RAID THE MAIL OF LONDON CLUBLAND

London, Dec. 3.—Despite the vigilance of the police the suffragettes are again pouring fluid into the street mail boxes. They poured paint into a wall box in the Threadneedle street postiffice today. This office is almost next door to the Bank of England. Considerable damage was done to the letters and documents in the box.

Last night a sticky fluid was poured into a mail box on Down street, Piccadilly. The vandalism was carefully timed to catch the bulk of the letters from clubland. In addition to pouring the fluid into the box the culprit also spiked the keyhole, and the services of a locksmith were necessary before the box could be opened.

NOTABLE WEEK FOR THE "SOO" COUNTRY

Central Opens Road to Traffic.

A ROMANTIC HISTORY

Stupendous Development of Industries Following Timely Aid of the Liberal Government.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sault Ste. Marie, Dec. 4 .- Even in this Sault Ste. Marie, Dec. 4.—Even in this era of phenomenal traffic development, it is not every day that a new railway line is opened up and the first through train goes over the road. This week, therefore, is made notable by the running of the first through train on the Algoma Central Railway from the Sault to Franz, the junction point with the C. P. R.

The event has focussed attention once more on the Soo industries, of which this more on the Soo industries, of which this railway is an important adjunct, and the story of their romantle history. A visitor story of their romantic history. A visitor today, seeing the abounding activity of the steel, pulp, paper and other mills, with their auxiliary organizations, could scarcely believe that only nine years ago, in 1903, this whole group of industries was in a state of utter collapse. Since then between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 have been expended on construction work, plants and equipment, and 10,000 workplants and equipment, and 10,000 work-plants and equipment, and 10,000 workment are employed.

The Provincial Liberal Government, at the time of the collapse, in spite of the violent opposition of Sir James Whitney, then Mr. J. P. Whitney, guaranteed the bonds of the reorganized companies to the extent of $2,000,000, to assist in the completion of the Algoma Central Railway and the re-establishment of the industries on a firm basis. Whitney called the deal a "robbery," and declared with his accustomed bluster that the Government's money might just as well be thrown into the lake.

off, and the whole transaction has not cost the Province a dollar. On the other hand, business in the Soo district was for the defendants. Messrs Gibbons saved from the worst kind of depression,

HAINES WILL APPEAL

Announcement Follows Dismissal Action Against Mr. MacKay. [Canadian Press.]

Milton, Ont., Dec. 3.—D. O. Cameron, solicitor for W. H. Haines, Toronto, whose action for damages against Hon A. G. MacKay, former leader of the Ontarlo Liberals, claiming that the latter had alienated his wife's affections, was dismissed by Mr. Justice Lettch at the assizes here yesterday, will enter an appeal. He made the announcement after the dismissal of the action. His grounds are that the case was dismissed without intending to convey any impropriety going into the evidence.

ROGERS' STATEMENTS FALSE SAY HON. CHARLES MURPHY

in Speech on Macdonald

Outrages.

Ottawa, Dec. 3. — Hon. Chas. Murphy today charged Hon. Robert Rogers with deliberately making false statements in his attempt to defend the Roblin-Rogers machine outrages of the Macdonald by-election. He referred to the minister's declaration that Mr. J. J. Sullivan, of Regina, was a nephew of "Cap" Sullivan, and read the following telegram from Mr. Sullivan: "Rogers' statement absolutely false, I am not a relation, nor in any way connected with 'Cap' Sullivan."

Proceeding, Mr. Murphy read from Hansard, Mr. Rogers' declaration to Parliament that a counter-protest had been entered in the Macdonald by-election, at which his justification be made. The member from would Russell then read an official telegram from Winnipeg, stating that no such counter-protest had been entered.

"The Minister of Public Works," proceeded Mr. Murphy, "has set at defiance all codes of honor and rules of this House. Either his apology or his resignation should be forthcomto perform—namely, to conduct an investigation of the whole conduct of to this country, then special repre-sentations should be made to His Royal Highness the Governor-General, who has a right to demand a higher conception of honor and of public duty than that which has been displayed by the Minister of Public Works."
