Dyeing White Blouses The showing of white lingerie blouses, especially those with the peplum, has never been so attractive as just how, and it is possible for the woman who wishes to have a blouse the color great trouble. She has but to select of the white blouses seeing that the material is of good quality and the waist well made a voile is, perhars, the best material-and have it dyed to match her suit. INTRODUCED TO TENNYSON.

Mr. Coulson tells, on authority of the late Mr. Edward Whimper in the June Strand, a story of Tennyson which may or may not have already got into print. At a garden-party a rather gushing young girl went up to the hostess and said: "Oh, is that really, as I'm told, Lord Tennyson sitting there by himself smoking on that rustic seat?" "Yes, my dear that is he," was the reply. "Oh, I should so like to meet him. Do introduce me, said the girl. "My dear, Lord Tennyson hates to be bothered by strangers," answered the hostess, "and one reason, perhaps, why he comes to see me is that he knows I never exploit him in that way." "Oh, but I should love to be able to say that I've met him," persisted the other. "Well, say you have met him and leave it at that," was the answer. The girl, however, would take no refusal. Among the prominent delegates are incided Commissioner of Police Waldo, New York; Chief Binison, Paterson, N.J.; Chief Moduard, Tampa, Fla.; Chief Triver, St. Paul, Minn.; Chief Easterting, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Chief Cowles, New Haven, Conn.; Chief Viscon, Fla.

To Madam Careless Housewife, Mr. Indifferent Citizen:

Dear Sir or Madam—This is to inform you that we will be at your screen door earlier than usual this summer with a choice line of summer infections including infantile diarthoea, typhoid fever, diphtheria, etc. Special inducements for babies are offered in a new line of bacteria; insuring long illness and a slow death. offered in a new line of bacteria; insuring long illness and a slow death. Then the great man spoke. "You're laced too tightly. I can hear your stays creak." Abashed and embarransed, the girl withdrew. Later in the afternoon Tennyson came behind her, and, laying a hand on her shoulder, said kindly, "I was wrong just now, young fatal in twenty per cent. of cases infected.
