

- Louis restored by the King to, 351; preparations for his new enterprise, 353; divides his command with Beaujeu, 353; lack of harmony between Beaujeu and, 354-361; indiscretion of, 361; overwrought brain of, 362; farewell to his mother, 364; sails from Rochelle, 366; disputes with Beaujeu, 366; the voyage, 368; his illness, 368; Beaujeu's complaints of, 370; resumes his journey, 372; enters the Gulf of Mexico, 373; waiting for Beaujeu, 374; coasts the shores of Texas, 374; meeting with Beaujeu, 375; perplexity of, 375-377; lands in Texas, 379; attacked by the Indians, 380; wreck of the "Aimable," 381; forlorn position of, 383; Indian neighbors, 384; Beaujeu makes friendly advances to, 385; departure of Beaujeu, 387; at Matagorda Bay, 391; misery and dejection, 393; the new Fort St. Louis, 394; explorations of, 395; adventures of, 402; again falls ill, 404; departure for Canada, 405; wreck of the "Belle," 407; Maxime Le Clerc makes charges against, 410; Duhaut plots against, 410; return to Fort St. Louis, 411; account of his adventures, 411-413; among the Ceniz Indians, 413; attacked with hernia, 417; Twelfth Night at Fort St. Louis, 417; his last farewell, 418; followers of, 420; prairie travelling, 423; Liotot swears vengeance against, 424; the murder of Moranget, Saget, and Nika, 426; his premonition of disaster, 428; murdered by Duhaut, 429; character of, 430; his enthusiasm compared with that of Champlain, 431; his defects, 431; America owes him an enduring memory, 432; the marvels of his patient fortitude, 432; evidences of his assassination, 432; undeniable rigor of his command, 433; locality of his assassination, 434; his debts, 434; Tonty's plan to assist, 453-455; fear of Father Allouez for, 459; Jesuit plans against, 459, 477, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486.
- La Salle, village of, 146, 167.
- La Taupine (Pierre Moreau), 78.
- La Tortue, 367.
- Launay, De, 453, 455.
- Lanrent, 199, 218.
- Lavaca River, the, 392, 395, 396.
- La Vache River, the, 392.
- Leval-Montmorency, François Xavier de, first bishop of Quebec, 110; accused of harshness and intolerance, 110; encourages the establishment of the association of the Sainte Famille, 111.
- La Violette, 187.
- La Voisin, burned alive at Paris, 179.
- Le Baillif, M., 34.
- Le Ber, Jacques, 97; becomes La Salle's bitter enemy, 101, 326.
- Leblanc, 193; takes false reports of La Salle to Fort Crèvecoeur, 217, 218.
- Le Clerc, Father Chrétien, 169, 175, 192, 198, 217, 234, 238; his account of the Récollet missions among the Indians, 246; Hennepin steals passages from, 247; character of Du Lhut, 276;