BODY OF GEO. DALTON GIVEN UP BY SEA

Found by John Kane on Beach This Morning—Identified by Watch and Clothes—$170 in Pocket

George Dalton's body was found at 6.30 o'clock this morning on the shore near MacLaren's Beach by John Kane, caretaker of the Catholic cemetery at Sand Cove. There is a reward of $100 for the recovery of the body.

A telephone message was sent to Dr. Macfarland, coroner, in Fairville about 7.30 o'clock by John Scatterby, of the Provincial Hospital annex, staff and the coroner arrived on the scene about 8.30 o'clock, followed a little later by Charles Dalton, a brother of the drowned man, and several other persons.

Because of the action of the waves the features were unrecognizable but Charles Dalton was able to identify the body by the boots and clothing as well as by the engraving of a locomotive on the back of his watch. The watch had stopped at 11.30 o'clock and it will be remembered that it was just about that time of night that he fell overboard from a boat in the bay.

It was on Thursday night, October 21, that Mr. Dalton in company with Edward Evans, Mrs. Evans and Miss McKee was returning from Lorneville, in a motor boat. There was a heavy sea running and in some manner Mr. Dalton fell overboard when the boat was near Shute's Cove. Mr. Evans was unable to find the drowning man and subsequent efforts to try to find the body proved fruitless.

A search of the clothes on the body this morning, resulted in the finding of $170.75 in cash. There was one $50 banknote and twelve $10 notes. There were also a number of accounts made out to various people, by M. S. Paul, Beaver Harbor, and a business letter from a young woman in Fairville, bearing the date of October 11.

In the hip pocket of the trousers was a pipe and the pockets were all more or less filled with six, gathered during the period it was in the water.

In the presence of George MacLaren, his son Robert, John Ewing and Archibald Cameron, Coroner Macfarland handed over the money found on the body to Charles Dalton. The coroner does not consider an inquest necessary and he gave permission for the removal of the body for burial.

The late Mr. Dalton was a resident of Fairville and he had been employed by John Kane in building a breakwater at Lorneville. He was forty-eight years of age. His mother and father are both dead. Charles Dalton, marine boiler inspector, is the only brother and Mrs. Elliott, of ——— is a sister. He had quite a reputation as an oarsman and rowed in the Dalton crew. He was a man of good character and excellent habits.

FERRY BLOCKADE MAKES CASE FOR POLICE COURT

Drivers Must Obey Police in Crush—Twenty Four Teams In Waiting

In the police court this morning Felix Holland was fined $8 on a charge of drunkenness.

William Harding, driver for the Union Ice Co., was reported by Sergeant Baxter for blocking the sidewalk in Water street and acting disorderly. The sergeant said that Harding was in charge of a lengthy procession of teams which were waiting their turn to be taken across the harbor in the ferry boat. As he approached the boats he was behind two other teams which had a better right on account of priority to crossing first. One of the teams gave way to the others and Harding took advantage of this to jump out of his turn and take the lead.

The sergeant said he saw his action and told him he was not doing right, but he was abused by the driver who would not obey his instructions.

His honor read the law regarding such cases and told Harding that he was liable to a heavy fine. The law stated that the directions of policemen in times of a blockade, or where the safety of citizens was at stake, must be obeyed and he wished this clearly understood. A fine was struck, but allowed to stand.

Sergt. Baxter said that this morning he counted no less than twenty-four teams waiting for a chance to go across the harbor and that the ferry would take only nine or ten at a time.

VIRGINIAN AWAY; MANY PASSENGERS

Nearly 500 From Here, 200 More at Halifax—Newfoundland Railway Magnate to Sail

The Allan Liner Virginia, which inaugurated the winter port season of 1909-1910 sailed for Liverpool via Halifax at 10.15 today. The steamer had a large passenger list, somewhat more than the actual bookings, there being in all from this port 497, as follows: Eleven saloon, forty-nine second and 337 steerage. About 200 will join at Halifax going through here by special train.

The big liner has made good time in discharging her cargo and taking in a good sized outward freight. This consists of 16,000 bushels of grain, twenty-five cars of provisions, 320 standards of doles, three cases of dried fish, five cars of apples and much miscellaneous stuff. Among the passengers to meet the steamer at Halifax will be R. G. Reid, the railway magnate of Newfoundland and president of the Reid Newfoundland Company, who will take passage at Halifax.

Steamship Dominion, Captain Norcott, arrived today from Sydney, C. P., with 5,455 tons of soft coal. She is discharging into the Dominion coal pocket at North Market wharf.

W. H. Thorne, president of the Cliff Club, entertained the members at a dinner at the club house last evening.
