When Dogs and Slides Hauled

Loads of Firewood up Water Street. In the early winter mornings long years ago, a common sight on Water Street, was a 'dog-load' of firewood. Imagine the sensation forty or fifty dogs hauling firewood, would create on Water Street to-day? Times have changed alright. Still many things are unchanged. Many products popular and in general demand at that time are still in popular favor. Take IVORY SOAP which was in general use at the time we refer to, this soothing toilet soap is being used to-day more extensively than ever. The years have only increased its immense popularity. Ivory is a sensible, economical and dependable soap. How else could it retain its popularity all these years? Ask for Ivory at your grocery stores.
