unchanging from the inception of the Institution.

THE ORDER IN BRITISH AMERICA.

The Orange Association has been in existence in Canada for nearly one hundred years and in Newfoundland for sixty years, and where-ever a Lodge has been started it has been a power for good. Let us be true to the principles of our Order, and to the noble example of our Forefathers, and with "Carry on" as our slogan. "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none." "One Throne, One Flag, One Empire" as our Motto. And the emblem of our highest degree "The Cross and the Crown" as our Guide. We can with all sincerity say "In Hoc Signo Vincas."—E.A.C.

Moving Pictures Used.

FOR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES.

On Friday night last at the Green-fell Hall, a very interesting lecture was given by Mr. J. W. Morris on the Electrification of railways. Moving pictures were used, showing the electric trined railways in the United States, the arrangement for collecting the current from the overhead lines, and the different methods of connecting the electric motors to the driving wheels. The lecture was not only very instructive, but also exceedingly interesting, and the audience showed their appreciation in a very hearty manner. In closing, Mr. F. L. Southgate, the chairman, stated that the Electrical Engineering Institute had a number of other technical lectures scheduled to take place each fortnight, that he hoped, would prove as interesting as the one which the audience had already heard.

Yacht Building at 81.

The Earl of Dunraven, who has reached his first birthday, is building one of the most notable yachts that have been laid down in England for many years. No better judge of a yacht exists, and the design of the new boat owes much to his ripe experience.

According to the Yachting World, Lord Dunraven, by taking advantage of the compact nature of the internal combustion engine and its avoidance of coal bunkers, will possess an ocean going cruiser of unique accommodation.

In England and in the United States Lord Dunraven's name is associated with the Valkyrie yachts, the second of which made the best bid on record for regaining the American Cup.

Ownerless Railway.

Shareholders Who Can't be Traced. At a meeting of the Great Western Railway shareholders Viscount Churchill stated that in addition to the companies with whom terms had been arranged, the Great Western would absorb 26 other railways.

A curious position had arisen with regard to the small Forest of Dean General Railway. With a few miles of track it was opened 50 years ago, and for a long time it had been worked at a loss by the lessees. No records were available as to whom the original shareholders had transferred their property, and there was nobody with whom to negotiate, and nothing could be done until next January, when application could be made for compulsory absorption.

DUNLOP TIRES

Ensure HIGH-MILEAGE—DOUBLE-LIFE

- Q Dunlop leadership in Tiredom is most manifest. Mileage records almost unbelievable are piling up all over Canada.
- Q The Special Mileage-Making Process, which is the basis of our Fabric Tires, has worked wonders.
- Q Perfect shape and balance, stronger side walls to resist curb and rut abuse, special wear-resisting anti-skid tread, etc., add the last touch to popularizing to the full a tire that has long stood in high favor.
- Q Dunlop "Cords" made good from their inception.
- Q These tires taught motorists to expect more resiliency, greater air space, larger amount of material, better carrying capacity—in short, bigger mileage; and that is the standard by which all Cord Tires are judged to-day.

Pit Prop Cutting.
PRICE NOT SATISFACTORY.
A recent notice writes: "Pit Prop cutting has been going on in full swing for the last five weeks at Rocky Harbor, St. Barbe, and when the chop is completed Rocky Harbor will have on the bank in the vicinity of 700 cords. But the price is not satisfactory, viz: $3.50 per cord, merely keeping the wolf from the door. There has also been a new Road Board election, and the weather is hanging very frosty."
