ONLY one-way traffic on King Street, between the Western Fair grounds gate and Rectory street, will be allowed by the police next week. Chief of Police Robert Birrell announced today. On this section of the thoroughfare, 150 feet from the entrance to the grounds, side parking on the north side only will be permitted.

Motorists can drive only north on Ontario street from King to Dundas streets. Thus the traffic will move in one direction around the entire block.

TOMORROW'S DOINGS. MONDAY. The A. M. E. church commission meets at city hall, 8 o'clock.

Western Fair opens with Children's Day.

IN VIEW OF HER long and faithful service as well as valuable assistance rendered in connection with the cafeteria at the Central Collegiate Institute, Mrs. Dodd has been retained by the school to act as her salary on the staff of school caretakers.

WHEN THE GRADING of the Collegiate Institute grounds has been completed, the terrace will be sodded and the remainder left until next year. It is proposed to allow a certain portion of the grounds for the purposes of sport and recreation, and a report as to what portion should be allotted will be submitted to the school board in the near future.

IN HIS FIRST report to the school trustees, Mr. A. M. E. principal of the new South London high school, just established in the old Victoria public school, commends those who were responsible for the work of renovation. Practically everything was in readiness for the initial opening on Tuesday last, and what little work has yet to be accomplished is being hastened as speedily as possible.

For equipment have been placed, and such articles as have not been installed will arrive within the next few days. The end of next week will witness the placement of a number of new desks.

GRANT CHILDREN ONE DAY FOR FAIR

Board Will Not Declare Half-Holiday Friday as Contemplated.

As no special concessions have been granted to school children for Friday next, the Western Fair directors' members of the committee of the board of education in regular session Monday will not grant another school holiday or half-holiday, as they had already contemplated.

W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board, has received a communication from the Fair directors, advising him of this decision, adding, however, that a special admission fee of 10 cents for children, including the grandstand, will be the order for Saturday, the last day of the exhibition.

When the school trustees several weeks ago considered the problem of holidays for Fair week they favored strongly the adoption of Friday, or even Thursday and Friday, as holidays for the children. All calculations were upset, however, by the announcement from the fair board that Monday had been set aside as children's day, and the trustees had no alternative but to accept the decision as good grace as possible.

Strong opposition was registered at the time by the school inspector, as well as several members of the school board, who pointed out that a school holiday on Monday tended to disrupt the entire week. Invariably, they asserted, the students attended the Fair that day and again with their parents later in the week.

STATES UNION OF CHURCHES NEAR

Rev. R. R. Ball Predicts Difficulties Before Colored Branches Are Admitted.

Says "Race Prejudice Is Spreading Cancer and Found Everywhere."

While union of Protestant churches on the continent was not far off, possible difficulty was almost certain to arise before the colored branches of the church would be admitted, was the opinion of the Rev. R. R. Ball, D.D., pastor of the American Methodist Episcopal Zion Church at Hartford, Conn., in his address at the 16th annual convention of the British Methodist Episcopal Church Friday evening.

Rev. Mr. Ball stated that difficulties were already noted in the United States that might mean the exclusion of three branches of the colored church, totalling a membership over 200,000 people. "Race prejudice is a spreading cancer," said Mr. Ball, "and is found everywhere."

"The policy best to their good would be to discuss a union of their own, and later, when the right time presented itself, be ready to join in general and universal church union."

Recalls Past. Beginning with a brief resume of his own younger life and the pleasant recollections of the different bishops with whom he worked, Rev. Ball stated that no duty could be more pleasant than the one before him. Many old faces, to which were attached many pleasant personal experiences, made his short return to his native land a happy one.

"The A. M. E. Zion Church," stated Rev. Mr. Ball, "dated back to the troubled times when the negro race were persecuted on all sides. It was born in 1796," said the speaker, "and grew out of a sense of responsibility and as a result of the iniquitous slavery to which the negro was subjected."

There are now nearly 600,000 members, but mission work would be carried on that should raise the membership to nearly the two million mark, he said. On that day, commented the speaker, union with white Methodists would be possible.

President at Meeting. Rev. Mr. Drake presided over the meeting and in a few brief remarks pointed with pride to the fact that the present convention was the best general conference in the history of the church. He paid tribute to the guest and speaker of the evening, Rev. R. R. Ball, pointing especially to the vigor and aggressiveness with which he did his work. "He is one of our boys," said Mr. Drake, "and he has won for himself a distinct place in the hearts of his people."

Only Fifty Dollars. "Oh, but this is only a matter of $50," objected Principal Mooney.

"It's a matter of principle, not money altogether," replied Trustee Campbell, while Principal Mooney admitted that it would be possible to divide the work among the several teachers, but questioned the effectiveness of such an arrangement.

"Viewing the question from Trustee Smith's angle," he continued, "we cannot compel the teachers, either, to remain after 4 p.m."

Trustee Smith, on this point and Principal Miller volunteered the opinion that the efficiency of the work would be reduced 50 per cent.

"Oh, come, come," Trustee Smith exclaimed. "Just go around the schools after 4 o'clock any night and you will notice the teachers coming out as rapidly as the pupils."

"Yes, but look at the work they do at home," countered Principal Miller, assuming the offensive for his associate, who lay back for a spell.

"But look at the work businessmen do at home," suggested Trustee Smith.

"We are not viewing the question from a businessman's angle today," cautioned Trustee Udy, entering the arena for the first time, just as Trustee Campbell reiterated that "it was not a question of graft, but an example of what is being done by reason of custom."

"What are the detention classes for?" queried Trustee Rev. A. A. Bice, turning the conversation into new channels.

Suggests Flogging. "A good flogging would correct that practice," declared the ministerial trustee, when acquainted of the fact that the class was usually composed of late arrivals, talkative students, and the like. "I have two. Just send one of them home with a late report, and I venture to say that it won't occur again."

"Well, we are not dealing with that phase of the question, either," remarked Trustee Campbell, in an obvious effort to keep the struggle confined to one point.

"But this has been passed in two schools already. What are we to do?" was the opportune question from Trustee Silverwood, hitherto a silent participant.

"Yes. What about the others?" queried Principal Mooney, grasping at this opportunity to score a point.

"Well, if they come again, we'll vote it down," promised Trustee Campbell. "That's the trouble with a big board. A lot of these little things get by."

Trustees Smith, Udy and Campbell voted against the proposal, "as a matter of principle," while the minority consisted of Trustees Casselman and Bice.

As the concluding feature of the event, Principal Mooney explained that he would not request the $50 grant for the South London Collegiate, as he had a scheme in mind.

POSTPONE INITIAL TEST ON EGERTON STREET WELL

Thomas O. Poe, Manager of Drilling Company, Holds Well Inefficiently Packed.

There will be no initial test this week of the city's new well, near Egerton street, southwest London.

Arriving in the city Friday afternoon as scheduled, Thomas O. Poe of Massillon, Ohio, general manager of the Ohio Drilling Company, whose experts have been engaged in this locality for more than a year, has departed for home without directing the proposed test.

The manager held that the new well was not sufficiently packed, and the test was accordingly postponed. Several more loads of gravel will be placed in the sides of the well. This undertaking will probably occupy another week's time.

Trustees Battle One Hour Over Fifty Dollars

REFUSE MOONEY'S REQUEST. MEMBERS of the collegiate institute committee of the board of education Friday with one stroke of the pen, as it were, upset one of the traditions of the department and indulged in a free-for-all discussion, that only terminated when Principal Mooney, of the central collegiate institute, bet Trustee Edwin Smith a mess of stewed oysters for all hands that he was somewhat amiss in his calculations.

The impromptu debate, sandwiched in between the coal dispute and the Kingston Construction Company controversy, continued for a tolerable spell, and was precipitated by the suggestion from Principal Mooney that the committee sanction a grant of $50 toward the Princess avenue school, such monies to be employed as remuneration for the demagogue whose duty it now is to preside at the detention class of high school pupils—a permanent feature there each day after 4 p.m.

Principal Mooney essayed the explanation that similar appropriations have been made to the collegiate for a period of time that baffles the memory of the oldest resident of the city.

Proposal Lost. The proposal was lost after a lengthy but illuminating discussion, and a precedent was established in local educational circles that has yet, however, to "run the gauntlet" at a regular session of the board.

"It strikes me offhand," commented Trustee Bryden Campbell, as a preliminary hint of opposition, "that there are more of these little extras that one would suspect before becoming a member of the board."

"No. According to the department rules and regulations, you can't pay to keep children in after 4 o'clock," announced Trustee Edwin Smith.

"But we can," retorted Principal Mooney. "The regulation provides that they must remain a certain number of hours. We can keep them until 4:30 p.m. in any event."

Concurs With College. As Mr. Mooney, principal of the South London high school, threw his weight into the fight, concurring with his colleague from the central school, Trustee Smith advanced the information that "such could not be legally accomplished to his knowledge."

There is no law in the land that states we cannot keep the children in," persisted Principal Mooney, still on the offensive.

"I'll show you that there is," challenged Trustee Smith.

"Good enough. I'll pay for the oysters," shot back the principal, picking up the gauntlet, readily enough.

"And I'll eat them," rejoined the trustee, while exclamations of protest sounded about the board as other members of the committee invited themselves to the impending spread, regardless of who the winner might be.

Free switching on the trunk line between the Byron Telephone Association switchboard and Caradoc-Ekfrid Telephone Association switchboard was granted by the Byron Association by the Ontario Municipal and Railway Board at the courthouse yesterday afternoon. The two companies were unable to come to an agreement on the matter, and asked the board to settle it.

W. R. Wadsworth of the Caradoc-Ekfrid concern was refused the right to occupy space on the poles of the Byron company, being instructed to build a parallel line to Line 36 of the Byron Association. Byron officials claimed he had taken a number of subscribers from this particular line, and had placed them on the trunk line as subscribers of the Caradoc-Ekfrid Association.

It has been ruled that the trunk line must be cleared for each other. The Byron Association will be required to pay for pin space on the trunk line.

OFFERS SECOND SITE FOR SOUTH END COLLEGIATE. Trustees To Send Board Secretary and Principal Miller To View Property.

Some people have evidently assimilated the impression that the school board had offered a substantial sum for a veritable site-purchasing orgy.

Extending it as a likely locality for another South London collegiate institute, a resident of Wharfedale road south had offered a substantial sum of land for sale to School Trustee A. E. Silverwood and his associates.

Trustee Silverwood has suggested that Secretary Tanner and E. A. Miller, principal of the South London High School, drive out to the site some morning before breakfast and bring back a report.

As the property is said to be out near the city limits, Trustee Rev. A. Bice suggests this committee do so, scrap its plan to segregate Chinese from white pupils, the board has no intention of abandoning its policy, which, school trustees believe, has the overwhelming support of the electors.

This was made clear by school board members today, and it was declared that the strike of Chinese students, who refused to attend their classes early this week, was falling.

Oil Light Beats Electric or Gas Burns 94% Air

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, S. E. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

REPORT COAL SECURED FOR FORD MOTOR PLANTS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—According to a telegram given out today by Ernest F. Hensley, president of the American Export and Inland Coal Company, with offices in this city, an agreement has been entered into with representatives of Henry Ford, of Detroit, by which a sufficient amount of coal will be forwarded to the manufacturing plants of the Ford Motor Company to obviate the shutdown that was scheduled for September 16.

COMPLETE ROAD BY SATURDAY

Superintendent Will Open One Side of Dundas Street Sunday.

Concrete Base Must Set Before Street Cars Can Be Operated.

Provided that there is no weather interference Saturday, the new asphalt pavement on Dundas street, from Ashland avenue to the city limits, will be completed on one side Saturday night, and traffic will be opened on this thoroughfare Sunday morning. This announcement was made by William Hunter, paving superintendent, Saturday morning.

Asphalt surfacing of the new pavement, north of the street car tracks, is practically completed, and it is upon this section that traffic will be permitted to operate. As this area is 24 feet in width, there will be room for autos to travel east and west, and to pass one another. One small section of the pavement near Hale street has not been completed, owing to the fact that new tracks on the London Street Railway loop must be laid, but no detour will be necessary at this point Sunday. City Engineer Brazier permitting motor cars to traverse the concrete base which has been laid.

The announcement that traffic will be opened Sunday morning comes as a welcome one to motorists of London and district, as it eliminates a detour on this popular highway and saves inconvenience. Superintendent Hunter would not venture an opinion Saturday as to when the entire pavement on both sides of the car tracks will be opened, but pointed out that the completed section will be open to traffic during Fair week.

New tracks of the London Street Railway Company have been laid on this section, but cars will not operate for several days, pending setting of the concrete base.

Progress is also reported on the new pavement on Hamilton road, from Egerton to St. Julien streets. The tracks at present laid on this thoroughfare will be utilized in the new pavement, but Oxford south cars stop at Egerton street, as the rails further east are being elevated. Small cars, however, will be permitted to complete on one side of the tracks, and is being done on the other side.

Most Eminent Sir Knight Campbell was assisted in the installation by Sir Knight W. A. Wilson. Much satisfaction has been expressed among Knights Templar of London and district that Eminent Sir Knight Harley should be honored throughout Canada. He is treasurer of Richard and Coeur De Lion Preceptory of London.

Other honors which have been bestowed on Knights Templar of the Forest City include the election of Right Excellent Sir Knight A. B. Barr, Past Provincial Prior to the Grand Council of the Sovereign Great Priory of Canada. Both Eminent Sir Knight Harley and Right Excellent Sir Knight Barr delivered addresses at the installation ceremonies in the Masonic Temple Friday night.

CLAIM CHINESE PUPILS' STRIKE LOSING GROUND

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 8.—While Chinese have retained W. J. Taylor, K.C., to force the school board to scrap its plan to segregate Chinese from white pupils, the board has no intention of abandoning its policy, which, school trustees believe, has the overwhelming support of the electors.

This was made clear by school board members today, and it was declared that the strike of Chinese students, who refused to attend their classes early this week, was falling.

IMPOSES FINE ON 7 CHIROPRACTORS

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 8.—Seven of the eleven chiropractors found guilty earlier in the week of violating the British Columbia medical act were today fined $50 or more in jail by Magistrate H. C. Shaw. Dr. Lovering, for a second offense, was fined $100 and costs or two months in jail.

Sentences in the cases of three other doctors charged with third offenses will be announced on Monday.

REPORT COAL SECURED FOR FORD MOTOR PLANTS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—According to a telegram given out today by Ernest F. Hensley, president of the American Export and Inland Coal Company, with offices in this city, an agreement has been entered into with representatives of Henry Ford, of Detroit, by which a sufficient amount of coal will be forwarded to the manufacturing plants of the Ford Motor Company to obviate the shutdown that was scheduled for September 16.

No Coal Orders Would Have Brought Further Condemnation

ALD. JOHN ASHTON has come to the defense of Mayor Cameron Wilson in regard to comment of members of the board of education Friday, who alleged that his workshop authorized the purchase of 2,000 tons of inferior coal for use in city homes next winter, and was the victim of "pirates."

"If Mayor Wilson had not ordered this coal he would have been much more vigorously condemned," declared Ald. Ashton Saturday morning. "He did his best under the circumstances, regardless of what any school trustees say. You cannot please everybody, and Mayor Wilson did his duty. I am sure that he has pleased the majority of citizens when he ordered this coal to prevent a shortage next winter."

Adopting the policy of "watchful waiting," members of No. 3 committee of the board of education in special session Friday afternoon reviewed at great length the situation to date relative to the Central Collegiate Institute and the Kingston Construction Company, agreed among themselves that "they were all right so far" and deferred action indefinitely.

This demeanor was by no means the unanimous feeling of all in attendance, as School Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board, suggested that the Kingston Construction Company should be notified that liens for varying amounts, aggregating a sum of approximately $8,000, had been placed against the new structure by local and outside firms who seek this money as due them for services rendered to the former concern.

Will Delay Action. While the chairman of the board voiced the desire that the company should be acquainted of the fact that the trustees were about to settle with the sub-contractors, his colleagues entertained contrary views, holding that nothing drastic should be attempted until a final report had been submitted by the Kingston firm, the building formally inspected and the city solicitor consulted. The latter procedure will be the order.

A report, purporting to reveal what the school board actually owed the contractors, and prepared by school officials, was considered. Figures are being withheld from the public in the meanwhile at the instigation of Trustee A. E. Silverwood, chairman, who elucidated "this is our report. This business may end up in the court yet and we have not their figures as yet."

As the school architect, L. E. Carrothers, reported that all work was completed at the collegiate, it was proposed by Chairman Silverwood that a complete survey of the building be conducted before the same is finally accepted. This suggestion met with general approval and the committee, after four weeks, will visit the school and grounds on a tour of inspection.

Architect To Report. As suggested by Trustee A. N. Udy, chairman of No. 1 committee, the architect will also furnish a written report upon the work.

Trustee Edwin Smith, inquired from the architect, "where is Mr. Wright, the superintendent of the Kingston company?"

None could shed light upon his probable location at that moment, and the trustee opined that "it was a peculiar thing that after asking for publicity to the fact that the company owed nothing, that the same should come upon the building."

One of the members evinced a desire to know whether there was any assurance that no further liens would be forthcoming. Architect Carrothers volunteered the information that it would now be legally impossible for anyone to secure a lien on the collegiate as the time limit had expired. "mistake which relief was required on the faces of all present at this news."

"We're all right then," assented Trustee Bryden Campbell, while Trustee Smith urged that some immediate action be taken, such as a notification to the company. Trustee Campbell thought that the city solicitor would be the person to consult.

The committee considered several reports respecting the central and South London High Schools.

LISTOWEL H. S. ATHLETIC OFFICIALS ARE CHOSEN

LISTOWEL, Sept. 8.—The annual election of officers of the local High School Athletic Association was held this afternoon, with the following results: Honorary president, Mayor A. E. Malcolm; president, G. MacDonald; secretary-treasurer, K. Chamney; L. Godfrey, S. MacQuarrie, G. Walter and J. MacDonagh were appointed on the executive. A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers.

The Northern Counties field day will be staged here some time this month, with Harrison, Mount Forest, Wingham and Listowel high schools competing. The local high school captured the honors last year at Mount Forest.

FIND ENTOMBED MINERS DID NOT GIVE SIGNALS

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 8.—A most thorough investigation indicates that no signals have been heard from the 47 entombed miners in the Argonaut mine, who were trapped there by a fire on Aug. 27, mine officials announced today. Sounds believed to have been signals must have been either imagination of the rescue crews or else noises in the Kennedy mine, from which the rescue work is being attempted.

BAINS WIN 2ND SERIES, BEATING RAMBLERS 6-4

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 8.—The Bains tonight defeated the Ramblers by 6-4, and at the same time won the championship of the second series of the City League. They will now fight it out for the city championship by playing the first series winners, the Businessmen, on Wednesday.

What week Flynn, on the mound for the city winners, the Businessmen, was very wild, while he only allowed four hits, half of the Ramblers followed his erratic work on the mound. Wilson hit a homer, while Lynch, Reynolds and Storey had three-base clouts to their credit. The summary:

The score: R.H.E. Bains 4 4 3 Ramblers 6 4 3 Batteries—Flynn and Whitehead; Thompson and Henderson.

LONDON DOG FANCIERS WIN. London dog fanciers captured many of the big prizes at the Toronto Exhibition this year. W. H. Short's wire-haired fox terrier "Lady Fair" winning first prize in the class of the dog of the classes was exhibited in, while Henry Whitsett's smooth-haired terrier introduced it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

DELAY MEETING SCHOOL LIENS

London Board of Education Postpones Action Regarding Collegiate Debts.

Will Consult Solicitor With Reference To Sub-Contractors' Claims.

Adopting the policy of "watchful waiting," members of No. 3 committee of the board of education in special session Friday afternoon reviewed at great length the situation to date relative to the Central Collegiate Institute and the Kingston Construction Company, agreed among themselves that "they were all right so far" and deferred action indefinitely.
