Advertiser Correspondence ON CHURCH UNION .- No. 2.

the Editor of The Advertiser:

On Wednesday, the 13th of June, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada unanimously resolved that in the proposed deliberations with regard to church union the Church of England, and the Baptist Church be invited to take part. We are glad to think that the Presbyterian Church has exhibited this wider spirit of Christian charity, and we trust that the other negotiating churches, the Methodist and the Congregational, will be animated by the same spirit. Certainly as far as justice goes it is only fair and right; for the first church to publicly step forth with kindly hand and loving desire and a practical proposal to bring together the scattered forces of the Protestant churches was the Church of England. And there is probably no Protestant church throughout the world that so constantly prays for union, and so earnestly defess and call themselves Christians itself a remarkable thing. may be led into the way of truth, and Carrington today:

New York, June 14-Noon.—The decline which started Yesterday afternoon left a feeling of uneasiness behind it which found its expression in further liquidation in today's market. At times the market was weak, the center of pressure being in Reading, where it was thought there was an attempt on the part of the pool to reduce its holdings. Below 140 a good many stops were caught which helped the downward movement. Cables from London stating that the price of spot copper downward movement.
