

of a History of Engineering, in which the achievements of Chinese as engineers previous to the time when it began to be influenced by Western civilization, will be described at great length.

May 30th 1929

Dr. Robert de Résillac-Roese