

CORRUPTION CHARGE IN COMPILATION OF VOTERS' LISTS MADE

H. Hartley Dewar Gave a Stirring Speech in Ailsa Craig Town Hall to North Middlesex Reform Members—John Grieve Nominated.

SHOWS UP GOVERNMENT

By Staff Reporter.
H. Hartley Dewar, provincial Liberal leader, and G. W. Charlton, secretary of the Western Ontario Liberal Reform Association, made specific charges of Government partisanship and corruption in the compilation of voters' lists for the coming referendum, at the meeting of the North Middlesex Reform Association held in three, yesterday afternoon in Ailsa Craig town hall.
The act governing the compilation of these lists places power right in the hands of partisan enumerators to place or leave off names of voters as they wish, the Opposition leader declared, and he and other speakers warned advocates of Liberalism to see that their names are not left off the lists as published.

Officers Elected.
The meeting opened with elections of officers for the ensuing year for the North Middlesex Association, and was followed by the unanimous indorsement of John Grieve as candidate for the riding, after three other nominees, two of them women, had withdrawn their names.

Voters' Names Omitted.
"The Government did not want an independent voters' list," Mr. Dewar said, "and in North Toronto a meeting was called recently for the purpose of nominating enumerators for the constituency, with the result that the chief enumerator becomes the returning officer, in the election. Over 20,000 names have been omitted from the Toronto lists," he said, but added that even with the 20,000 names left off the list he did not think the Government would save themselves in Toronto.

W. G. Charlton, urging wariness on the part of voters, said that on Tuesday he found himself in a room in which had 400 electors, that 51 names had been left off deliberately from the lists compiled by the Government appointed enumerators, and one of the names was that of a man 90 years old who had lived most of his life in Aylmer.

"The Provincial Government is dropping your names from the voting list," the speaker warned. He explained that the lists compiled by the Government are to be used for the referendum not only for the referendum, but for the next election also. Some of the names are not on the list, and some county clerks, and the ten days allowed for the names they compile expires on Friday.

Nominations.
Mrs. E. McE. Smith and Mrs. William Dawson of Parkhill, nominated for the riding, candidates for the riding of Gibson of Lucan, all three of whom withdrew in favor of Mr. Grieve, who declined that he was not a woman representative of North Middlesex in the Provincial House had not yet come.

"For a long time yet we can sit at the feet of the men and learn," Mrs.
Dawson said, with the announcement that women are going to ask more for children and women from the Government than has ever been asked before.

Horse vs. Child.
"Care of the child is going to be our work," she said, and quoted a prize list published recently at a country event in which $200 was offered as a prize for the best horse race, contrasted with the $3 prize for the winner of the baby show. Note the difference between the horse race and the human race," the speaker remarked.

"Women are soon to count for immensely greater interest in the country, when we shall spend more on our children and less on prisons and asylums."
"We may have the effect of giving to public life the best kind of men, smothering effects of political life," Mrs.
Smith thought. "Give us tall men, who will live above the fog in public and private thinking," she asked.

Prolonged Applause.
Prolonged applause from the packed hall, in which women were present in almost equal numbers with the men, treated the introduction of Hartley Dewar from the platform.

Sir William Hearst, he said, "referred to the U. P. O. as a camouflaged made donkeys of by them. How well Mr. Hearst is playing the game set by Hearst, and playing into his hands," the speaker continued. "The Liberals with whom I sit in the Legislature are earning service came first. Their one thought was that of the best means of service. We stand on the platform of arouse, not for personal gain, but to arouse the people to the realization of how this province is being mismanaged and how rates are increased.
The appreciation of the people will be our reward."

Reiterated Statements.
He reiterated his statements made at other recent meetings, declaring that he had never had any connection with the liquor interests in any manner or form. "There was no arrangement with any Conservative supporters in this connection as the rumor made it he asserted, and that the issue which that of the failure of Government to conserve our natural resources."

The unrest in Ontario today, he explained as being due to the fact that "the people do not know to what extent the Government is willing to give up autocratic power and submit to the will of the people. The Government now at Toronto are like a lot of Kilkenny cats, for whom they are fighting or whose side they are on."

Temperance Question.
"Take the temperance question, for instance," he pointed out. "We do not know what the government's policy is.
There is none laid down." He then outlined the Liberal policy regarding the temperance question as formulated at the Toronto Liberal convention, and stated that "we are able to make a clear cut, decisive answer regarding the policy of the entire Liberal party form, regarding the temperance question, the high cost of living, industrial relations, methods to be applied to return soldiers and their dependents and agriculture."

Declaring the government inertia was responsible for the present inferior condition of dissatisfaction among farmers in the province, Mr. Dewar said that the suggested appointment of Mr. Elliott also voiced the need for government representatives in sympathy with the needs of agriculture. "When the Government showed down the maximum price of wheat during the war to $2.20, it took care not to fix a price for agricultural implements which was, early this season, when the crop look was the most optimistic it ever was, threatened. Due price was set at $1.70 as a minimum, the Government of the crop and pay the price of the overburdened minister of agriculture and the minister of public works considered."

Officers were elected for the North Middlesex Association for the coming year as follows: President, J. E.
Atkinson; secretary, Miss F.
Morgan.

ELECTION WITHIN A YEAR PREDICTED BY HON. T. W. MCGARRY

No Provincial Conservative Convention.

IS NOT NECESSARY

Provincial Treasurer Says the Party in Power Needs
No Convention.

Marmora, Ont., Aug. 20.—Legislation enacted by the Ontario Government, particularly since the commencement of the war, was reviewed by Premier Sir William Hearst at a picnic given by Gus Porter to the electors of the West Hants constituency here today. The premier referred to himself as a "war man," and declared that he was not going to give the province a "war man" as a reward for the war. He enriched the people.

The premier repeated in substance his Queenston reference to the temperance question, declaring that, as a war man, he would again pass prohibition.
The referendum to be taken, he said, they could determine for the people, and policy which would be fairly and fearlessly put out by the Government. It was a great question, however, and he asked the electors to show the same courage in deciding it that their sons showed in fighting overseas.

Speaking of labor, Sir William took credit for introducing the workmen's compensation act. A minister of labor would shortly be appointed, he said, and promised introduction of legislation for mothers' allowances.

Election Within Year.
Hon. T. W. McGarry, provincial treasurer, intimated that a provincial election would be held "within the next year," and that the Conservative party would be ready to meet in a convention. He was properly selected as leader of the party in a letter on the death of Sir James Whitney. "I ask you, if his selection was not made in the constitutional manner, in what way it differed from the selection of Tory leaders in Canada since the death of Sir John A. Macdonald."

Mr. McGarry made it clear that the demands of a number of Conservatives for a provincial convention did not mean with the approval of many prominent men in the party, and no such convention would be held.

"There have been statements made in the press of this province calling upon the Conservative party to meet in a convention in order that they might consider the history of constitutional government when a government was in power, where a government had a majority of members behind it on the floor of the House, that it required or ever because while that convention, why?

turing on the affairs of the province of Recent disclosures regarding treatment of inmates at the asylum led investigator Dunlop of asylums and prisons

Reckless Extravagance.
"The Government has turned a deaf ear to all our entreaties for more demonstration farms—there should be one in every county in the province—to the need for a system of rural credits, and for a revised land settlement scheme," he said. "The Government has placed at Kapskasung under the land settlement question, and the minister of public works expressed satisfaction at the result, because after the farmers had spent all their energies to the work they had done more land than ever before."
"This was due not to Government influence, but to the patriotism of the farmers," he said.

"No wonder there is agricultural dissatisfaction and unrest, resulting in the Government now in power. The Liberal party does not deserve the discredit of the farmers of Ontario who have been the victims of the Government's

EXPECTS THOUSANDS OF BRITISH WOMEN TO COME TO CANADA

Imperial Government To Pay Fares of Those Who Did
War Work.

[Special to The Advertiser.] WINNIPEG, Aug. 20.—Without any employment in prospect, and ignorant of labor conditions in Canada, thousands of English, Scotch and Irish women, who served during the war, will come to Canada in April.

H. B. Willing, secretary of the Imperial Veterans' Association, was notified of their intention today through orders issued by the war office. The Imperial Government has promised to pay the passage of W. A. A. C., munitionettes and many others who served in the war, to overseas dominions.
It will mean that thousands of women will take advantage of the offer.
Mr. Willing said: "We have been formed that the women are very anxious to emigrate." "We willing was of the opinion that the girls would not be willing to do housework."

"They want to get married, or enter business, perhaps," he said.

N. OXFORD VETERAN
HONORED BY FRIENDS

INGERSOLL, Aug. 20.—John Fishback, a North Oxford young man, who recently returned from overseas, was honored by a large gathering of his friends at the home of Alex. Rose, near Banner, Donald Sutherland, M. P., occupied the chair, and a splendid program of speeches, vocal and instrumental music and readings was given.
The presentation of a well-filled purse to the returned hero was one of the pleasant features. Mr. Fishback replied in grateful terms. During the evening refreshments were served.

REAL ESTATE ALIVE.
Ingersoll real estate is meeting with a keen demand. This is a fact substantiated by the records of one local real estate firm, whose transactions on Saturday last aggregated the splendid sum of $28,000. This represented only the one day's business, but is indicative of the keen demand for local property.

WILL THEY PLAY?
There is some speculation as to whether the board of education and council will meet in a baseball game.
The council recently trounced the band and the "Big 3," and naturally consider themselves champions in civic civility.
The board of education is a strong favorite with some of the fans, and a game between them and the council should prove a real attraction.
