There will be no fiction about themnotoriety, the man who escaped from Devil's Island when a French prisoner, who was deported from New York several years ago when found, fashionably attired, loitering in a lobby of a Fifth avenue hotel, has achieved his freedom again after spending the last six days in the jail on charges preferred by two young women, one of whom accused Guerin of throwing the contents of a bottle of corrosive sublimate in her eyes. He was admitted to $5000 bail, with the indication that no case will be proved against him. It was admitted that the two women met Guerin at a night club off Leices-

> Even the lawyers engaged on the government and opposition sides in the Proudfoot investigation before the committee on privileges and elections have got the letter-writing habit. Hartley Dewart, Counsel for Mr. Proudfoot, has written to the Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, counsel for Sir James Whitney and Hon. W. J. Hanna, a long letter complaining of Mr. Nesbitt's remarks before the committee. In reply Mr. Nesbitt assures Mr. Dewart that he made no offer of a settlement and hopes the friendly relations between Mr. Dewart and himself will not be disturbed by anything that happened before the committee. Here are the letters: Wallace Nesbitt, Esq., K.C.,

Home Life Building, Toronto: Dear Sir: My attention has been called to the extraordinary and inexcusable language which you have seen fit to use in your remarks before the committee this morning with reference to my conduct as counsel for Mr. Proudfoot. If you did not know the truth, there might be some excuse, but you know full well that there were many documents which were not produced even on the morning of the first day of the sitting-that there were many documents produced which counsel had no opportunity to examine and you had m your own prief, and that by reason of the action of the

In addition to the Scutari question, in which an effort is being made to show that there has been a fixed "scale of prices" for the selling of public appointments by the poor law board, and that there has also been stystematic bribery in connection with the contracts. Poplar was purged some years ago after a similar scandal. It is rather sheepishly pointed out that the only difference between the corruption of local bodies here and fn the United States is that the loot here is so paltry.
