THE FALL TRADE.

Now that the Fall Trade has commenced, we have to remind the business men of this section that our facilities for turning out all kinds of JOB PRINTING are unrivalled. We have the best of Presses and Type, employ none but good workmen, and our charges are LOWER than any other office in Guelph. Orders from the country attended to, and work forwarded to all parts by the earliest mode of conveyance.

Some snow fell about Mount Forest on Tuesday last.

The Halton County Ploughing Match will come off on the 29 inst.

Mr. John Winger of Berlin had two of his fingers cut off on Tuesday last while attending a circular saw.

Clifford Cattle Fair comes off on Thursday next, 31st inst., and is thenceforth to be regularly held on the last Thursday of each month.

COMMERCIAL BANK BILLS.—Mr. Robt. Rutherford advertises in the Evening Mercury that he will take Commercial Bank Bills at par for payment of goods, in order to effect a clearing sale.

The thief who stole a span of horses and a buggy from Mr. McDermid, of North Easthope, has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

THE SNIDER RIFLES for the Wellington Battalion were shipped from London this morning, and will probably be here to-morrow, so that Captains commanding Companies will be able to issue them to their respective Companies early in the coming week.

THE INQUEST in HAMILTON.—The inquest held at Hamilton on the remains of the young woman, Sarah Edwards, has revealed the fact that an abortion had been produced by medicines, and that death was the consequence. The investigation has not yet been concluded, and it is not known what may befall "Doctor" Davis for the part he has played in the sinful drama.

DRAMATIC.—The Milton Champion says, We hear that it is the intention to organize a Dramatic Association in this Town. From the well-known histrionic talent of some of the gentlemen engaged in the matter, and having now an excellent hall for such purposes, it will no doubt be a source of amusement during the winter months.

ACCIDENT.—Mr Robert Hunter, bailiff and auctioneer, of Beverly, met with an accident on Friday last which came near proving fatal. He was proceeding to Hamilton in a buggy, when his horse took fright at a train and ran away, throwing the driver out of the buggy with such violence that Mr Hunter received injuries which at first caused his life to be despaired of. It is hoped he may recover.

MISSIONARY ADDRESS.—The Mount Forest Examiner says:—An interesting meeting was held in Knox's Church on Tuesday evening last, to hear an address by the Rev. Wm. Clarke, agent of the French Canadian Missionary Society. The Rev. gentleman gave a pleasing account of the labors of the society, its objects, and its prospects in the future. His remarks were listened to with attention, and we believe his visit was attended with a fair share of success, financially.

JUVENILE SMOKERS.—The law prohibiting minors from smoking on the streets is rigidly enforced in Halifax, N. S., several youths having been recently arrested and fined for so doing. Guelph wants a law somewhat similar. It is not half such a nuisance that boys should smoke on the streets as that they should congregate at corners on Sunday evenings and beselver the sidewalks with tobacco juice, which, after all, is not the foulest emanation from their mouths, as many an ins'tituted lady can testify.

A SLIGHT MISHAP.—This morning Mr. Jackson, M.P. for South Grey, was driving down Wyndham street in a buggy, having a friend in company. Probably he was engaged in a discussion on the action likely to be taken by the Nova Scotian majority on the equalization of the tariff, or some other absorbing subject, for it was evident that he was paying but little attention to his horse, which stumbled and fell. The member resigned his seat immediately, a crowd collected, harness was unbacked, and the grey horse, of shabby understanding, whose negligence had done more than Mr. Dalglial's labor and industry could do—unsent his master—got up with no further injury than what was done to his color. Mr. Jackson took the strings once more, and the last seen of him was when he was asking one of the newboys for a copy of the Leader.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN GUELPH IN 1867.

ALLAN'S MILLS.

Last year Mr. David Allan commenced to take down the last remaining portion of his mill which was built of wood, and to rebuild it of stone, so as to make it uniform with the rest of his extensive premises. The season being too far advanced to admit of finishing it, the work was suspended till this year. Accordingly shortly after the season opened operations were begun, the half built walls were carried up to their full height, the roof put on, and now as far as the work externally is concerned the building is finished. The mason work was done by Mr. Thomas Dobbie, and is as neat and well finished a piece of work of the kind as can be found in Guelph or anywhere else. Mr. Allan has shown good taste in putting up a couple of projecting turrets on the gable facing the railway, which are after the fashion of the turrets that adorn many ancient castles in Britain, and help very much to set off the appearance of the building. This wing like nearly every other portion of the building, is covered with slates. Only one of the wings is now covered with shingles, and Mr. Allan intends in another year to roof that with slates also, when the whole building will be completely fire proof as far as its external exposure is concerned. The internal arrangements and fitting of these mills are of the best kind, and done in the most substantial manner. The recently finished wing is devoted mainly to the receiving and storing of grain, from which it can be conveyed into either of the mills as may be required. We say either of the mills, for though both are under one roof, and communicating with each other, yet they are distinct and worked separately. In the one are four runs of stones, driven by water, and in the other are three runs, driven by a powerful and well made forty horse engine from the foundry of Messrs. Ewart, Ingles, & Co., which was put in last spring. The engine room and boiler house occupy the lower ground fronting the river, and are admirably planned for convenient working. Indeed it is rarely we find a structure of such dimensions, put up at different periods, which harmonizes so well in all its parts both externally and internally, and where the machinery seems to work as if planned and put together at one time. With so many runs of stones, and with both steam and water, one may form some idea of the capacity of the mill when in full working order.

Standing in front of this noble pile of buildings, one cannot help looking back to the days when Guelph was in its infancy, and this mill but a very small affair compared to what it now is. Within a few yards of you is the spot where the founder of the town in 1827 awoke the echoes of the forest by felling the first tree, and for ever broke the solitude which had before reigned supreme. The last trace of that interesting monument of the birth of our town has been long ago obliterated to make way for the advancing steps of civilization, and over the very spot where Galt and his companions stood on that memorable evening rushes the iron horse daily, with its trains of cars loaded with passengers from every section of the continent, and merchandise from every quarter of the globe. Yet here also the past and present are gracefully linked together, for the Priory still stands, a memento of those early days, and though the first house built in Guelph it bears its age well, and embowered among the trees looks almost as fresh as some of its younger neighbors. The extension of the mills and the increase of the trade of Guelph have kept pace together. At first but a small, rough and unpretentious building, it has gradually been enlarged to meet the wants of the section of country, and as the growth of trade demanded. Gradually the wooden structure has been replaced by stone, until now we have a very large, compact and substantial pile of buildings, the like of which is rarely met with in Canada. It has quite an imposing appearance from the railway, and to the stranger viewing it from the place, and conveys the idea that Guelph is what he finds it out to be, a thriving, bustling business town with splendid mills, a large and first class market and a healthy trade. Nor can the proprietor of this large and splendid property help feeling a pardonable pride in looking at it, and especially when he remembers what it was in his younger years, and what it now is—a source of pride to Guelph, and an enduring monument of his untiring energy and perseverance.

GALT OLD FAIR.—This fair will be held on Tuesday next. The Reporter says, it has of late changed its old characteristics for that of a more direct Sheep Fair; and the gatherings that have been held the past two or three years have been eminently satisfactory. Galt is well fitted for holding a Sheep Fair, for in no portion of the Province is the breeding and raising of these animals more taken into consideration than in Dumfries and adjoining Townships.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—We have received from Tunis & Co., Clifton, the November number of the above, which completes the volume. As usual it has a very long list of contents. The articles always afford pleasant reading, being not so heavy as those in the British Magazines, and yet they are far more solid and instructive than most of the literature that appears in American periodicals.—The Drawer, the inexhaustible Drawer, shows as many rich and WHAT'S UP.—Tory governments are especially noted for their attention to the disposition of patronage to hangers-on, and the rank-and-file are equally celebrated for their blood-sucking propensities. An incident has occurred in Stratford which has completely upset the equanimity of the leeches. John A. Scown, Esq., a "Clear Grit" of the strictest sect, who supported Billington and Campbell with might and main during the recent election in West Middlesex, has been appointed Postmaster in room of Mrs. Cook. The Tories are "dumfounded"—perfectly speechless—at the atrocity of the appointment. We may expect to hear "curses, loud and deep," hurled at the Postmaster-General, as soon as the supraloyal organs recover from the shock.—Chatham Banner.

WEDDING PARTY.—The St. Catherine's Journal says.—The interesting daughter of a wealthy farmer was led to the hymeneal altar, by one of the stalwart sons of the soil. This was followed by an invitation to certain gents in town and county to a social party, which did not take place at either the house of the bride's father or groom, but at a country tavern. Imagine the surprise of some of the invited, when another invitation was pressed for deposit of $1.25 per head.—They all forked over, but the astonishment was so great that some of the muled had not recovered their equanimity yet.

THE COMBINATION.—The Premier of the Combination has his hands full just now, having to look after the whole machinery of the government, evidently being afraid to allow his extravagant colleagues to get ahead of him. The fitting up of the Parliament Buildings in Toronto, which should be under the jurisdiction of Mr. Carling, the Commissioner of Public Works, is progressing under the direction of the Attorney-General, poor Mr. Carling scarcely even daring to offer a suggestion. We are not sorry at all that Sanfield has determined to control the Combination. He will be certain to keep the expenditures down to the lowest possible notch, whatever else he may do. A system which will not tend to raise him in the estimation of his newly found Tory friends. The combination must lose caste among them if the Premier is not more liberal.—Chatham Banner.

The north of Scotland has been visited by symptoms of a severe and premature winter. The Northey Ensign says the greater part of the oat crop is still unripe, and on many farms is quite green. Although there is a heavy crop on the ground, unless the weather improves, there is every reason to fear that much of it will never fall before the sickle. On many farms the grain crop has been so shaken by tempests of unusual severity, that little is to be seen on the fields ready for the sickle but bare and blasted stalks. The farmers are in a state of great alarm. The potato disease is spreading in all directions, so that the winter prospects are very gloomy.

GEOGRAPHICAL KNOWLEDGE.—The N. Y. Tribune has, or rather pretends to have, one would imagine, a "special correspondent" who dates his letters at Florence, but, who, it is asserted writes them in New York. He lately amused his readers by describing a voyage between Genoa and Caprea, and no doubt astonished many of them by telling them, that he passed within hailing distance of St. Helena. A school boy could have told that the island rendered famous by the exile of Napoleon was some thousands of miles distant from either Genoa or Caprea.

The advances of Russia in the East are looked upon with alarm by Anglo-Indians. A reported understanding between the Persian and Russian governments, and the fact that the latter has already obtained possession of all the intervening territory between the Caucassus and Cabul, give rise to the opinion that the next time the Northern Bear makes a dash at Turkey she will be able to keep Britain so busy in India that she will not be able to undertake another Crimean campaign.

The propriety of having public hospitals is being discussed in England and France. An eminent medical authority, Sir James Simpson, in a recent address at Belfast, said:—"If our hospitals were changed from being crowded palaces with a large sick in each flat, into villages and cottages with one, or at most two patients in each room, a great saving of human life would be effected." And from statistics carefully compiled it has been ascertained that the number of deaths among hospital treated patients was far higher than among those treated at home, even when their homes were exceedingly humble, unventilated and every way inconvenient.

Says the Liverpool Courier of the 10th "In the case of the Manchester outrage we are fortunately liberated from all those technicalities which baffled justice so long in Ireland. The charge is not for sedition but for murder. A more execrable, daring, atrocious murder never was committed. That all admit. The only question to be decided is "Who are guilty?" Once the verdict of the jury is given and sentence is pronounced, swift execution should follow. This remedy against Fenianism will be found far more effective than shiploads of loyal addresses.

DISASTER ON THE LABRADOR COAST.—The World's St. John's special says a terrific gale occurred on the Labrador coast on the 9th inst., and so far as heard from, some thirty vessels have been totally wrecked; also an immense amount of property, and forty lives lost. Steamers are leaving St. John's with relief for the sufferers, there being over one thousand people left destitute.

Goodwin, a private in the Royal Artillery, dashed himself up like a negro and tried to desert. He was caught, tried before a garrison Court-martial, and while his comrades were on their way to Malta, he was found a secure retreat in the Hochelaga military prison for two years, and his assistant, a negro, a three months' lodging place in the common goal in Montreal.

The portraits which gleam forth in the fashion plates in tailors' windows are generally taken from life. There is quite a rivalry among certain young men to be taken, for fashion plates.
A number of Canadian journals have been swindled by the bogus advertising agencies of Chas. A. Abbott, alias Abbott & Co., Mathew & Abbott; Mathew & Co., and Chas. F. Smith & Co. Pass them around.

LATEST FROM ITALY.

Napoleon proposes a General Conference of the Leading European Powers.

THE ITALIAN MINISTRY STILL INCOMPLETE!

Garibaldi's Movements.

THE FENIAN EXCITEMENT IN IRELAND.

(To-day's Despatches.)
Paris, Oct. 24.—At the latest accounts received from Italy last night the formation of the Italian Ministry was incomplete, in consequence of the hesitation of Gen. Durando to accept the portfolio of the Interior, tendered to him by General Cialdini. In the meantime Baron Rattazzi was acting as Prime Minister. Francis Joseph, the Emperor of Austria, arrived at Paris yesterday evening, and was received at the railway station by the Emperor Napoleon. After exchanging congratulations, the emperors entered a state carriage and were driven to the Tuileries. The Moniteur says this visit of the Emperor Francis Joseph adds a new pledge of amity to the cordial relations established between Austria and France.
Newmarket, Oct. 24.—The course to-day was crowded with spectators, and additional excitement was created by the announcement that Lozege and Welsey would run again for the Cambridgehire stakes, the contest for which on the second day resulted in a dead heat for those two horses. The race took place amid much excitement and resulted in the success of Lozege. The handicap race that followed was won by Rosicrucian, one of the winners on the first day of meeting.
London, Oct. 24th.—It is reported that Napoleon requested the European powers to unite with France in a general conference for the settlement of the Roman question and to prevent the recurrence of the recent events in Italy.
Paris, Oct. 24.—The official statement of the Bank of France reports an increase of 4,000,000 francs in bullion during the past week.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—All the German States which are not members of the Confederation have signified their intention of adding their signatures to the new postal treaty concluded between the Confederation of the North and the United States of America.
Yesterday's Despatches.
London, Sept. 23, midnight.—The following significant despatch has been received: Florence, Italy, Sept. 23, 9 p.m.—The news to-night is glorious for the cause of Italy. The Government has deemed it best to suppress the details for the present.
London, Sept. 24.—The official returns of the Bank of England show that the amount of bullion in the vaults has decreased £475,000 sterling during the week ending to-day.

Liverpool, Oct. 24.—The Board of Directors of the Royal Bank of Liverpool yesterday made an assessment of five pounds per share upon the stockholders. An examination of the condition of the bank shows that its liabilities do not exceed £1,500,000 sterling. The directors say that the institution will soon resume business.
London, Oct. 24.—Sir James South, an eminent astronomer, one of the founders and several times president of the Royal Astronomical Society, died to-day at the advanced age of eighty years.
London, Oct. 24.—In consequence of indications of a secret movement in the city of Cork, the authorities are keeping a sharp watch upon the Fenians there, and the police patrols have been doubled. The Government has refused the application of counsel for a postponement of the trial of the parties implicated in the outrage at Manchester.
London, Oct. 24.—Morning despatches from Florence say, it was known in that city early last night, that Gen. Garibaldi had traversed Italy, and succeeded in reaching Foligno, in the Province of Umbria, and that his arrival there was discovered, and he was forbidden by the Italian authorities from proceeding any further. Since then nothing has been made public of his movements or whereabouts. The London Times to-day has a strong editorial on French intervention, it stigmatizes the compulsory course of France as cruel to Italy and perilous to Europe, and declares that its effect will be transient, for the Garibaldians must rise again, and a new enterprise against Rome is inevitable.

Paris, Oct. 24, a.m.—The troops which were sent to embark on the naval expedition for the relief of Rome are now encamped around Toulon

From Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Oct. 24.—The first game of the billiard tournament to-day between Vermele and Sailer, was won by the former. Score, 300 to 295; winner's average 284. Second game Oshate and Smith won by Oshate. Third game, between Davis and Rivers, won by Davis. Fourth game, between Foster and Parker, won by Parker; average 277. Fifth game, between Ackerman and Coon, won by Coon. Score 300 to 44.

From San Francisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—A letter from Mazatlan, dated 18th, has been received here, which states that the place continues in great excitement.

From Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Flour more active $3 to $3.25 for spring extra quiet at $1.96 @ $1.97 for No. 2. Corn $1.81 for No. 2. Corn
