

I.L. Hyland, Esq., - 2 -

Mrs. Jim Shotwell (Margaret Harvey). She and Jim were at the Conference in Honolulu, which I attended. She is the same bright companion as always. You may remember Anne Ashwell. Her husband died last Spring and she now holds some position in the Library of the University of Alberta, Edmonton. When I go home I very often meet Jessie Murdoch, but what has become of most of the other members of that Matriculation Class, I do not know. Miss Balmer, of course, is dead, while Miss Laura L. Jones is still teaching, I believe, near Port Hope. I often see Mr. Wetherell in Toronto. Whenever I address a public body there he is always present and I think regards me much more favourably than he did in the early 90s. He keeps his age wonderfully well and looks about the same as always.

With all kind wishes, I am,

Yours faithfully,
