Keep People Moving.
In order to prevent, as far as possible, the gathering of large crowds at Yonge and College, the police, both mounted and foot, later kept the people moving along the sidewalks and all traffic coming down Yonge, pedestrians and particularly motor cars, were diverted to the side streets before they reached the corner of College. Anyone desiring to get down town without having to make a long trip of it was obliged to take a street car, which was the only means of getting down below College.

The crowds were prevented from gathering again by the patrols of police on Yonge, who had suddenly found their way into it from the west and east sides.

Crowds on Streets.
After the crowd gathered at Queen's Park last night had reached the downtown district again and had mixed with the people moving up and down Yonge street, there was naturally some congestion at certain street intersections. As a rather dense mass of civilians and soldiers (and sailors) gathered at the little below Young's Lunch establishment, and swayed back and forth, while there was some singing and shouting, a number of policemen, apparently without any other possible reason but to break up the gathering and clear the street, made a most determined and ruthless charge. They did not use their batons to any extent, although they swung them over the people's heads, but they drove the crowd up Yonge street in a very rough fashion. They rushed thru the masses of people and kept running on the sidewalks, pushing and shoving women and children out of the way and threatening with their night sticks every one they came across. Frenzied citizens were quietly walking down Yonge street, men, women and children were forced to rush into every possible opening for shelter.

Gets Rough Usage.
A reporter, walking down the street on his way back to his office, after covering an assignment in the latter part of the evening, had just stepped back from the crushing crowd chased by the police, a number of policemen or two from the entrance of Cuyler's confectionery store to 222 Yonge street, when a man came rushing up, racing like wild, swinging his arms to the right and left as he ran in the middle of the sidewalk. A blow of the policeman's left hand was directed at the man in the chest and he sat down in a very undignified position in the entrance of the store. Fortunately, rather severe jolt when he struck the ground.

Several women and young girls who had taken refuge in the store were in a very nervous condition, not knowing if it were safe to remain or not, to recall their journey home and the remarks of some of the people were certainly not at all complimentary to the Toronto police force.

Hits Police Inspector.
In the melee at College and Yonge streets, Inspector R. Tipton of No. 2 division was struck over the head by a lead pipe, wielded by a man named Cheney, 1 Queen's Park. McCheney, who was in uniform, was arrested by Plainclothesman Koster and taken to No. 2 Police Station.

Frank Edward, 1 Queen's Park, also in uniform, was arrested, charged with diverting the crowd to attempt the rescue of McCheney.

WAR SUMMARY
THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

Artillery action is again entirely dominating the battle on the lines of the Aisne and the Vesle. Having crossed the Aisne and flanked the line of the Vesle, the French are able to enfilade from both flanks the German position, and while the cannonading proceeds they are holding back the infantry. The Germans are making a defensive stand to prevent the withdrawal of large bodies of their troops to safer lines, and they are also trying to save as much of their remaining supplies as possible. Contrary to previous exaggerated reports, the allies in factening the Aisne salient have taken 200 prisoners and 700 guns. At least these were the figures given at a function in Paris yesterday when the French Government conferred on Foch the rank of marshal of France, and on Petain a much-prized medal. Foch controlled the strategy, while Petain controlled the tactics of the advance.

Raids of detachment of Germans having invariably failed, the enemy threw a whole reserve division into an attack against the British army on the Braye-Corbie, north of the Somme yesterday and penetrated the British advanced positions on a narrow front near Morlaucourt. The enemy is seeking prisoners for the purpose of securing information. He is betraying anxiety about a British counter-attack. Further north, in Flanders, the British made another small advance on a front of 2,000 yards in the Pacaut Wood. This operation is significant of the continued pressure against the Germans.

Proof that it was the allied flank attack that gained the victory indirectly comes from General Mangin. This leader congratulates in an order of the day the English and Scottish divisions for their splendid behavior and gives them the credit for the success. These troops were the ones employed in the flank operations. The French higher command called on them for support on account of their proverbial steadiness in action.

The German press is beginning to publish articles that suggest that the German army may withdraw to the line of the Meuse. This line stretches across northern France from Verdun to the North Sea and its occupation by the enemy would wipe out the big salient or elbow which turns northward at a point near Montdidier. The suggested withdrawal, if conducted voluntarily, would save the Germans many divisions in the front lines and it would enable them to reconstitute a strategic reserve. It is under no circumstances that the German army would voluntarily give up any projected allied offensive. It would thus tend to postpone any possible decision in the war and give Germany time to reorganize for her machinations. On the was arrested for disorderly conduct and taken to No. 2 Police Station. He carried no registration card.

Chish With Police.
A clash with the police at the corner of Church and Court street police stations was one of a number of incidents which followed the demonstration of the Queen's Park crowd.

A large crowd surged down Yonge street, and along Queen at about ten o'clock, going down by hundreds, and thence along King past the King Edward Hotel to Police Station No. 1. The crowd about 400 strong, stationed itself in and around the grounds of St. James' Cathedral.

It was stated on the street that an attempt would be made to storm the police station on behalf of T.G. Maheux, who was apprehended on Monday on a charge of inciting to riot.

A reporter who followed the crowd to Church and King suddenly found a crowd of soldiers and civilians running back helter-skelter into King street. Finally arriving at the Court street police station, a squad of police, more than 20 strong, ready for all emergencies. The crowd finally dispersed entirely.

FARMERS DENOUNCE CRITICISM OF PRICES

Port Burwell, Ont., Aug. 6.—Over two thousand persons attended the picnic at Port Burwell Park today, under the auspices of the United Farmers. A program of sports was followed by addresses. W. T. Hare, reeve of Malahide, urged support for the allied cause. E. A. Penha, president of the Erie County Board of Trade, emphasized the great need of greater production, and declared that while something is done soon farmers will be unable to "carry on" for lack of help.

William Dunstan, Toronto, representing the United Farmers of Ontario, denounced those who criticize the farmer regarding the prices obtained for foodstuffs. The farmers should unite, for what they had attempted in the past they had attempted singly.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS TO REVIVE RUSSIA

Four Hundred Disarm Several Thousand Bolsheviks in Fight.

DEFEAT OF GERMANS

Four Days' Action Near Kiev Badly Discomfits Enemy.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Captain Vladimir S. Hurvan, formerly of the Russian army but who is now an officer in the army of Czecho-Slovaks operating in Siberia, has reached Washington to give a detailed report on the Czecho-Slovak army in Russia. T. B. Masaryk, president of the Czecho-Slovak national council and commander-in-chief of the army.

Captain Hurvan arrived in Washington from Vladivostok today and gave the Associated Press an account of some of the experiences of the army of escaped prisoners. He told how after the peace treaty was signed by the Bolshevik Government, the Czecho-Slovak army of 50,000 men was in Ukraine. The Germans advanced against the Czechs in overwhelming numbers and the emperor of Austria made a special envoy with a promise that if the Czechs disbanded they would receive amnesty and their lands would be made free. The Czechs refused to do so, and have no dealings with the Austrian emperor. A battle with the Germans was fought for four days during the retreat of the Czechs and the Czechs were victorious to a point where the German commander offered a 48-hour truce, which was accepted. In this battle, the Czechs lost about 400 men, while 2,000 Germans were buried in one day.

Thus the Czechs escaped from Ukraine and still maintained friendly relations with the Bolsheviks. They turned over arms, horses, automobiles and other equipment which had been taken from the Germans to a large extent. Later, at Irkutsk, a train with 400 Czechs on board armed with ten machine guns and 20 hand grenades was surrounded by several thousand red guards equipped with machine guns and cannon. An attempt was made to force the red guards to turn over the machine guns and hand grenades, and all the Germans and Magyars "dones away with."

Captain Hurvan believes that the consolidation of Russia is possible, and he thinks that the Czecho-Slovak army will be of great assistance in this task.

DENIES RUMORS ABOUT INQUEST

Dr. Stevenson Says Wilmott Investigation Was Conducted Legally.

Hamilton, Aug. 6.—Dr. W. O. Stevenson gave emphatic denial to the World tonight that the inquest held into the death of 9-year-old E. J. Wilmott, 127 London avenue, who was killed by a motor car driven by Dr. Smith on Ottawa street a week ago tonight, was not in accordance with the legal regulations and that the official investigation was conducted and closed in a hasty manner as intimated today.

"In the first place there is no set time for the holding of a postponed inquest," said Dr. Stevenson, "postponing an inquest for a week is merely done to enable the police to secure all their witnesses, but in this case all the witnesses had been secured."

In regard to the statement that friends of the family of the dead boy were seeking to ascertain the reason for the inquest so soon, Dr. Stevenson said that the inquest had been in his office on Wednesday and said that he was satisfied with the manner in which the inquest was being handled.

Hamilton, Aug. 6.—The Great War Veterans tonight decided to take no part in the recent riots in Toronto, in regard to the matter to the Toronto branches of the Dominion executive of the Great War Veterans' Association. The members, however, strongly disapproved of the rioting.

Reports of the delegates to the recent convention in Toronto were presented and passed, while Col. William Hendrie, who was elected first vice-president, was tendered congratulations.

No action was taken on the question of dividing the Hamilton branch, which has become unwieldy owing to its membership of 1100, into two organizations, it being left over until the next meeting. Thirty-five new members were added.

LIEUT.-COL. PIDGEON QUILTS VETERANS

Chief of Ottawa Branch of Association Leaves Presidency.

BREACH OF DISCIPLINE

Recent Incidents at Toronto Evoke Strong Condemnation.

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—Lieut.-Col. D. F. Pidgeon, president of the Ottawa branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, tonight resigned from that position, refusing at a largely attended meeting of members of the branch to remain in office.

"I must put the cause of my country before that of the Great War Veterans' Association," said Col. Pidgeon, who is head of the soldiers' estate branch of the militia department. "My own convictions are that a man in uniform should not hold office in the G.W.V.A. or any other organization."

"After the scene at the Toronto convention I believe the adjutant-general's department should prohibit any man in uniform criticizing his superiors. It is the greatest breach of military discipline."

Col. Pidgeon said he was about to make a recommendation to the deputy minister of militia about this matter. He felt that he could do better as a private citizen than as president of the G.W.V.A. branch here. He argued that if men who had been overseas under military discipline were allowed to forget all they had learned there was a possibility that a spirit of Bolshevism might arise in the ranks. The men who had once been heroes had proven themselves to be cowards, he said, in referring to recent incidents in Toronto. Such scenes had recently been enacted were continued it would compel people to take refuge in their homes and while attending to their duties, they would be harassed for 12 kilometers.

"Only Terrorism." "There was only one result, and that is terrorism," he declared. "My country first—the G.W.V.A. next. I will try to prevent any one becoming a member while he still wears the uniform of his army or navy."

Despite strong persuasion, Col. Pidgeon persisted in his resignation which will take effect August 9. On August 10 he will present his recommendations to the deputy minister. In presenting the report of the delegates from Ottawa who had attended the Dominion convention at Toronto, Col. Pidgeon said:

"Everyone of our motions met with jeopardy. They called us bores, they called us big game hunters, they called us political cantonniers. The Ontario association is surrounded by a number of parasites. When we left the convention we felt like a body of the advisability of continuing as a clean independent organization."

Comrade J. Zivian was expelled from the local branch during the trouble at the Dominion convention, offering to act as arbitrator between the local branch and the Dominion body. The application of the Dominion body was being questioned by the Dominion body.

Hamilton, Aug. 6.—That their wells have gone dry and that many of them are without drinking water is the gist of a complaint which the residents of that township have lodged with their council. MAN'S HEAD FOUND IN CEMETERY HEDGE

Hamilton Police Believe Find Part of Georgieff's Body.

Hamilton, Aug. 6.—With the finding of a head in the Hamilton Cemetery grounds late this afternoon, the police believe that they have the head of Tomo Georgieff, the Bulgarian, whose decapitated body was found in a deserted gravel pit near the Valley Inn bridge on the morning of March 12 last, and for which crime George Markoff, a Bulgarian friend of the murdered man, is now awaiting trial on a charge of manslaughter. It was intimated to him that his services were not required, whereas the learned K.C. informed the court that he was general counsel, representing the Six Nations and was certainly most interested in the case. The boy should never have registered, because he was not required to do so.

"Nevertheless," observed the mayor, "he will pay the costs." "Then you profess to be a better lawyer than the premier of this country," was the retort of Mr. Bowby. "No, but I am a better lawyer than you are." And therewith the case ended. The defendant paid $2.45 costs for forgetting to put his card in his pocket when he came out.

WOULD EMPLOY TEMPORARY MEN

Fire Chief Wants to Make Use of Some Returned Soldiers.

Hamilton, Aug. 6.—To offset the drains of the conscription measure, temporary appointments to the fire department were recommended tonight by the fire, police and jail committees. Chief Teneyek cited the case of a returned soldier who lost an eye in action and who applied for a position on the department. There were many such cases, he said, and adding that many were not eligible under the existing law, could do good work if given temporary appointments. The ruling officer is to be asked for a city solicitor is to be asked for an amendment to permit of the life insurance policy of $1000 compulsory upon firemen being employed, it was held that the accident policies carried by the firemen were sufficient.

Word will be sent out to city departments that the central fire station is for fire department apparatus only. It was pointed out that the tank was a small one and that sales to other departments cluttered up the books.

Having learned that the committee has practically no jurisdiction over the police department, the members discussed the advisability of dropping "police" from the name and substituting waterworks department. The meeting will be allowed to stand until the end of the year.

Four resignations from the fire department were received, J. Wear and C. Smith were appointed as first year men.
