Gagnon officiated, assisted by Rev. Father Tiernan of London, Ont., as deacon, and Rev. Father Burke, of Prince Edward Island, as sub deacon. Two sermore were preached, one in Eng lish by the Rev. Father Henning, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, and in French by the Rev. C. E Carrier, Superior of Levis College.

After Mass the procession reformed and returned to Tara Hall, where the following address of congratulation and welcome was read in English by Mr. P. Kerwin. President of Branch No 108: For the last two years we have been longing with unsurpassed patience for the happy moment when we could welcome you in our midet: that moment has now arrived, and we hasten to tender you a sincere and hearty welcome.

We are pleased to have you amongst us, and we are prepared to show by the actions of ourselves and our friends that we appreciate your kindness in consenting to hold your convention in the grand old city of Quebec, and we mean to prove beyond doubt that you made no mistake in your choice.

You are now in a place which all true Canadians should be proud of; a city that always has been, and ever shall be. the home of civil and religious liberty. Since the last gathering, our only enemy, death, has removed from us many of our brothers, notably our grand spiritual adviser, His Grace Archbishop Walsh, of Toronto, for which, as a body, we deeply mourn. Let your deliberations be so wise and prudent that the future may bring as much good and prosperity to us as your work in the past has done.

In conclusion, dear Brothers, we extend to you a hearty greeting, and our earnest wish is that the meeting in your able hands will be as successful as all past ones have been, and redound credit on yourselves and our noble Association. On behalf of branches 96 and 249, of Devie, and 97, 108, 110 and 238 of Scoretary This was acknowledged by the Hon. Mr. Hackett, after which the address was repeated in French by Dr. Jolicour, President of the Executive Committee, and responded to by Dr. Beliveau, of Shediac, N.B., First Vice-President of the Grand Council.

The afternoon session was marked by the delivery of an able speech by the Grand President. Mr M. F. Hackett, M L.A., during the course of which he reviewed the history of the organization, and in a manner that commanded the attention of the delegates. Mr. Hackett commenced by giving some statistics and extracts from the annual reports, and stated that since their meeting in Ottawa two years ago, 2,500 new members had been added to the as sociation, and thirty new branches had been organized since that date, with every prospect of there being many serve fund, had been paid out. Continuing, the Grand President referred to the obstacles which the organization had to overcome in its infancy. He was not unmindful of the fact that in this province there were many religious and national benevolent societies appealing for the usual sympathy and support of the public, but the field was broad enough for all, and the C.M B A. of Canada had no rivilry with any other kindred organization except in doing public and private good. He irusted they would not deem him egoritical if he cherished the hope, and ventured the prediction, that the fruit of the present convention, now be ing held in Quebec's rock bound capital, would impart new life and vigor to the work, would stimulate their members, and cause them to take a more active interest in the organization, so that when they met again in convention he hoped Quebec, would take the place as the banner Province of the Association. Mr. Hackett referred very feelingly to the death of the late lamented Archhishop Walsh, whose loss he stated had brought sorrow to many a Canadian heart, but doubly, so to the C.M.B.A., of Cinada, of which he had been from the foundation of its Council to the time of his death the Grand Spiritual Adviser. Referring to the officials, he said: I would not be true to the best interests of the organization if I did not recognize the most valuable assistance: tendered times untiring zeal, his unceasing ardor, and

Annual Pilgrimage of the League of the Sacred Heart, Held to Lanoraie, Was a Great Success - Seven Hundred Parishioners Attend.

A pilgrimage, in honor of the Sacred Heart, took place last Wednesday, the 24th of August, to the Shrine of the at Landraie. The pilgrimage was under the direction of the Rev. Father Driscoll, director of the League of the Sacred Heart of St. Patrick's parish. Nearly seven hundred persons were in board the steamer Three Rivers. Profess r Fowler and several members of St. Patrick's choir, assisted by a large number of lady singers, took charge of the musical programme, which was very devotional and well rendered. Three priests of St. Patrick's led in the devotions-the Rev. Father Quinlivan (the parish priest), Rev. Father Driscoll and Rev. Father Fallon.

A spirit of piety and devotion pre vailed during the whole pilgrimage Numbers of tapers continually burned before a bean ful statue of the Sacred Heart on board, placed there by the kindness of the Mesers. D & J. Sadlier The beads were recited in two parts of the boat simultaneously. A sermon was given on the boat by the Rev. Father Fallon, on the imitation of the Sacred Heart of Jesus in the four great desires to eat this Pasch with you before I a baptism, wherewith I am to be baptiz ed, and now am I straitened until it is accomplished?" A burning thirst forfire on the earth, and what will I but | courts and 10,786 Brother Foresters. that it be kindled? . All listened with great attention to the sermon. The beads were said again before landing. When Linoraie was reached all the people walked religiously in sprocession o the church, where Rev. Father Quinlivan preached an interesting and instructive sermon on Pilgrimages, and commented on several of the wonderful promises made by Our Lord to those who should honor His Sacred Heart. . Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was then given by the Rev. Father Driscoll, and a time was given to private devotion, and all returned to the boat for the homeward trip, during which the third part of the Rosary was said.

All were pleased with the Pilgrimage.

and Lefebvre. His Grace Archbishop Duhamel presided, and was assisted by Rev. Fathers Valiquette, Grandfils and Therien. Rev. Father Groulx, of the Builica, acted as master of ceremonies.

Rev. Father Fallon of St. Joseph's, Ottawa, preached an eloquent sermon in English. His text was Behold how good and how plea ant it is for brethern to dwell together in unity."

Brotherhood, he said, is the watchword of the age in which we live. This is a century of organization. In every aphere of human activity, in commerce, in politics, in all branches of society, men banded themselves together for the furtherance of common aims and objects. The individual counts for nothing, it is the organized body that wields power. In order not to lose their influence it became an absolute necessity under the circumstances for Catholic laymen to unite together as brethren with certain well defined purposes for mutual support and personal advancement. The Catholic order of Foresters is one of the resalts of this necessity. It is another society. Written across the first page of its character are these sublime words : The object of this organization shall be to promote friendship and unity and true Catholic charity among its members : friendship in assisting each other by every honorable means; unity is ansociating together for mutual support of one another when sick or in distress; true Catholic charity in doing to each ther is we would that others should do unto us.'

These are noble aims, and when men unite for such purposes the blessings of G.d and of God's church will be upon them, and indeed the Catho ic Order of G d and of God's church will be upon Foresters are visibly blessed. In the few years of its existence it has spread throughout Canada and the United States The explanation of its success is found in the fact that it has been true to its title, 'Catholic, and as long as it remains faithful to its Catholic princi The Commissioners Hold an Informal ples it will fi urish and be successful.

The preacter went on to explain the pride which F resters should take in being faithful Catholics. A good Fores ter would be a good Catholic. A had Catholic never could be a good Forester. The sermon concluded with an exhortation to the members present to be faithful to the principles of their order, which were approved by the Citholic Church They would go on and increase and be come a great power for Gad's glory, the inter s's of Catholicity and the spiritual and temporal welfare of Foresters every

The procession, at the close of the services at the church, marched to the City Hall, where Mayor Barrette welcomed the delegates. He said: Allow me as the representative of Hall to attest to the pleasure we feel to be this day honored with your presence amongst us and to offer you the cordial hospitality which you should receive at our hands for having selected our humble city as the seat of your convention. Knowing, gentlem is, that the delegates who e present the choice of the Catholic For esters' Courts of the Province of Quebec, I dare not promise that you will be as worthily received as you deserve. I, however, trust that you will perceive that the citizens of this city can appre ciate the honor which you have besto wed on them, and I beg that you will accept at their hand and on my part our most sincere thanks. lag flying, which characterized the opening of the great Conference on Taesday last, in no way militates against its importance in the eyes of the general public, though there is certainly a section of our people who attach much value to the pomp and pageantry which accompany the opening and closing of our Local Legislature, and who would have been more deeply impressed if the advent of the Commissioners had been heralded by salvos of artiflery and martial strains.

unostentatious mode adopted, and will further approve the decision to deliberate with closed doors, as rending to encourage fuller, (reer and more friendly discussion than if every statement made, or sentiment discussed, was to be subject to gallery comment or criticism.

The proceedings on Monday were purely preliminary and formal. Lord Herschell was elected to preside over the sittings, on motion of Senator Fairbank, one of the American representatives and an adjournment to Tue-day was agreed upon.

Leaving the Council Chamber, the Commissioners were conducted to the Legislative Assembly room, when they were formally welcomed by the Mayor in an address which His Worship read. first in French, and then in English. To this a very friendly and eloquent roply chargymen, professors, mercantilemen. was made by Senator Fairbanks, who was followed by Lord Herschell. Assuming that the Senator voiced the sentiments of his colleagues, the American members of the Commission are evidently approaching the conference in the very best spirit and with an earmest desire that its proceedings shall be of a character to emphasize and confirm the better feeling which now happily marks the relations between them and Great Britain and her colonies.

At the conclusion of the proceedings connected with the address presentation, the Commission dispersed, to meet, on Marcy at the McAuley Academy, Keese-Thursday. the questions the conference is to be asked to consider-how they will treat them remains to be seen.

The greater questions, such as the Behring Sea difficulty, reciprocity in trade, the Atlantic fisheries, the Alask in boundary, bonding privileges, preservation of fish in contiguous waters, after labor, wrecking laws, etc., will probably be reserved till the smaller and less important ones are disposed of, or, at least, discussed. This seems desirable, as, if anything like a serious difference should be encountered in dealing with the greater matter, it might projudice the discussion of the lesser ones, however little they might provoke difference of opinion on their merita.

The general impression is that the sitting will be a long one, and this is confirmed to some extent by the fact that Senator Fairbanks has brought his family with him, and his colleagues shoe that they have come prepared for a long stay.

There can be no doubt that Quebec is fully sensible of the honor c nferred upon it by selecting it as the scene of tals the most important negotiation that has taken place between the two countries since the separation of the American colonies from the motherland.
