

EXECUTIVE PARDONS—Continued.

Page.

Proportion of convicts under different terms of imprisonment pardoned.....	296
1. In the state prison of Massachusetts .....	297
2. In the state prison of Ohio.....	298
3. In the state prison of Wisconsin .....	299
4. In the eastern penitentiary of Pennsylvania .....	300
Curious results yielded by these statistics.....	302
Average of pardons on all convicts in American state prisons from 15 to 20 per cent .....	302
The philosophy of this large percentage of pardons .....	303
The hope of pardon well nigh universal .....	303
The effect of this hope on convicts bad in many ways .....	304
The pardoning power too freely exercised.....	304
Annual pardons for ten years in Wisconsin state prison, with Mr. Cordier's opinion thereupon.....	305
In the opinion of wardens, some limitations should be placed on the prerogative of pardon .....	305
A power of pardon necessary and wise .....	306
Its too frequent exercise objectionable, because—
1. It nullifies the certainty of punishment .....	307
2. It increases the hope of pardon, already too strong in convicts ....	307
3. It impedes the reformation of prisoners .....	307
All difficulty in the matter of pardons would be obviated by adopting the principle of reformation sentences .....	308

SECTION FOURTEENTH.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS.....	308-312
The science of statistics as relating to crime and criminal justice too much neglected in U. S. ....	308
Great importance of this science .....	308
Statistics indispensable to enable us to judge of the operation of any law or system .....	308
Must be gathered from a wide field and during a long period, to be of any value .....	308
Illustration of this necessity .....	309
Generalization unsafe from facts gathered from narrow districts and confined to brief periods.....	310
Statistics of prisons full, uniform and collected with regularity, needed ....	310
Such statistics should be gathered from the whole country .....	311
A national prison bureau necessary for this .....	311
Such a bureau would be true economy .....	311
Would afford essential and effective aid in the battle against crime.....	311

SECTION FIFTEENTH.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS .....	312-313
Comparative cost of conveying prisoners to state prisons in Mass. and N. York. ....	312
Massachusetts plan recommended .....	312
Effect of the late war on male and female crime .....	312
Administration of criminal justice reported as tardy in most of the states....	313
Proportion of convicts under thirty .....	313
Percentage of foreign convicts .....	313
Reasons assigned by convicts for their relapses.....	313

CHAPTER II.

COUNTY JAILS.....	314-336
Little improvement made in these since the visits of the European commissions, more than thirty years ago .....	314
