New York, July 2.—Efforts to identify the body of a Chinaman found in the Hudson River last night as that of Leon Ling, charged with the murder of Else Sigel, or to prove it was not that of the man wanted, were continued by the officers today. Police Captain Carri and some of his detectives who viewed the body were inclined to think it was not the man they wanted, although they admitted the dead man strongly resembled Leon. An hour previous to a dozen fast passenger trains had passed safely the spot. Mrs. Atkins, whose house is close to the track, observed that the roadbed had fallen away for many feet, and, seeing the freight approaching, she stood for perhaps a minute not knowing what to do, then she remembered her apron. FIRST DISORDER HAD TO PAY DOUBLE FEE

Hunters for Dog Licenses Had to Pay Double Rates for Them Today.

A number of people who called at the city license office this morning to procure licenses for their canine pets were much disappointed to learn that they would have to pay a double fee. The new by-law states that the charge shall be $1 for males and $2 for females, if paid before July 1 and after that date the charge shall be $2 and $4. Excuses such as "I forgot," or "I was late last week and couldn't get it," did not work, and the applicants were compelled to "flush up" the double fee. Only one license was issued, however, and the other applicants left to get more money or to make up their minds whether they had better try and evade the officers and escape the law.
