HERONS OF THE DOCTORS AND CLERGY.—A considerable number of medical men, as well as some clergymen and relieving officers, have fallen victims of typhus, raised in their instances by the sick and dying, and in both houses by the pestilence.

SIX ROYAL PEST MEASURES.—It should never for a moment be forgotten that, at the close of the corn law campaign of 1846, my noble relative, the leader of the Protectionists, objected to the passing of that measure on the ground of its inevitable tendency to cause an excessive drain of gold.

STEAMSHIP GUADALQUIVER.—SIR.—It is with the greatest pleasure I transmit to you the following resolutions, passed unanimously at a meeting held this day, on board of the above ship, with a request that you will undertake the (to you) a certain pleasing task of seeing the third one carried into effect as soon as may be convenient, and also, that you will make any public use of the said resolutions you may deem proper.

DEAR SIR.—The undersigned, passengers in the steamship Guadalquivir, under your command, cannot separate without an expression of our favourable opinion of the good qualities of the vessel, and of our well founded estimate of the high qualifications of her Commander.

COLONIAL DISPATCH.—The following communication, addressed by the Civil Secretary to the Montreal Board of Trade, embodying the substance of a recent despatch from the Colonial Secretary of State, has been handed on for publication, and is of the most important character.

Montreal, 27th Aug. 1847. Sir.—I am commanded by the Governor General to state to you, for the information of the Board of Trade, that the despatch, forwarded to the Colonial Secretary in reply to his Despatch, which was presented to His Excellency on the 15th March last, and in which the Memorialists invited attention not only to several measures relating to the Fiscal and Commercial Regulations of Canada, which it is the peculiar province of the Colonists as the Memorialists contend, would result from a modification of the Navigation Laws of the United Kingdom, and from the removal of restrictions at present applicable to the Navigation of the St. Lawrence by Foreign Vessels.

THE VERY GREAT, however, of this being a peculiarly Canadian question, and as such, admitting of a separate solution, it is more than commonly important that the sense of the Canadian Legislature on the subject should be ascertained before any attempt is made to effect a settlement of it; and, however great may be the consideration justly due to the body from which this Memorial proceeds, Her Majesty's Government would not feel justified in coming to a final decision upon a question so materially affecting, not only the public interests and the commerce of the Empire at large, but also the special fiscal interests of Canada, without a formal expression on the part of the Provincial Legislature, of its approbation and concurrence.

THE CENSUS.—Amongst the bills passed through the House by Government last Session, was one for Improving the mode of taking the census. Many very valuable additions to our stock of information will probably be afforded us under the provisions of this enactment. Some hon. members indeed thought the powers given to the Commissioners were too insignificant a character, and some amendments were proposed to obviate the late Government's error, in not providing for the extension of the census to the returns published in the United States, of the number and extent of Manufactures, and the quantity of produce raised by our agriculturists.

THE BOARD OF OFFICERS is hereby, by command of His Excellency the Governor General, directed to take into consideration and to investigate the facts stated in each of the several applications, and to report to His Excellency for the information of Her Majesty, and to enable those commanded by Her Majesty to deliver to the Board of Officers, in alphabetical lists made up by the Board of Officers, who have alphabetical lists made up of the names of the claimants to one of these medals, with his or her rank and the name of the battle for which he claims, to receive the same inserted in the margin, and at which the Board of Officers may consider them to be present.

THE FRENCH STEAMER MISSOURI.—This vessel, it appears, sailed from Cherbourg for Boston on the 31st July; after 14 days' sail she ran out of coal, and was obliged to use her spare sails, benches, and the furniture of her cabin for fuel, and had to alter her course when her coal failed, had which part she had supplied with more by the British revenue cutter Darling, and also with a chart of the Nova Scotia coast, the captain having left his home. A bright sea, which the Steam Company must be held by Mr. Ham by the vessel, who will enjoy the same public notice as may be desired, respecting the several provisions of the Common School Law. 2. To consider any explanation that may be desired, respecting the several provisions of the Common School Law. 2.
