The fact is interesting, for Daudet was, perhaps, the most romantic of modern French writers; he was not was, perhaps the most romantic of modern French writers; he was not so fine a psychologist as Anatole France, but he had that true romantic mpulse which is so rare, In his Life written by his son, Leon Daudet, have turned up a passage which marked long ago as shedding light both upon the novelist and the explorer. Here is a free translation: "As to Stanley, he did not hesitate to compare him with the conqueror of Austerlitz. The works of this great nan he never laid aside. He read them constantly. During my recent attack of typhoid fever . . . when I lay Of 56 Western Range Horses.

Mr. James Stanley, auctioneer, having received instructions from the undersigned, will offer for sale by public auction at the village of Ilderton, Friday, Aug. 26, the following, among them being 16 matched teams: Two black pairs, suitable for hearse purpose, two black pairs, three brown pairs, fiye bay pairs, two gray pairs, two chestnut pairs. The above are a good blocky type of general purpose horses, ranging in age from 3 to 5 years, weighing from 1,090 to 1,250 pounds. Sired by Clyde, Percheron and Coach. Positively no reserve; every horse must be sold. Sale starts at 1 p.m. sharp. Terms: Three months' credit on approved joint notes; 6% per annum off for cash in lieu of note. J. H. PATRICK, proprietor; JAS, Sianley, auctioneer. Decision of auctioneer to be final in all cases of dispute.

Of typhoid fever . . . when I lay helpless, beyond both memory and intelligence, he tried to recall my faculties by reading some pages of 'In Darkest Africa' or "Five Years on the Congo"; he is beside my bed, as the day declines, that mild day towards the end of May which tortures convalescents. He holds the big book in his delicate hands. He wisnes to carry me away, very far away, by the remedy which solaces his own griefs, in the track of the intrepid traveler: "Imagine, Leon, his fever, far worse than yours, in this country of terrible vegetation, under an impenetrable dome of foliage. His sole confidence is in his companions, Jephson, whom you therefore the brave fellow with the rosy cheeks, and dear Dr. Clarke in his companions, Jephson, whom you tural order or rank. have seen here, the brave fellow with the rosy cheeks, and dear Dr. Clarke.
