Personal

Miss Hilda Wareham, daughter of W. Wareham, of H.R. Buffett, is now in the city selecting goods for her firm's large dry-goods department. Miss Wareham's many friends in the city are pleased to have her with them for a few days.

Capt. George Whiteley and crew left by the express yesterday to connect with the Sagona at Bonne Esperance, to engage in the summer fishery operations.

Mr. C. O'N. Conroy, K.C., who has been on legal business in England, is a passenger on the incoming express. Mr. Conroy accompanies him.

Mr. W. Hutchings, who was spending a short holiday in the city, returned to his duties at Corner Brook by yesterday's express.

Beginning of Operations

With the Dry Dock now closed for shipping, preliminary work on reconstruction commences to-day. The old sheds fronting on the Long Bridge are being torn down, and a temporary office will be erected. Messrs. W. I. Bishop & Company have taken offices in the Foran Building, on Water Street, where they will transact their business in connection with the construction. The construction of the coffer dam will mark the beginning of operations.

Some play—some story, some side splitting situations. Casino, Monday night only. May 18, 11

At St. Patrick's Church

At 10.30 Mass at St. Patrick's Church yesterday, an impressive sermon was delivered by Rev. Fr. St. John, who dealt with the dignity of labor, the duties of filling one's station in life, of the father providing for his family, of the children assisting the parents in the upkeep of the home; and of all giving an honest day's work for a day's pay.

Adventist Church

A deep impression was made at the Adventist Church last evening. The speaker's subject was, "The change of the Sabbath. Was it by Divine Authority?" Based on Heb. 13:8, "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, to-day and forever." "This being true," said Elder Manuel, "the law which He gave must remain unchanged, and the Sabbath, in reality, can no more be changed than God Himself can change. It is just as true to-day as it ever was that 'the seventh day (of the weekly circle) is the Sabbath of the Lord Thy God.'"

"Many have been led to believe that Jesus came to change the law and to put us under a different rule. Not so. The words of Christ are very plain on this point. He says, 'Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets. I am not come to destroy but to fulfil.' . . . till Heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all (things in the universe) be fulfilled." (Matt. 5:17, 18). Again He says, "It is easier for Heaven and earth to pass than for one tittle of the law to fail." (Luke 16:17). It is hard to understand how the fourth Commandment could be made to read, 'The first day is the Christian Sabbath' without changing and destroying many 'jots' and 'tittles' of that command. Heaven and earth have not passed yet.

"Jesus came to earth not as a law-giver but as a teacher of the law. It was His delight to keep the law. It was written in His heart. He kept the Sabbath law and left us an example that we should keep it as He did."

"If we break the Sabbath or any other command of God we commit sin, 'for sin is the transgression of the law.' (1 John 3:4). Jesus lived a life of obedience and finally vindicated up his life on the Cross to vindicate the character of the law He kept."

"But all should know that Sunday is not the day that Jesus kept when on earth. He kept the seventh day according to the commandment which is Saturday and not Sunday. Many Sunday observers admit that there is nothing in the New Testament to warrant the change that has been brought about. In a work entitled, 'The Ten Commandments,' P. 50, G. Campbell Morgan says: 'Much has been made of the attitude of Christ in speech and deed toward the Sabbath. Some have imagined that by words He uttered or by deeds He did He relaxed the binding nature of the old command. This view, however, is to absolutely misunderstand and misinterpret the doings and teachings of Jesus.'"

"Another well known in religious circles says, 'There is no word, no hint in the New Testament about abstaining from work on Sunday.' . . . into the rest of Sunday no divine law enters. The observance of Ash Wednesday or Lent stand on exactly the same footing as the observance of Sunday, 'The Ten Commandments.' (Canon Byron P.P. 42, 43, 44, 45.)"

"The speaker made an earnest appeal to those who had not done so, to give their lives to God, to accept Jesus as their Saviour and to walk in the way of God's Commandments. In response fifteen arose and pressed their way to the front to seek God. The meeting closed with an earnest prayer season, and the evening will long be remembered by those who attended the service."

Large Iceberg Aground

DESTROY'S FISHING NETS.

A large iceberg drifting south made its appearance off Torbay on Friday last, and due to the prevailing N. E. winds, it drifted towards the land and destroyed several fishing nets belonging to the fishermen of Torbay, Outer Cove and vicinity. One man named Hickey of Outer Cove, had four nets destroyed and the loss to him is a particularly heavy one at this season of the year. The iceberg is at present grounded there.

Thos. Meighan at the Majestic To-Day

BIG PROGRAM OF FEATURES AND MUSIC.

When Thomas Meighan's latest George Ade Paramount picture story, "Woman-Proof," is flashed on the screen of the Majestic to-night, the spectators will see a genuine explosion of nearly seven thousand cases of dynamite which was used in the blasting of a thirteen-mile tunnel at Huntington Lake, Cal., where work on the biggest hydro-electric project in the world, involving the expenditure of $27,000,000, was in progress at the time the picture was filmed.

This tunnel passes through a mountain, making the waters of Huntington Lake available for electric power.

Mr. Meighan plays the role of a civil engineer who is supervising this huge industrial scheme. In the picture, the tunnel is supposed to cave in, entombing scores of workmen. The rescue of these men forms some of the most thrilling scenes in the picture. The picture was directed by Alfred E. Green. The following are the supporting players: Lila Lee, leading woman; Robert Agnew, Charles A. Selton, Vera Reynolds, Bill Gonder and Mike Donlin.

Adams & Cheney, the musical marvels, are determined to outdo all previous records and create a still greater impression of their talent, when to-night they submit the following programme:—

1. Liebestreu, Kresler.
2. "Poker Song."
3. Parade of the Wooden Soldiers.
4. Medley of Liza Opera Airs, V. Herbert.
5. Popular Medley.

This is a programme that will please even the most critical. The suggestion has been offered and wisely so, that patrons should make it a special effort to attend as early as possible, as very often, those who come whilst the concert programme is in progress, distract somewhat the attention of the audiences. In submitting this programme, the public are assured of a treat.
