

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

THE ART OF LIVING and Other Verses.

PAPER 50 cts.

FOR BOYS

THE BOY WHO WON OUT IN THE END.

CLOTH BOUND, 75cts.

The story from start to finish is full of action. The hero is a boy who through school and business life played the game fairly and well.—Montreal Witness.

WHAT A BOY AND GIRL OUGHT TO KNOW ABOUT RELIGION.

PAPER, 35 cts.

The author has the unique gift of being able to write in a chatty, winning manner about the most important things in life.
"Religion is good, bright, joyous conduct, with a belief that God is interested in us at all times."—Montreal Churchman.

WHAT A CHILD OUGHT TO KNOW ABOUT THE BIBLE.

CLOTH BOUND, 75 cts.

Puts into the simplest possible words Bible history and record that when the child grows up he will have nothing to unlearn.
—Church Times, London, Eng.

This is an excellent book.—Liverpool Diocesan Gazette, Eng.

The best results of critical study are frankly accepted with the result that the children reading this book will later on be spared the pain of unlearning wrong ideas and crude interpretations.—Montreal Churchman.
