MAGNIFICENT CHURCH HOME

New Edifice of St. James' Presbyterian Congregation.

Description of the Building Which Will Be Opened Tomorrow-A Successful Future Augured.

Tomorrow the congregation of St. James' Presbyterian Church will enter walls and ceiling form a harmonious color scheme. The seating is of the new church home at the corner of most modern description, the pews be-Wellington and Oxford streets, and ing quartered oak. Incandescent lamps well may they entertain feelings of pride and gratification at the outcome of their efforts for its erection, for it is undoubtedly the handsomest Presbyteriar Church edifice in the city. The church is situated in a district which will doubtless prove to be for some time a constantly growing field. Build-ing operations in the neighborhood are brisk; in fact, it would not be difficult to trace the origin of many of them to the fact that the new church has been erected in its present situation. When the project of the congrega-tion's removal to its present location was first broached, it at once received the hearty sanction and commendation of the Presbyterian Council, and it is under the auspices of the council, representing the feeling of the Presbyterian body in London, that the new church begins its career.

A LIVE ORGANIZATION.

The present membership of the church is upwards of 300, and it is expected that before long it will be over The Sabbath school is one of the st encouraging features of the church's work. The membership is choir leader and organist. The organ-over 250, and rapidly growing. The ization of a permanent choir will be Sabbath school subscribed $100 to the building fund, and the Bible class gave a like amount.

In order to show the spirit that animates the church officials, it may be stated that the board of management have resigned in a body, to give an opportunity for the new members of the church to have a voice in the choice of the managers. The resignations, which were laid on the table, will be accepted, and the new board elected at the church's annual meeting early in May. The membership of the session that the church six and six more will the evening. is at present six, and six more will the evening. be added at the annual meeting. It is members that a more fortunate choice could not have been made than was done in selecting the building committee, not only on account of their ability, but also for the diligence and faithfulness with which they have discharged their duties. The committee includes Messrs. Neil McNeill, T. A. Rowat, Ald. H. M. Douglass, Gillian McLean, James Malloch, Dr. W. E. Thompson, William Webster, James son of Mr. Alex. Receipts Increasing-Judicious Expenditures Proposed-P. ints From Hon. Geo. W. Ross' Budget Speech.

Hon. George W. Ross, in the course of his budget speech on Thursday,

I am glad to believe, however, that the circumstances under which we are about to consider the financial condition of the Province of Ontario are so very favorable. We have a buoyant revenue. We hear mention made in the public press, and we find wherever come into contact with public men and with business men, that there is a feeling of confidence in the country, that an era of prosperity has set in, and that there are ideas and expectations abroad now of perhaps a larger and more stimulating character than we have experienced in Canada for many years. I do not want to any any These towers form the main vestibule of the church, with auxiliary vestibule many years. I do not want to entrench upon the domain of Dominion politics, or to discuss Dominion finances or lington street leads to both the Sunday matters of Dominion trade, yet I think I owe to my own position, and I owe no gallery in the church, but pro-vision has been made for building one when the necessity arises. The present it to the aspirations of the people of this country, that I should not strike a pessimistic note in connection with seating capacity is about 650, and the building of the gallery would increase it to nearly 1,000. The interior woodthe financial affairs of this country—
(hear, hear)—or of this province. Nor do I, at the same time, desire to raise expectations, or to stimulate unduly the disposition, perhaps, of our peo-ple to embark upon larger projects than the facts will warrant.

TRADE LARGELY INCREASED. It is very gratifying to us to know, as Canadians, that the trade of this country has so largely increased-increased by several millions of dollars -during the last year; that in all matters pertaining to the produce of the soil and of the forest, and all that brings wealth to this country, our trade is more prosperous than it has feet, and forms the rear of the buildbeen for many years. I shall not ing. It has a gallery, which is fitted inquire into the cause of that. fact remains, and the effect upon the finances of this country is apparent to everybody. A larger number of our workingmen and artisans are now em-ployed; consequently there are fewer unemployed persons in Ontario today than might have been the case in former years. Our factories, many of them, are running overtime, and markets are being opened in the old land and elsewhere to the produce of our manufactories into which they never entered before.

A fine church organ has been ordered from the Karn Company, Woodstock, and is expected to be in readiness for the last Sunday in April. A I find that in regard to the produce of the farm there has been an extra-ordinary increase in the exports in the concert and organ recital will be given about that time. Mr. Fred G. Simpson, last ten years. Of bacon, our exports ten years ago amounted to 3,879,788 pounds, as against 111,868,938 pounds

> RECEIPTS FOR 1899. Now, let us turn to the receipts of the treasurer of the province. From the statement in the hands of honor-able gentlemen they will see that the revenue of receipts for 1899 amounted to $4,096,494 96, as against $3,647,353 the previous year, or an increase of nearly half a million dollars. That increase is not confined to a few items, although it is largely composed of a

There has been no increase in the succession duties last year, but rather a falling off. Our estimate for the The Late Sergt. Scott. will be a slight increase of some $40,-000 or $50,000. The operation of the succession duties act has been very satisfactory, and, although it met with some opposition in certain quarters, when first imposed. I think, practically, all opposition is now withdrawn. It does not tax the poor man's estate; it does not even tax the estate of the man of moderate means; it reaches those larger accumulations that sometimes have been made through what has been called the profits of the unearned increment, and from savings or investments that are made by growth of large cities and by the change of centers of population.

PROVINCIAL EXPENDITURE. Now, I will refer to the expenditure of the province. In 1898 our expenditure was $3,803,081 38. In 1899 it was $3,710,420 82, or less by $92,660 56 than the expenditure of the previous year. In 1898, instead of paying our railway certificates out of revenue, we sold annuities, and they were paid in that way. In 1899 we paid railway certificates out of our ordinary revenue ac-count, and we paid out for this purpose $236,576 32. Had it not been for the increase of revenue that we received we might not have been able to do that. I think it is well that the revenue of the country should be maintained, if possible, leaving margin enough to exable us to pay these railway aid certificates as they become manner they will never forget. He due.

The charge for public institutions. hospitals and charities last year amounted to over $1,000,000. These items have furnished honorable gentlemen opposite for many years with material for criticism, which, I think, on the whole, was not very well founded, for the greatest economy is observed in the expenditure of such a large sum of

There is a slight increase in some of the items of the estimates for as compared with the estimates of the previous year. Under the heading "Civil Government," we expended last year $253,073 03. This year the estimated expenditure is $263,440. The increase there was made up by small items, such as increases in public salarries and other items, which we will have before us in detail when the estimates are reached by the house. EDUCATIONAL EXPENSES. A word or two in regard to that increase in expenditure in education. We have increased the grant for continuation classes. Then we have on our hands now a Normal School in London, which will add to the expenditure about $10,000. Then, owing to the increase of our public schools, we must increase from time to time the expenditure for inspection. The expenditure last year for that was insufficient.

COLONIZATION ROADS. Honorable gentlemen will also see that there is a considerable increase in colonization roads. Following out the policy which we enunciated some time ago, it is our intention to push the roads in the northern settlements. where we believe colonization can be effectively carried out. There are two extremes in that northern district Toronto, March 10 .- There are now 26 which will occupy our immediate atcases of smallpox in Ontario, distributtention. There is the western extreme. the Rainy River district, with over a million acres of fertile land. The settler must be got in. Our subsidy ed as follows: Toronto Junction, 15: Toronto, 3; Amherstburg, 3; townships of Malden, Mersea and Sandwich East. to the Ontario and Rainy River Rail-way will assist, but in an area exand Essex county, 1 each; Mosa and Lobo, Middlesex county, 1 each. tending 80 miles in length and 30 miles in width, a railway will not sup-ply accommodation sufficient to bring Ladysmith who figures so prominently in the war messages, is one of the oldest, largest and healthiest towns in the settler. It is our intention to make the railway a base line for the construction of colonization reads, and in that way give the settler easy Mohammedans to the number of 40 .-000 have deserted Crete. The remaining 50,000 are beginning to feel reconciled to the new order of things.

Temiscamingue, there is a solid bloom. the of 800,000 acres, which is already being evicinized, with great advantage to the settler. In the winter it is almost impossible for the settler to get to the Premier Ross on Provincial straight line, in the summer the Ottawa River furnishes admirable facilities, but it will not do to lock up the settler there, imprison him from Now. 1 to May I, and we hope to open up a road from North Bay to Lake Temiscamingue in order to at least furnish a road to the settlers in that country, whereby they can come out to the railway system and in that way con-nect themselves with the trade of the rest of the world.

> INCREASE IN ESTIMATES. The increase of this year's estimates over the estimates of 1899 is $313,724 88, while the increase in the estimates over the expenditures of 1899 is $249,448 11.As we discuss these matters in committee of the whole house, I hope to be able to show that these increases in all cases are warranted for the purpose of development. Of course, statutory in-creases will follow, and next year we hope to vote something for the improvement of the drainage of the country, and for other purposes. As we stand at this moment we are confident that we shall be able to meet the expenditure of the current year out of our ordinary revenue, and that we shall have in addition a very handsome surplus at the end of the year. It is altogether probable that our surplus at the end of the year will be at least $200,000. Last year it was over $400,000. So that we are not encroaching upon our estimated in-come by the expenditures which we

FINANCIAL STANDING.

After a reference to several sources of revenue, Mr. Ross continued: "Coming to one or two references made by the commission to what they found, let me read one or two statements. For instance, I find: 'During the first seven years the receipts of the province greatly exceeded its expenditures. reaching at the end of this term nearly $5,000,000. During the remaining 25 years there has always been considerable, and at times large, sums on hand or invested.' So that we were never bankrupt; we had always a surplus. Honorable gentlemen say we had a surplus this year, and that year, but some years we had nothing to our The commissioners say that 'during the remaining 25 years there has always been considerable, and at times large, sums on hand or invested. The interest earned for the province by this unexpended money has aggregated $3,334,347 32, or $103,160 per annum, which is equivalent to 4 per cent interest upon a continuous investment of over two and a half millions of dol-lars."

SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS OF GOOD ASSETS.

Mr. Ross then reviewed the position of the various funds of the province held in trust by the Dominion. was glad to have disposed to some extent of the loubts thrown upon the validity of the assets of the province— not glad from a party standpoint merebecause he felt he had been fully vindicated by the commission in the opinions he had previously expressed. but because he believed it ought to be excedingly gratifying to the honorable gentlemen opposite to know that we have $7,000,000 of good, hard assets in this good old Province of Ontario. THE FUTURE.

"We have done, then, with the whole transaction of the government in the last thirty years, and I can assure honorable gentlemen that as far as possible our record for the next twenty or thirty years, more or less, will be been most excellent.

MR. MATHESON'S REMARKS. Mr. Matheson rose and spoke until the house adjourned. Commencing his reply to the premier, he contended that sums amounting to $447,000 were included in last year's receipts, which really belonged to capital account, and instead of there being a surplus of some $400,000 there was a deficit of $62,000. He claimed that the province was going behind by about $400,000 per year. Mr. Matheson prophesied that unless the government imposed some more direct taxes, the premier's pros-pective surplus for the year would not be realized in any measure.

WATERTOWN'S WONDER

Everyone Talking of Miss Nellie Height's Remarkable Experience.

Watertown, N. Y., March 10 .- Very rarely do we hear of a young woman passing through such a terrible ordeal as that which Mass Nellie Haight recently experienced, and yet being alive to tell it. Miss Haight is an estimable young lady of twenty-three, a resident in this city, and justly esteemed by all who know her.

Last summer the young lady had a severe attack of scarlet fever. She made a fair recovery, but unfortunately went out too soon, caught cold, which developed into Kidney Trouble, and finally into a terribiy painful case of Bright's Disease, Her ankles swelled, her eyelids became purfy, the flesh. under her eyes became bloated so that she could not see. Her ears were affected, and discharged large quantities of pus. She became as weak as a babe; and her recovery was pronounced utterly hopeless. Several months passed. Miss Haight pining away visibly every day. One night a friend who was sitting up with her, read of a somewhat similar case that had been cured by Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills. Next day she bought a box of this medicine, and Miss Haight began using it at once. In a few days a decided improvement was noticed. The swelling abated, and in ten days she could see as well as ever. For five weeks she continued using the pills, and at the end of that time was out of bed, completely cured. Today she is attending to her ordinary duties. Had it not been for Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pils she would have been dead.
