Hints to Housekeepers.

(By Eliza R. Parker.)

Every housekeeper should know: That salt should be kept in a dry place.

That melted butter will not make a good

That veal should be white, dry and close-

That the colder eggs are the quicker they

That good management is better than a good income.

That mutton should be deep red and close-

That nutmegs should be grated at the blos-om-end first.

That to make good pastry the ingredients must be very cold.

That the best poultry has firm flesh, yel-

That the best poultry has firm flesh, yellow skin and legs.

That lemons will keep for weeks if covered with cold water.

That the best beef is moderately fat and the fiesh of a bright red color.

That pork should be fine, close-grained and the rind smooth and thin.

That sixty degrees is not too low for the temperature of a dining-room.

That soap and chalk mixed and rubbed on mildewed spots will remove them.

That a brush dipped in salf-water should be used in cleaning bamboo furniture.

That oll-stains may be removed from wall-paper by applying, for four hours, powdered pipe-clay mixed with water to the thickness of cream.—' Woman's Home Companion.'

"YOUR WANTS SUPPLIED."

(A Consecutive Story by the Advertiser).

Chapter 1.

If you love me as I love you, No knife can cut our love in two."

When we describe an article as being such and so our customers will find it to be exactly so, and in this way we will keep our customers, and they will always speak a good word for us to their friends. We are going to show the publishers of every paper in which we advertise each article that we offer in our advertisements, so that patrons may have every confidence that goods will be as represented.

We only handle a few of the best selling articles in the city, and as we buy these in larger quantities than the retail stores, we can get them at lower prices.

Thus we are able to prepay postage or expressage and charge our customers city prices, and sometimes less than city prices, and still have a small but sufficient margin of profit to pay us. Hence those at the property of the property of the property of the payors they have the same advantages enjoyed by Montrealers they have the benefit of the expressions in selections the themselves. Perhaps more, because they have the benefit of our experience in selecting the

The first article we want to offer the readers of this paper is a pocket knife.

An outline cut can give but a poor idea of this handsome white bone handle knife, but it will serve to give an exact idea of its size and shape. (This handle is frequently sold as ivory, but it is really select bone.) The manufacture is of the best, being by the celebrated Rodgers, of Sheffield.

The Price. This knife costs in local stores from 50c up. Our price: 50c to any address in Canada, or more knives in same box at 45c each. Send money by express or Post Office Order.

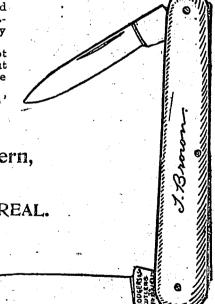

Two or more knives in same box at 45c each. Send n (When writing for this knife refer to 'N. M.' No. I.)

Name on handle, 25c extra. Initials, only 15c extra.

This Knife, though intended for gentlemen, would be found of much more use to a lady than the majority of ladies' knives—which are usually too flimsy for ordinary use.

These knives won't cut through nails and are not intended for pruning hooks or can openers, but they will put a fine point on a lead pencil and are keen and strong and dainty.

As we have taken up quarters in the 'Witness' Building, address
