BEULAH CAMP
Rev. S. H. Clark and wife are in the city today on their way from Port Maitland, N. B., to Beulah Camp, where Mr. Clark has charge of the Riverview dormitory.

TELEPHONE MEETING.
Senator Thompson of Fredericton, A. W. Bennett of Sackville and the president, S. H. White, of Sussex, were in the city yesterday to attend a meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick Telephone Company.

REV. DR. PRINGLE NOW WITH HIGHLANDERS

Arthur L. Fraser of No. 5 Co., Divisional Train, Writes of Meeting Him in Camp in England

Some glimpses of their camp life in England are given by Arthur L. Fraser, who left with No. 5 Company, divisional train, in a letter to his uncle, W. J. Fraser, of this city. Since landing they have found weather variable, some days very hot and others cold, with ice forming on two occasions. After their transfer from the huts at Sandling Camp they are located in tents and find them quite comfortable. English scenery and the location of the towns and villages strike the Canadians as peculiar; they strike them as funny little places and the way they run into a town every few miles as striking contrast to less thickly populated districts of Canada.

Mr. Fraser speaks of seeing Rev. Dr. Pringle, who left Sydney, C. B., as chaplain with the first contingent. He is now attached to a Highland regiment, wearing the kilts and looking fine. The writer was planning to spend the following Sunday at Shoremeath with Dr. Pringle. The men have been getting leave to visit London and he expected to get a few days for this purpose soon.

Their camp includes No. 6 Company, C. A. S. Co., from Montreal, and the reserve park from Montreal and numbers about 600 men. It is surrounded by many others and the tents and metal huts can be seen for miles on every hillside. The nearer camps are occupied almost entirely by Canadians. He speaks of the arrival of the 29th N. S. Battalion in Sandling camp and finding many old friends in the crowd.

So far the divisional train has had little to do, as they have been held up waiting for trains and harness and their real work will commence as soon as their equipment is complete.

PROPOSE TO MAKE THOROUGH CANVASS

All Lancaster People Who Can, Likely to be Asked to Make Monthly Contributions

Last evening the Lancaster Community Council met in the Provincial Hospital and representatives were present from the Lancaster Red Cross Society, which has been doing such effective work since organization.

At a previous meeting the Community Council had decided to send a delegate to meet the ladies of the Red Cross Society, with an offer to assist in raising needed funds. The matter has been more or less discussed since and last night's meeting was a joint one to consider ways and means.

It was pointed out that the war was likely to be long drawn out and the public generally must expect to be called upon to contribute both money and effort in a larger measure than hitherto. Not only should the women of the parish be banded together in united service, but the men must come to realize that they have responsibility.

In New Brunswick the war had thus far not seriously affected living conditions as a whole and there was a tendency to accept present circumstances with a care free manner, going our usual ways, taking our accustomed pleasures and not thinking enough that the men on the firing line were fighting for the maintenance of the very blessings we enjoy. It is for every man and woman in the community to do their part of sacrifice in appreciation.

Several ladies and gentlemen spoke of the arrival of the 29th N. S. Battalion for steady income through spasmodic channels such as picnics, entertainments, etc., and it was suggested that a permanent plan be adopted that would include everybody in its scope.

Various methods and details were talked over and finally it was considered most desirable to organize the whole parish for a collecting campaign on a thorough scale, each person being asked to subscribe so much a month and a collector will call regularly for the amount promised.

Districts and streets will be marked off and ladies are each to control their own sections. Every home and each of its members of earning capacity will be interviewed, including the young men who usually escape levies of this sort.

The meeting was enthusiastic and the ladies will report on the scheme to a meeting of the Red Cross Society on Monday afternoon next.

Preliminary work, such as dividing up the districts, securing of names, etc., will all be done by the men, while solicitation and collecting funds is to be in the capable hands of the ladies.

The combined efforts of the two local organizations should make quite a stir in Lancaster, which has already sent a good number of sons to the colors. The meeting last evening was enthusiastic and it is felt that the public are coming to see more clearly that steady, regular giving by everybody, whether in large or small amounts, will be necessary to meet the strain of enormous expenditure brought on by the war.

A COURT INCIDENT

Magistrate Allingham of Fairville Remains in Circuit Court Room After Threats of Ejection

A peculiar incident occurred this morning in the court room of Justice Crockett where a criminal case is being heard with closed doors owing to the nature of the testimony. When the public is excluded and only witnesses and officials allowed in court, an exception is made in the case of magistrates.

Magistrate Allingham of Fairville went to the court room door and was about to enter when he was warned by a constable. The magistrate replied that his official position gave him the right of entry, and directed the constable to notice to that effect posted nearby. Mr. Allingham then entered the court room. Soon afterwards the court clerk requested him to go out. He said briefly that he believed he was within his rights and would remain. Another constable approached and said the attorney-general wanted him to go out. The magistrate against stated his belief he was within his rights and remained, and said he would stay until he was removed if any authority thought it necessary to force him out. He then remained undisturbed for some time and finally went away on his own accord. Outside the court room a constable volunteered the information that he would not be allowed to go in again while the magistrate remained. In conversation afterwards the magistrate questioned the right of the attorney-general to take any action in the matter, and said he would stand upon his rights as a magistrate at all times.

MR. FLEMING'S CONDITION
A Woodstock despatch says that Hon. J. K. Fleming has been seriously but not dangerously ill, and that he is improving noticeably. He is able to go out in a motor car on every fine day, and his friends are now most hopeful of his complete recovery.

HER 80TH BIRTHDAY

A happy event took place at Upper Jemseg at the home of Rev. I. B. Colwell on Wednesday, the 22nd inst., when Mrs. Mary Hanspacher, mother of Mrs. Colwell, celebrated her 80th birthday.

She was happily surprised when the steamer May Queen arrived bringing her children, including Captain and Mrs. Allen Hiler and Mr. and Mrs. Oller Hanspacher of St. John, Mrs. J. F. Estey of Keswick, Mrs. F. S. Murray of Fredericton, Mrs. E. C. Williams of Browns Falls, Allison Hanspacher of Jemseg, Byrd Colwell of Jemseg, Mrs. Harold K. Olmstead and Miss Theresa Colwell of St. John, grandchildren, and Baby Phyllis Olmstead, great grandchild, were also present.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, roses and carnations. A pleasing feature of the day was that Mrs. Colwell's birthday was celebrated at the same time. The grandchildren number fifteen and there are eight great grandchildren.
